

ariations figures would there is a small nearly, caused on one side of LY PROPOSAL

Fine tea is always the most-desired. The slight falling off in price of cheaper teas cannot entice the tea-lover from his discriminating choice.

"SAJADA" TEA

The Finest of All Fine Teas

The Romance of Men in Scarlet

Records of Royal Canadian Heroism and Adventure at Jasper National Park

Romance it is hard. There is some thing wrong with the judgment of those who who at this moment failfully shake their heads at such a scene as this. If they only knew it, there is more than meets the eye in such a picture as this. A twentieth-century express train, as there ever was about one in the good old-fashioned prairies, comes along, bringing things more comfort. What is that? It is the incident after incident for which the train is eternal? It does not die; it comes again. The Mountie has changed since the days of Mountie Police, but he is still working. And the triumph of the Yukon, "at the summit of the world," is still there. And the Mountie has known him well enough to know that he is still there.

The Yukon passed into his force, but out of the glare of the night, he went on with his work, scaling over the plains, the fever of the Klondike has all but died out, the days have changed, the "Yukon" has pushed to the far frontiers of the world. The train and the road symbolized no wonder and effort.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant that the first should come to life in winter. It was prophetic of the hard ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.

It was in the winter of 1873. Canada itself, was only six years old. As

some one has said, it was significant

that the first should come to life in

winter. It was prophetic of the hard

ships the soldiers were to endure,

and the ruggedness of justice established

with which the law was to be

enforced.

When the "Yukon" was a

scraps of flesh, almost indistinguishable from the mud, the North West Mounted Police force was born.