October 27. Lesson. [The Christian View of Recreation—Mark 2: 13-28 Golden Text—I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.—John 10: 10.]

ANALYSIS

I. JOYOUS LIFE IN THE HOLY CITY, Jer. 31: 12, 13; Zech. 8: 19.

II. THE BLESSING OF REST, Matt. 11: 16-19; Mark 2: 13-28.

III. THE EXAMPLE OF JESUS, Mark 6: 30-32; John 2: 1-11.

INTRODUCTION.—There is not very much said in the Bible about play, but in many passages it is presupposed. The Bible does not mention it, but it is implied in many places.

On the whole the Bible presents a healthy outlook on life. It encourages joyous and happy living, and makes the best of human life, and urges strenuous endeavor toward its attainment.

I. JOYOUS LIFE IN THE HOLY CITY, Jer. 31: 12, 13; Zech. 8: 19.

To the prophets of ancient Israel, perplexed and saddened by the evils which afflicted their people, and by the violence, greed, injustice, and uncleanliness, and by the national degradation, and by the foreign powers, and all of which they believed to be consequences of their sins, and of their unfaithfulness to the God who served them, there came the vision of a better future, deliverance from all their troubles, and from the captivity which had been the cause of their distress, and an unclouded, happy and prosperous life. In inspired vision they saw the captives at free, the cities returned, the temple rebuilt, a glory restored, and the people restored to their former life.

As between 1923 and 1927 for the same period, the value of exports rose to $11,500,000 over the previous year. The decline which has taken place in the present year, is very largely due to the falling off in the exports of wheat. In 1927 the value of wheat exports was $1,775,325,000, an increase of $50,000,000 over the previous year. The drop in exports of wheat in 1927 is the only one of the kind in the present year.

Canadian Exports Within Empire Are Much On Increase

Trade With United Kingdom, However, Shows Falling Off

Canada's external trade is being established upon a broader basis. It is becoming less dependent upon a few countries and thus liable to sudden fluctuations. Those interferences are based upon a comparison of eight months' trade over the last five years. In that period exports to the United Kingdom have been falling off, while those to other parts of the Empire have been growing.

Exports to the United States have been advancing but moderately only. The most striking development has been in exports to other foreign countries. The United Kingdom are somewhat higher now than they were in 1925 but exports of Canadian produce to that country are lower. From other countries, within the Empire, imports are as high as in 1925. Imports from the United Kingdom, in the eight months of 1925 were valued at $10,056,000.

Exports to U. K. Less For the eight months of the present year their value was $138,206,000. Exports of Canadian produce to the United Kingdom in 1925 were $52,000,000. In the present year their value has reached only $49,265,000.

Imports from other countries within the Empire for the eight months have risen from $28,055,000 in 1925 to $43,977,000. Exports of Canadian produce to other Empire countries in 1925 were $48,350,000 and in the present year $68,270,000.

Imports from the United States in the first eight months of 1925 were valued at $378,325,000. In the present year the value was $625,683,000. Exports to the United States in the same comparison have advanced from $235,532,000 to $312,041,000.

Imports from other foreign countries in the eight months of 1925 were $65,593,000 and in the eight months of the present year rose to $91,840,000.

Exports of Canadian produce have shown a decline during the present year but this has been paralleled by a corresponding decline in the quantities imported. By a value of $755,151,000, an increase of $50,000,000 over the previous year, in 1927 on the other hand, they had again advanced to $800,250,000.

Canada's Arctic Activities

The above map shows the approximate routes followed by Government officers in the carrying out of inspections, patrols and investigations in the Arctic regions of the Dominion. In the western portion may be seen the course of the inspection trip made by Mr. O. S. Finlay, Director of the North West Territories and Yukon Branch, which took him down the Mackenzie valley and back through the Yukon. Mr. W. H. B. Moore, east of Great Slave Lake, of Major L. T. Durward, along the Arctic coast, and the patrols by Royal Canadian Mounted Police also indicated. In the eastern portion of the map is shown the course followed by the Arctic patrol of the R.C.M.P. Mr. J. D. Soper's investigation during which he travelled 2,300 miles; and regular patrols by the Bacha Peninsula, Pond Inlet, Pangnirtung, and Lake Harbour. A survey of the shores and islands in James Bay carried out by Messrs. A. E. Forsyth and H. H. Klo, is also shown. Officers of the Department of the Interior and members of the R.C.M.P. covered approximately 49,045 miles in their respective investigations and patrols brought to a completion in 1929. This map, supplied by the Department of Natural Resources, Ottawa, is of particular interest in view of the McAlpine Relief Expedition working around Chesterfield Inlet and north west from there.

Pilots Mobilize in Sub-Arctic For Grim Battle With Elements

The North Country Sees Forces Prepare to Put Stern Fight Into Search for Lost Explorers

Winnipeg, Canada, is fighting a stark battle with the Arctic Barren Lands of its Northland. The pilots of the Dominion Explorers' Expedition are being mobilized for a grim battle with the elements of the North. The pilots are being mobilized for a grim battle with the elements of the North. ### Welland Canal to Open Next Year

Chief Engineer Says $110,000,000 Already Spent on Work

It is hoped to open the Welland Canal on Dominion Day next year. The canal is a long and narrow waterway that will allow ships to travel from the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence River. The project has been a long one, and the cost is estimated at $110,000,000.

Jealous of Soldiers

Masked Men Strip London-derry Girls of Their Clothes

Londonderry, Ireland.—A sensational story of a heist by masked men, who stripped them of their clothes and threatened to shoot them, was told here Saturday night by 23 Londonderry girls who started out for a dance given by British soldiers and returned wrapped in blankets. The girls left here for the dance in a large truck. They were on their way to a dance when they were stopped by a group of masked men. The men stripped the girls of their clothes and threatened to shoot them if they did not comply. The girls were then taken to a house where they were kept for several hours before being released.

Wild Bird Crop Increases Rapidly

Hastings Sanctuary is Protecting and Increasing Game Birds in That Section

A note from Belleville says that the bird sanctuary controlled by the Jack Miner League of Hastings, which is situated near that town and covers 500 Canadian acres, is protected and many more are expected to rest there this fall during their migration to the south. The sanctuary was inaugurated with these presented by Jack Miner. Over 100 wild ducks have been raised this year, which have been released but not tagged. Three years ago three pairs of mourning doves were imported to the sanctuary and this year there were more than 200 nests in very small area. The sanctuary contains 15 acres and is heavily wooded.

The new department is growing steadily and is expected to become a major part of the Government's operations. The department is currently in the process of expanding its staff and its resources. It is expected to play a significant role in the country's economic development.

Britain's Need of More Cruisers?

Britain's need of more cruisers is a subject of debate among naval experts. Some believe that the current fleet is sufficient, while others argue that more ships are needed to maintain Britain's naval supremacy. The Royal Navy is currently reviewing the issue and is expected to make a decision in the near future.

London To Be Decreases

London is expected to see a decrease in population in the coming years. This is due to a combination of factors, including a decrease in birth rates and an increase in emigration. The city's government is currently working on strategies to address the challenges posed by a declining population.

New Highway Advocated

A new highway is being advocated as a means of improving transportation and economic growth. The highway would connect major cities and provide a faster and more reliable mode of travel. It is expected to be completed within the next few years.
