Fisherman Wrecked

Peter was a deep sea fisherman from one of the Maritime Provinces who came to Ontario, married and made his home in Chatsworth for commercial fishing, but he says the winter work here has more trials than among the tugs and ice dogs of his old fishing grounds. Of course, he was working hard and more than he was getting for it. One day a cold had brought on pneumonia, and because he was a sturdy fellow, Chatsworth had he wouldn't give up, but he fought on at home for over a year and said he would have to take hospital treatment—his doctor had told him that. So here Peter is, in the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptive Diseases, where doctors are trying to lead him back to the ways of health and usefulness again. A long road, but better this than the fate that would have been his if he had not been in Chatsworth. A subscription would mark a big step towards his recovery. Such may be sent to Hon. W. A. MacWilliam, 225 College Street, Toronto 2, Ontario.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

(The editor will be much obliged to those who will telephonic items they would like to see published, by phone 543, preferably between 2 and 6 o'clock of afternoons. Thank you.)

Mrs. (Dr.) Phillips and Mrs. Gordon MacDonald went to Toronto on Friday, per C.P.R., to visit Judge and Mrs. Widdell. Dr. Phillips and Mr. MacDonald motored down on the following day, for the weekend.

We regret to hear of the illness of Mr. William Curtis, a regret that will be shared by many of the Chatsworth "old boys" whom Mr. Curtis used to take with him on camping expeditions before they were out of knee-trousers.

Mr. Robt. McArdle left yesterday for Quebec city, where he will take the steamship Minasota enroute to Scotland. The many friends, Mr. McArdle has made since coming to Chatsworth wish him a good voyage and a safe return in March.

Vegetarian dinner parties have been quite the rage during the past week, and juicy cuts of venison have been passed up to stay-at-home friends, as a result of the recent hunting trips to the North of local hunters. Both are greatly appreciated.

Word has just been received at time of writing (Tuesday), that last night Mr. Thos. Curtis, Holland, passed away. Mr. Curtis was a brother of Messrs. John Arthur and William Curtis of this place. Particulars are not known as yet to The Banner.

A note from Mrs. F. A. Showell, Williamsford, states that she and her husband have taken charge, but to follow up the work of the Rev. F. Meyer, who has been pastor in the Evangelical Church. Mrs. Showell wishes a hearty welcome passed on to anyone who would care to be present at the services.

The Mission Band of the United Church had a very successful evening last Wednesday, with an excellent program of games, etc., and the reading of the first chapter of the new study book "In the African Bush" by Miss Ina McKinnit. Miss Lenore McGinnin was in charge of the evening, and announced receipts of $12.05.

Mrs. Harry Bell is the superintendent of this organization which, though small, is doing excellent work, having come out head of all the Mission Bands in Grey last year.

In Harry Nelson's paper, "The Vulcan Advocate," it is to be gathered from the report of a recent Women's Institute meeting, that the Institute out there in Alberta has adopted a rather pretty plan of making its branches. The report referred to told of the meeting of a branch called the "Good Deeds Women's Institute." Work and play seems to alternate in this branch, for the item tells of a demonstration in dress-making to be held at the next meeting, with a box social and dance three days later.

Another item, of especial interest to this "local option" locality of Chatsworth, appears in The Vulcan Advocate. "Mr. Everett Gardner, a former Vulcan boy," writes to The Advocate from Salem, Oregon, in reference to the recent great election contest in the U.S.A. as follows: "The people of the United States declared themselves against the return of liquor. They have taken a step forward. Since I was in Alberta the past fall no one can make me believe that even Government Control is better than prohibition."

A news item of interest to many of the older residents of Chatsworth and vicinity appeared in the Mail and Empire last week. It recorded the death of Dr. W. C. Dumble, at his home, 335 Markham St., Toronto, at the age of 80 years. The sketch of his life tells that Dr. Dumble was educated at Queen's, where he was gold medalist in medicine. Later he took a post-graduate course in New York, then practised for a year in Chatsworth (not Owen Sound as stated), removing to Toronto in 1886. For many years Dr. Dumble was interested in social service work, and gave his services to the poor and needy without fee. He is survived by a son, William, and a daughter, Marjorie, at home.

Every branch of farm work, farm machinery, stock, etc., has an expert writer in the Family Herald and Weekly Star, the recognized first writers in Canada.

(Mrs. John Collins, Reporter)
The Women's Missionary Society held their November meeting in the church on Thursday, the 15th, with twenty-five ladies present, ten of them being visitors from the Desboro Auxiliary. After the usual opening exercises and some items of business being discussed, a song, "Someone is Missing," by three of our girls, Misses Jessie, McIntosh, Stella Davidson and Verla Altheison, was much enjoyed. A chapter from the study book, "The Burning Bush," entitled "Cathedral Women," was read by Mrs. MacWilliam. The roll call was answered by a verse containing the words "Truth," and other hymns was sung and the meeting closed with prayer. Lunch was served and a social hour was spent in renewing old acquaintances.

A very nice address was given by Rev. Mr. Blodora on Sunday evening, the hall was crowded, and as the minister said, it showed that the people take an interest in Missions. He went on to tell of the beginning of Foreign Missions and came down through the centuries to the present time. He told of his preparation for the ministry and of always wishing to be a missionary, and of his change coming while he was preaching in Pitouburg; and while he got less than half the salary, yet he has the work so much at heart that he is willing to do with less and put up with the hardships to obey our Saviour's last command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel." He described the customs of the people of Liberia, where their mission field is and showed a number of articles brought from that country to illustrate his lecture. There was a united choir of the two congregations, in Williamsford and the Stone Church in Sullivan. The organists were Mrs. L. Kullis and Mrs. Graham.
