

Sunday School Lesson

February 10, Lesson V—Repentance and Faith—Acts 3:33; Luke 15:11-24. Golden Text—Mark 1:15. Believe the gospel—Mark 1:15.

ANALYSIS
I. PENITENCE AND REPENTANCE, Acts 3:33-39.
II. REPENTANCE AND THE RETURN TO THE FATHER, Luke 15:11-24.

INTRODUCTION—There are two words to express the idea of repentance in the New Testament. One means the changing of the mind, while the other expresses the thought of turning to God. Jesus began his public ministry by preaching the necessity of repentance, and he added as an urgent part of the kingdom of heaven as at hand. The two passages which form our lesson are taken from the works of Luke and show how the apostle Peter preaches that repentance is the condition of receiving the gospel. Luke is evangelist of the grace of God.

REPENTANCE AND REPENTANCE, Acts 3:33-39.
V. 22—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 23—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 24—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 25—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 26—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 27—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 28—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 29—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 30—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 31—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 32—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 33—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 34—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 35—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 36—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 37—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 38—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 39—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 40—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 41—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

V. 42—This sermon on Pentecost is the earliest of the kind, and is the only one in which Peter is the speaker. It is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher. The sermon is a masterpiece of leadership, and reveals that his other work was that of a teacher.

Good Advice

Ford Shows How to Prevent Waste in Trade and Finance

New York—Reformation of the money system of the United States takes an important place among the new book entitled "My Philosophy in Industry," published by Edward McCarty.

Mr. Ford propounds a hypothetical question in finance and then proceeds to answer it. He shows how a $300,000,000 public improvement bond issue is financed by the Government, the security for which is nothing more or less than the energy of the natural resources.

"Suppose we borrow $30,000,000 and pay 120 per cent. interest, we literally have to pay $36,000,000 for the use of $30,000,000," he says. "That is, we pay $30,000,000 for the public improvement and $36,000,000 for the loan. And it was the government's money to begin with. It seems like a very childish and unbusinesslike method."

"Suppose, for example, he says, we decide to believe unemployment by carrying on some necessary improvement and to do this the Government needs $20,000,000. That's 1,500,000 $20 bills or 3,000,000 $10 bills. The Government can issue these bills and with them it can cover every expense connected with the work, then the plan in operation and out of it carries retire the entire $20,000,000 worth of currency which has been issued. Economists no longer question that method of doing things. Indeed, it looks as if financial engineering will come to something like that. We shall see great improvements when we apply engineering methods to finance."

"The more alert financial men of this country are thinking of these matters in broader lines than ever before, and that is very heartening for me. After all, financial problems will have to be handled by financial men. The bank and the stock market are the specialists who will create the methods by which the 'right-to-be' will actually come into practice."

War will not be abolished until its roots are cut. Mr. Ford holds, and some of its main roots is a false money system and the high priests of it.

Mr. Ford characterizes farming as the first important industry and advises the passing of the small farmer and the advent of large corporations, whose sole business it will be to perform the operations of plowing, planting, cultivating and harvesting.

Mr. Ford says a gap between the present and the future, and he holds that the only way to bridge the gap is in the matter of finance.

"The United States is dry, not only locally, but by moral conviction," he continues. "The American home is dry, and the American Nation gets its life from the home and not from the foreign propaganda."

Mr. Ford makes a striking contrast between the world which has failed to do by preaching, propaganda or the written word.

Dipping briefly into foreign affairs, Mr. Ford asserts that both Russia's and China's problems are fundamentally industrial and will be solved by the application of the right methods of thinking, practical and logical.

Cabinet Crisis in Albania Laid To Budget Issue

Tirana, Albania—The latest Cabinet crisis here indicates a change in the intimate relations between the Government of King Zog and the Italian Premier, Benito Mussolini. The Cabinet resigned on Jan. 12 because of budget difficulties. The State plainly needed more money. But all members of the Cabinet were not able to agree on methods of securing it. Part of the money used in the new Albanian kingdom, comes from Italy. The Albanian national banks are in Italian hands. Most Albanian concessions go to Italians.

Naturally it is to the interest of Italy to keep Albania quiet, so undoubtedly the Government of Tirana could get more money from home. But the Albanian Government does not want to become too deeply involved, because among the Albanian people Italy is unpopular. The Albanians resent Italian encroachment. So the Government wants and retains as much independence as possible. Therefore, some members hesitated to accept the conditions Italy laid down regarding forthcoming loans or advances, and the Government resigned.

However, in the cabinet appointed three days later every minister received his old post, except Blin Bey Vrioni, the Foreign Minister, who is replaced by Raula Bey Fico. Thus it was not the Minister of Finance who was eliminated by the crisis, over the question of finance. In other words the finances are clearly tied up with the question of foreign relations.

The dismissal of Mr. Vrioni is no ordinary matter, since he has long been one of the strong men in Albania, his unswerving supporter from the first. Vrioni has also been an enthusiastic admirer of Italy and an upholder of the Italian-Albanian alliance.

If I fall I hinder all; If I rise To the skies One step farther on the road; On the common road we climb Dead and living for time.

—Janet Begbie.

Days Ahead
Every day ahead of you is precious. All the days back of you have no existence at all.

A Sport Fast Growing in Popularity

SKI-JORING IN THE ALPS
Ski-joring behind a horse is one of the popular winter pastimes of those who take a winter holiday in the Alps, and it is a great sport. Near Toronto on North Yonge Street it is not unusual to see skiers towing behind motor cars.

The Otter's First Swim

When he went into the water the next night and tried to walk towards his mother, he floated. He was so pleased that he set out across the river by himself, finding that he could turn easily towards his mother by swimming his legs and rudder. He turned and turned some times in his happiness, and then, without island and the water, went to the bank of the river, and he got below the bridge, and the other part crossing the big bend, where the lakes came from up and down, backwards and forwards, sometimes swimming water, at other times snuffing it up his nose, swimming, (ling) counting, but always swimming. (He learned to hold his nose above the water, or ripple, pushed in front of it.)

While swimming in this happy way, he noticed the moon, it danced on the water just before his nose. Otter had seen the moon, just outside the hollow tree, and had tried to touch it with a pole. Now he tried to bite it, but it swam away from him. He chased it, it wriggled like a plover fish and he followed to the sedges on the far bank of the river, but it no longer wriggled. It was waiting to play with him. Across the river Tarka could hear the moaning of his sisters, but he set off after the moon over the meadow. He ran among buttercups and cuckoo-flowers and grasses bending with bright points. Father and mother from the river he ran, the moonlight gleaming on his coat. Really he was brown like the dust in an October pool-bath, but the water sleeked the hair.

As he stopped to listen to the beat of leaves, a moth whirled by his head and tickled him. Tarka forgot the moon-pole, he coughed in the grasses, which rose above his head like the trees of a forest, some with tops like his rudder, others like his whiskers, and all whispering as they swayed. The night returned, clapping its wings over his head with the noise of a dry stick cracking. Tarka was glad to hear his mother calling him, "Hee mow." He listened, and the whistle was nearer so he ran away in the secret grasses. From "Tarka the Otter," by Henry Williamson.

EXQUISITE LINES
A trendy, desirable daytime dress, exquisitely fashioned with long-waisted bodice, shirred through center front, contributes an air of formality. The dress is made of two-piece circular skirt, fitted low by long-waisted bodice, featuring a snug hip yoke. Belt shows higher waistline. The collarless neck is softened by gathered jabot. Fashioned of black lustrous crepe, fitted, midnight blue silk crepe, black chiffon, black sheer velvet, printed sheer velvet or Pique and georgette crepe is very effective. To make it requires but 3 1/2 yards of 40-inch material for the 36-inch size. Style No. 368 is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20. Pattern price 20c in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

HOW TO ORDER PATTERNS
Write your name and address plainly, giving number and size of such patterns as you want. Enclose 20c in stamps or coin (coin preferred) with your order to Wilson Pattern Service, 73 West Adelaide St., Toronto. Pattern is sent by an early mail.

The Tariff Threat

Winnipeg Tribune (Ind. Cons.)
Congress is now preparing to increase the United States tariff protection products. Actually, though not in form, the purpose is to shut out most of the farm products from competition with the products of the American farmers. Whatever effect these measures have upon our export trade will be felt directly by the farmers and indirectly by every business interest in the Dominion.

ONCE DEADLY ENEMIES NOW FRIENDS OF THE AIR

Ernst Udet (left), aggressive aviator during the war, and Raoul Fouché, famous French ace, who engaged in sky duels with him then met at the Aero Club of France in Paris on friendly terms.

Austrian Threat To Attack Britain In 1908 a Secret

Interesting Data Coming to Light on Conditions in the Dangerous Days of Pre-War Europe

London, Jan. 10.—A collection of confidential documents is being made up by the British Government which will be used in the event of a crisis. The documents are being collected in a secret room in the Foreign Office, and are being kept in a safe. The documents are being collected in a secret room in the Foreign Office, and are being kept in a safe.

On the way to the secret room, the British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, was seen by a confidential source. He was seen by a confidential source, and he was seen by a confidential source.

What happened at the Reval visit is already known, but we are told that some members of the Russian Emperor's suite commented upon the marked difference in the Emperor's spirit and attitude during the British King's visit to Reval compared with what they were on the occasion of the recent visit to the Kaiser at Spa.

Threatened Britain
In the light of the information contained in these documents, it seems certain that Archduke Franz Ferdinand (swolsky) no doubt with all the more satisfaction because he was a member of the Liberal Government in Russia, and Archduke was an extreme reactionary. He had freely to the British Government and threatened it. To the British Ambassador at Vienna in December, 1904, he talked in a vague manner of the meeting at Reval as an Austrian grievance against Great Britain.

He attributed the revolution at Constantinople and the beginning of all the present troubles to a royal interview. "I am afraid," said the Ambassador, "that in governing circles here there is very marked suspicion of our policy. The situation is complicated by Archduke's delusion of Sir Edward Grey, because you succeeded in acquiring

Threatened Britain

What happened at the Reval visit is already known, but we are told that some members of the Russian Emperor's suite commented upon the marked difference in the Emperor's spirit and attitude during the British King's visit to Reval compared with what they were on the occasion of the recent visit to the Kaiser at Spa.

Threatened Britain
In the light of the information contained in these documents, it seems certain that Archduke Franz Ferdinand (swolsky) no doubt with all the more satisfaction because he was a member of the Liberal Government in Russia, and Archduke was an extreme reactionary. He had freely to the British Government and threatened it. To the British Ambassador at Vienna in December, 1904, he talked in a vague manner of the meeting at Reval as an Austrian grievance against Great Britain.

He attributed the revolution at Constantinople and the beginning of all the present troubles to a royal interview. "I am afraid," said the Ambassador, "that in governing circles here there is very marked suspicion of our policy. The situation is complicated by Archduke's delusion of Sir Edward Grey, because you succeeded in acquiring

On the way to the secret room, the British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, was seen by a confidential source. He was seen by a confidential source, and he was seen by a confidential source.

What happened at the Reval visit is already known, but we are told that some members of the Russian Emperor's suite commented upon the marked difference in the Emperor's spirit and attitude during the British King's visit to Reval compared with what they were on the occasion of the recent visit to the Kaiser at Spa.

Threatened Britain
In the light of the information contained in these documents, it seems certain that Archduke Franz Ferdinand (swolsky) no doubt with all the more satisfaction because he was a member of the Liberal Government in Russia, and Archduke was an extreme reactionary. He had freely to the British Government and threatened it. To the British Ambassador at Vienna in December, 1904, he talked in a vague manner of the meeting at Reval as an Austrian grievance against Great Britain.

He attributed the revolution at Constantinople and the beginning of all the present troubles to a royal interview. "I am afraid," said the Ambassador, "that in governing circles here there is very marked suspicion of our policy. The situation is complicated by Archduke's delusion of Sir Edward Grey, because you succeeded in acquiring

On the way to the secret room, the British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, was seen by a confidential source. He was seen by a confidential source, and he was seen by a confidential source.

What happened at the Reval visit is already known, but we are told that some members of the Russian Emperor's suite commented upon the marked difference in the Emperor's spirit and attitude during the British King's visit to Reval compared with what they were on the occasion of the recent visit to the Kaiser at Spa.

Threatened Britain
In the light of the information contained in these documents, it seems certain that Archduke Franz Ferdinand (swolsky) no doubt with all the more satisfaction because he was a member of the Liberal Government in Russia, and Archduke was an extreme reactionary. He had freely to the British Government and threatened it. To the British Ambassador at Vienna in December, 1904, he talked in a vague manner of the meeting at Reval as an Austrian grievance against Great Britain.

He attributed the revolution at Constantinople and the beginning of all the present troubles to a royal interview. "I am afraid," said the Ambassador, "that in governing circles here there is very marked suspicion of our policy. The situation is complicated by Archduke's delusion of Sir Edward Grey, because you succeeded in acquiring

On the way to the secret room, the British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, was seen by a confidential source. He was seen by a confidential source, and he was seen by a confidential source.

What happened at the Reval visit is already known, but we are told that some members of the Russian Emperor's suite commented upon the marked difference in the Emperor's spirit and attitude during the British King's visit to Reval compared with what they were on the occasion of the recent visit to the Kaiser at Spa.

Threatened Britain
In the light of the information contained in these documents, it seems certain that Archduke Franz Ferdinand (swolsky) no doubt with all the more satisfaction because he was a member of the Liberal Government in Russia, and Archduke was an extreme reactionary. He had freely to the British Government and threatened it. To the British Ambassador at Vienna in December, 1904, he talked in a vague manner of the meeting at Reval as an Austrian grievance against Great Britain.

He attributed the revolution at Constantinople and the beginning of all the present troubles to a royal interview. "I am afraid," said the Ambassador, "that in governing circles here there is very marked suspicion of our policy. The situation is complicated by Archduke's delusion of Sir Edward Grey, because you succeeded in acquiring

Angry Outburst

Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Angry Outburst
Vienna, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward

London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by the German Ambassador, Prince von Bülow, that owing to the present groupings of European powers, Germany would get with us in a perfect and close solidarity on every question.

Women Passed in Forward
London, Jan. 10.—The British Ambassador in Vienna, Sir Arthur Nicolson, had an angry outburst today regarding the situation which produced the Great War was anticipated. He was told by