Dear Mr. Editor: We think sending copies of your valuable paper twice a week is commendable and we do appreciate your editorials and comments. We are pleased to notice and of the Toronto dailies published your editorial on divorce laws. We voice your sentiments with thousands of other real thinking people. The marriage vows should be held sacred and not rushed into hastily which so often proves disastrous. There are other laws also in our fair Canada which should be made better if people would use their own convictions.

Dr. Crofoot deserves much credit for the big undertaking which he has assumed and we think that Markdale should give him every support as well as surrounding country and we feel that success will crown his efforts.
