waist-sash.

the Married!

firelight.

bodies.

vest.

corner of his mouth, without shifting his eyes from our enemies. His right hand was thrust into hi

Toutou, pulling a knife from inside hi

I felt a pressure between Nikka and myself, and Kara's voice whispered:

Nikka's pistol flashed thue in the

A ruddy flame jetted from his muz zle, and the spy Petke dropped dead

Toutou LaFitte pushed Zlacho in the "Run!" I heard Nikka shout.

We pelted for the house on our left,

"Come," Kara said, as a crash sounded outside.

"They have broken in a window

"Cut "lose with your knife," she will need them to help us lown again.

Nikka did as she directe k while I shut the door, and piled the few articles of furniture against it. Tokalji's

"There is more than enough rope here," said Nikka, coiling it on his Passion dawned in her big eyes.

"You cannot go with us, little one

"I tell you I love you." she answered sies on the roof of Tokalji's house, and pronounced my cousin Betty, as we sat at luncheon in the King's private sit-lating our adventures of the night before and of our discovery of the treas-been discovered there was no more use

Nik!:a and I had just finished reting room in the Pera Palace.

turned to our street clothes.

"Darn it all," I confessed.

men were in full cry downstairs, '

"What?"

broudly:

"Shoot, Jack!" he cried

"Run, you fools! To the House of

"I do not like this busines," rasped thereafter observers the key it the treat was not of the Bucoleon, which was left by the first Lord Chesby, the Crusader, Hugh sets out in fluest of the treasure, which is situated in a house in Constant, ple. With him are Watkins, his servant; Jack Nash, and Nikka Zaranko. They are set upon by a band of desperate criminals led by one Toutou, who hope to steal the secret and purloin the treasure. Nikka and Jack gain; cess to the house, where the treasure is hidden and which is occupied by Tokalji, an ally of Toutous. They are disguised as Gypales, in order to further their ends they consent to join Tokalji's band of young men. Kara, a heautiful Gypas girl, is fascinated by Nikka.

CHAPTER XIV.—(Cont'd.)

line of fire before himself, and divec After supper the young m n moved into the encircling shadows and Zlacha to the courtyard, where they built a crumpled up with a broken leg. Tokalfire of driftwood. A buzz of talk arose. ji, Hilyer, Vassilievich and Hilmi scat-The primitive Gypsy fiddles and guitars began to twang softly. "Kara will dance," they cried. "Let Kara running with us.

Kara dance for the strangers." And Kara floated into the circle of t firelight like a spirit of the forest. She still wore only the scanty madder-red framework grouned under a weight of skirt and torn bodice. The cloud of her hair tumbed below her waist. Her in her hair tumbed below her waist. Her in her hair tumbed below her waist. Her in her hair tumbed below her waist. Her fools, you'll have the Frank police in ground. Slowly she whirled, and the here! Gypsy fiddles caught her time. A man with cymbals clashed an accompanithem," barked Toutou. "Dead or alivement. A flute whistled soprano. She increased the tempo; she varied her steps. She was a flower shrinking be- I neath the grass. She was a dove pur- Follow me." sued by a falcon. She was a maiden | She led us into an adjoining room deserted by her lover. She was a fairy where in the thickness of the wall a narrow stairway corkscrewed upward, Crash! boomed a knock on the street debouching on the upper floor. She door. And rap-rap-rap! it was re-turned to the right and entered one peated. Crash! again. of the rooms. A ladder leaned against the wall below a trap door in the roof.

"Heh!" said Tokalii. "Who can i! In a corner stood a bedstead, which be in such a hurry at this hour?" she stripped of its clothes, revealing Crash! The door resounded under th, cords that served for springs! Tekatji crossed to the entrance. said. "When we take to the roofs we

"Less noise there!" he shouted threateningly, "This is a peaceful copened the wicket. What he said could not hear, but we saw him quickly turn the lock and throw back a leaf of the door, salaaming low as he arm. "Some of it I am going to use stepped aside. Six men burst in, four of them in European clothes, and Nikka and I exchanged a glance of apprehension as we recognized the broad shoulders of their leader and heard his. We have no place to take you." narling voice.

Toutou LaFitte had arrived With him were Hilyer, Serge Vassilievich and Hilmi Bey. The two who brought Nikku. "But I must bind you so they up the year, somewhat sulky and fear- will not suspect that you aided us." al, were the spies we had seen in whined Touton, striding to der and pushed back the trap-door. ward the me. "I tell you lo spare no efforts and I come to find you singing off across the room. Ahead was a drop followed him across the courtyard. | shuffled on cautiously until we came What could be have done that we to the courtyard, which ran clear from there are done?" he retorted. "Was it the street front to the old sea-wall. would be gots? As for the English a chimney, Knot your rope. It can't Tautou. Lost then for was thin and had no knots to check while day! Who knows what has one's descent. Nikka pulled the door toward us very slowly, and we peered pre right there," agreed Tokalji coolly, and I have just picked in the direction of Tokalji's house. We two new men to take their places. One of them is a Fran's like yourself; the

"Ha, let me see that Frank," ex Sujaced Tool at. "I know many of the our. Giorgi Bordu and Jakka," Nikka sonk his fingers in my arm in a warning grip, and we stepped forth from the group of Tz ganes cluspursuers and ourgelves in the breakleged in front of the fire There was neck purlieus of Stamboul. We sucleast a charce that we should not ceeded in shaking off the Gypsies finvalue was deally, but we were hopelessly astray, monstrated the instant the firelight and it was past midnight when we splashed over Nikka, aquiline face gained our cubicle. "So far, Jack, you and Mr. Zaranko seem to have had most of the fun."

"Surely I have seen that lean fellow ore," piped Hilmi Bey, pointing at CHAPTER XV. Vassilievich pashed in front of the

"Is it my imprination" he inquired ture's hiding place. Now that we had sof ... "or does the stocky one bear

"By jove, I think you're right!" exclaimed Hilver, speaking for the first won't let up, will you? Well, have it "Be .eady." hissed Nikka from the do?"

(To be continued.)

What New York Is Wearing

BY ANNABELLE WORTHINGTON

You'll like the unusualness of this ucy little sports flock of tub sill: eggshell ground printed in tones drangey-red The scalloped collar. crere in eggshelf shade.

It gives the figure a beautifully moulded line through its long-waisted bodice and low-flared skirt fulness. It displays a feeling for summe sports activiti. in men's silk shirting fabric in gay stripes, pastel washable crepe silk, shantung or pique print. For town, printed crepe silk or plain repe silk is chic.

Style No. 3497 can be had in sizes 6.18 years, 36, 38,40 and 42 inches HOW TO ORDER PATTERNS. "I'm not going to hurt you," pleaded Write your name and address plain-He bound her gently, hand and foot, patterns as you want. Enclose 20c in. front of the Pera Palace that morning, without a word, and laid her on the stamps or coin (coin preferred; wrap "Can at trad nobody to fulfill my floor of the bed. We ascended the lad- it carefully) for each number, and laddress your order to Wilson Pattern "Next house," I partted, and we set Service, 73 West Adelaide St., Toronto.

Tokalii baying refastened the door. We made it without any difficulty. We Diphtheria Can ronto.-"The doctor has given the hord we have shadowed them day and rolling the them today, as they add him scorching my hands, for the rope in the substance which prevents at the substance which prevents diphtheria so surely, that it its use became universal, this disease would be four days will be occupied in the trip. practically stamped out within five years. The fact that the disease kills into the street. Not a figure showed about 1200 Canadians a year shows that the teachers of the people must sped out into the street, letting the door slam behind us. We had not gone get busy. "It is up to the public health official fifty feet when we were seen by Gyp. and, above all, to the Press of the country to make sure that every Canathey, with the woman to help them, dian learns and learns, again that it is cried the rest of the pack hot on our his duty and privilege to help stamp diphtheria out, by having his children The only thing for us to do in the circumstances was to twist and turn made safe from disease. Twelve hun-without head to direction and lose light dred deaths a year is too serious a drain upon a population-hungry cour try like Canada, to be treated lightly Especially when one realizes that those deaths occur out of 13,500 an mial cases of the disease.

"Here is a national problem of life and death, of health and of economics Yet nobody is paying enough attention

Steamer-Chair

Freeze on one side and roast on the On, what a bother!

Sun too hot and breeze too coola recomblance to the Amerikansky, of disguising ourselves, so we had re- I am to be always wanting, wanting Sides to be equal, lines to be straight, While the Rule of Three and the Rule

From the New Yorker by Marion your own way. What do you want to Prevail in Heaven, And the Soul of the Blest in forever Hell for its mate.

"Run you down the Bosphorus after lark for a look at Tokalji's house from he water side," she answered prompt-iding place of the treasure.' "What more can we say?" I answer-"There's the courtyard and the

"It's not hollow, you said?" spoke ip King. "That would indicate a task of some fficulty in prying loose the covering of the treasure chamber," he remarked "We have—or rather, I should say, Betty has—taken precautions to install on board the Curlew an equipment of crowbars, pickaxes, shovels hisels and other too's-"

Betty excused herself and in quarter of an hour returned dressed in a warm sports suit. Have you all got your pistols loaded?" she inquired.

If the spies were still watching the notel, as I have no doubt they were, e gave them the slip. We went downstairs together and shot into a closed car which was in waiting, Watkins siting beside the chauffeur. Ten minutes ater we drew up on the Curlew's dock nd went on board. We chugged slowly through the glut of shipping in the Golden Horn, edging batted breath.

away from the Galata shore toward Peacock Courts

That Opposites Attract Proved Definitely at the Bronx Zoo

Lucifer loves Geraldine.

He does not conceal his affection but parades it. He woos the lady of his choice under the eyes of any who nay chance to be looking. Lucifer, Donna Risher tells us in the New York Telegram, is "a gorgeous, reening peacock," while Geraldine is a squat. ugly, black turtle." The Broux Zoo in New York is the of this strange romance of which we read fourther: Lucifer's faithfulness to Geraldin has been marked, park attendants say. over a period of three years. tered: "but, by gee, I wish I could af-Ever since his arrival at the park ford something bigger." from his native haunts of South Amer- | He passed at speed through Hipley. lea, Lucifer has let it be known at the Beyond lay a stretch of fair and frag

The minute he set eyes on fat, advertisement for anyone's hotel. From squatty, hard-shelled Geraldine, he the adjoining fields spread a scent of switched his beautiful tail, spread it hay. Overhead the sky was flecked out into a lovely fan and walked out of with white, woolly clouds. High in he peacock lot.

To day he is where he doesn't belong -in the turtle yard back of the Service House, within a foot's length of for Copley there was a stationary car Geraldine. There he has been daily

But while this thing called love is ennobling, it has its drawbacks, too, waved his arms. James applied s for Lucifer has discovered that to love light too pressure to the right-hand well one must suffer. To-day he is an pedal and brought his car to a standoutcast, an object of hate among his still behind the stranded vehicle. This own. He has learned that he can not was, he saw, a dilapidated derelict of fraternize with a mere bunch of turtles ancient vintage, encrusted about the without losing caste. Once recently the jealous Lucifer had to fight Oswald, his brother peacock, because Oswald entered Geral- suit of splining serge. At the momen there was an ingratiating smile upor Of course, it was an easy matter to his face. lick Oswald. Just one jump and Oswald spread his tail and walked away.

But some lay a bigger and better peacock may come along Such houghts as these make Lucifer un-On the other hand, the fat Geralding takes Lucifer's devotion with amuse

She is so thick-skinned and hardshelled that she doesn't believe, in cuffs; pockets and belt are of plain love even though masculine attentions

Seaplanes Carry Gold to Indians

money, officials of the Department of his eyes from Elysium. "It so happens Indian Affairs next month will visit I in carrying a spare can, though from northern Ontario. For many of the that evidence comes to them of the white man's civilization. Each member of the treaty tribes receives $4 an- hands gratefully. nually, and in the case of two tribes with which treaties are to be consumpayment of $4 is to be paid each in the cap of a gravity-fed tank in the see if they have

Two scaplanes piloted by Royal Canadian An Force officers will carry the leave Otlawa on July 2. The party eyes we'e on the beautr. Be Wiped Out will be headed by H. N. Awrey, Treaty With the completion of treaties at Fort Severn and Winisk, on the west coast of Hudson Bay, all Indians will have been brought under what is known as "Treaty 9," which was prought info being in 1905. The program for the flight includes stops at Remi Lake, English River, Ogoki, Fort Hope, Lansdowne House Snaburgh, Windigo, Sandy Lake, Trout Lake, Fort Severn, Winisk, Attawapiscat, Albany, Moose Factory and a return visit to Remi Lake.

Cold Meat Salad

Take one thick slice of cold meat ut from a joint. Rub well with salt and cut into small squares. One small head of lettuce-washed well and swung dry in a salad basket—also cut up, a suggestion of onion, and two mint leaves chopped very fine. Mix all together in a bowl, and add a little cold boiled potato. Pour over this one teaspoonful of oil and vinegar mixed. Add one yolk of an egg well beaten into a teaspoonful of lemon juice, and the same of salad oil. Beat well and our over the meat salad. Any cold green vegetable can be added to this, and the different varieties will but make this salad more de-After this one might have chees tarts and a cup of coffee or tea, and I and appetizing.

Sponge Cake Fritters

This is an easily-prepared, unusua and delicious light sweet. Crumble three or four stale sponge-cakes in a pasin. Pour over them half a teacubful of boiling milk and beat thoroughly with a fork. Leave standing until cold, then stir in one tablespoonful of two eggs separately. Stir the yolks into the sponge-cake mixture and beat well again.

Add a few currents, or if you pre-fer, a few chopped raising, and lastly the stiffly-beaten whites of egg. Have ready in a frying-pan some very hot lard, drop the mixture in from a table lard, drop the mixture in from a table, spoon, and fry until nicely browned.

Drain well, pile on a paper doyley, but I can't go on with him. I simply the carety sugar over and sarve sprinkle castor sugar over and serve

Half a dozen rataflas crumbled with the sponge-cakes give a specially delilous flavor to the fritters.

"Slimming" is now becoming general

High Rates

Disdainful Turtle She Was a Vision of Beauty and She Had Asked Him _ to Help Her!

Down the Portsmouth Road sped a little, low red. semi-sports car. Reclining in the drivers' seat sat a square-jawed, blue-eyed young man à belted dustcoat. his brown hands resting lightly but firmly on the gently quivering wheel. From the tiny dick ey protruded the heads of a few golf clubs in their bag and the handle of a tennis-racket. 'A' many-labelled sui case lay in the boot.

James Trufitt pulled his snap-brim med felt hat a little lower over his he westering sun: 'The little bus goes well," he mut zoo that he favored Geraldine to the rant country. For three miles he saw no sign of a petrol pump-not even an

> On the rise where a lane forks left girl. As he approached the man stepped to the centre of the road and chassis with the mud of, many moons The arm waver was an elderly man with a straggling, whitish beard and a

"It's very annoying," said he, "but have had the misfortune to run out expostulating step parent from its petrol I wonder if you could—h'm oblige me with a gallon?"

t blue, her lips were poppy red, her luctant to wake from its slumbers. loire de Dijon and Madame Gaulain, said James, accelerating to a perilous slipping out of the car and putting his her figure as slimly straight as a Ma. fifty. I haven't had this little bus arm persuasively through hers. "This

Quite a flower-stall she looked, even though, at the moment, there was a Er—forgive me, of course."
Thy, vexed line between her exquisite A sort of cracked laugh vebrows and her white teeth were girl's lips. She dried her eyes furtive- fact that "Hearth and Home" had had point of view was Hans Zwink, who "Petrol?" said James.

"Ah; yes, Montreal.—Bearing $25,000 in treaty petrol." With an effort he withdrew Indian tribes in the isolated regions of the size of my steed you might think man in the world. He never buys any a constable dispatched in James Trui impossible." He reached into the petrol. He just pretends to run out, natives it is the occasion each year boot and withdrew a battered tin. "Al and then stops young men in sporting one Straggle Beard, who was found low me to put it in for you." . He of the straggly beard rubbed his carry on. Then he offers them a pound scattle dash, the varnish of which had "A very happy notion," said James, long since disappeared. James up slowing down the better to hear her. pulled his hat lower over his eyes and ended the can and let its contents "I won't live with him any longer. chuckled. "Still, one has to protect Minister of Lands and Forests in the his tie was displaced, or maybe he had a cheque from them this morning."

pocket, inspected its interior, and fin- turned to him appealingly. "I thought ally extracted a pound note. "I am so sorry I have nothing small- drop me in Golford, I could cash the er," said he, with an air of apology. "I cheque at a bank there and then go wonder if you have change?" James, still watching the girl, waved where and his hand deprecatingly. "Oh, don't rouble about that," he said. ave been of service. He smiled at the girl hopefully.

Surely now she might regard him with little more approval. "Well, it's extremely kind of youegan note to his purse with alacrity... "No, no, I won't have it!" cried i

They both started-James pleasur-She clenched her little hands. "I can't stand it any more. I won't Straggle Beard stepped forward. "Now, my dear," he began anxious of vexation stood in her beautiful eyes. pretty thing in pale green, with "He never meant to pay you for just look at me like-like the others the middle, and two scrawling signado, and and be silly, and generous, tures at the bottom. And it was for He does it every day, and I'm tired of it-sick of it!"

"Ridiculous!" said Straggle Beard. vith a snarl hidden in his voice. got a touch of the sun, my The zirl reached into the derelict's tion. How many words was it?"

dickey and drew out a small, cheap hining globules on her lovely cheeks. "You're only my step father anyway, and I never want to see you again!" Straggle Beard endeavored to grasp driving on. her arm. She threw him off with sudden fury. "Don't touch me, or-or I'll James stood looking on, perplexed flour. Boat the yolks and whites of He couldn't quite make out what the trouble was, but his sympathies, of course, were entirely with the girl. Especially when she turned and came close to him, so that the illusion of a flower-stall was rendered more vivid

> "I am so sorry to make a scene like can't! Would you—could you possibly take me on with you?" Richardson "I forbid it!" cried Straggle Beard hastily. "Don't listen to her-James bowed to the vision. course, I shall be delighted," said he. "Allow me, to take your har." He among the police of Chicago. The placed it and the empty petrol can in weight of the constables was increased the boot of the semi-sports, the grid weight of the commences was increased in the same of the passenting so much that an official "diet" meanwhile slipping into the passential new hoon issued to the passential ger's seat as it she were accustomed

236,529

pounds increase in Canada alone in last five weeks

"SALADA"

'Fresh from the Gardens'

"Oh, rather," said he, beginning to l'ou've certainly started well. to its small dimensions. Straggle Beard danced in the road "And you're going to take me to the station?" said the girl, blinking at him "Stop! I forbid you-James squeezed in miraculously b moved slowly forward, sweeping the Golford High Street.

path. James raised his hat. "I am more than repaid for the pe James cased himself from his red rol," said he. In its wind the little breathless he was, for The last they say of the bearded doorway. "But this isn't the station," said the the intermingled petals of "He could never catch us anyway," "Oh, yes, it is, my dear," said James, all out, but it could beat that old peri- is the police station. Let's just go inpatetic perambulator on one cylinder. side and make a few inquisies, shall

"We were on our way to stop with his cheques purporting to come from them us. I hink he must be the meanest bank, "Joyce Dabney" was detained and cars and asks them for a gallon to with the derelict at Golford Station note, hoping they won't have the cor- daughter. "This is most kind of you. I was rect change. Most of them just look

"Splendid," said James, opening hi if you would just be kind enough to up to London. I'll find a room some "I'm afraid you couldn't cash the cheque at a local bank," said James.

"It's probably crossed." She stared at him with sudden apprehension. Oh, I-I dita't know. I'm so awfully ignorant about business and things.' A tear started up in the Straggle Beard, returning the corner of a lustrous eye. "Oh, what

"Now, you needn't fret," said James soothingly, drawing up at the side of the road. "You can let me have the cheque and I'll cash it for you." He stopped the car and reached in his pocket for a note-case. "Oh, how kind you are!" said the girl, in thrilling tones. She opened her handbag, fumbled and drew out a folded slip of paper The girl appealed to James. Tears which she handed to him. It was a top. "Southern Counties Bank" across £10, payable to Miss Joyce Dabney. James counted out ten one-pour notes and gave them to her. "You know," he said, flipping the heque, "you were really rather lucky o get ton pounds for a first contribu She flushed slightly and closed he ag on the roll of notes. "Oh oh, it was quite a lot of words don't really know how many." "About a thousand, do you think?" said James, slipping into gear and "Oh, yes, just about that," she said

"Well, well, and so now you're going

o make your fortune as a writer, chi

Sales and Service by

T. B. F. BENSON, N.A.

371 Bay Street

Add To Your Summer Home Enjoyment With a Cruisabout! FOR FISHING, swimming, fast ferry, day boating or moonlight cruising, the Cruisabout has no equal for joy-giving, health and happinoss on the hughing rippiling waters.

This Cruisabout, 29 long, 8' 10" beam and 2' 4" draft, is a big, burly quality built, 18-milesan-hour runabout with dependable 110-HP. Gray Murine motor. The 17' cockpit is ample for any party. The small bow cabin has tollet and lots of hanging space for

URSE your child, of dourse, if possible, but don't experiment with all sorts of food

that you know

Eagle Brand has been the standard infant food since 1857. It is entirely pure, it is exceedingly digestible

and there is an ever ready supply at any dealer's no matter where you live or

Helpful baby books sentfree on request ... Use coupon.

THE BORDEN CO., LIMITED

140 St. Paul W., Montreal

Send Free Baby Buoks to:

19

where you go.

little about.

1930 Cruisabouts

tackle.
This Day Cruisabout (priced at $3.685 at factor) and her sister hips

Peasants Devoted To Passion Play

By Sir Honry Lunn Forty years ago my friend W. T. Stead and I were writing a weekly London letter to twenty English newspapers. He came back from Oberammergau that summer full of enthusiasm for the wonderful power of the Passion Play, which he had just witessed, and with his blazing enthusi-, asm wrote his book, "The Story That Transformed the World." This did much to make the powers of these Bavarian villagers and their devotion. to their high task widely known in his country.

I have just returned from witnessing the Play for the fourth time, havwho saw it i. 1900, 1910 and 1922. It may, therefore, be of interest to give some impressions of the presentation of this great drama on this occasion. In the first place, it is important to emphasize the change that has taken place in the conditions under which the spectators pass the seven and a half hours which the Play occupies. The theatre has been rebuilt. The seats are very comfortable, and, excepting for a few 5s, and 10s, seat, in the very front, all are now under cover though the people of Oberammergan have wisely preserved the open front of the theatre through which one looks upe i the mountain which, when I was there, still carried the remains of the winter's snow. The new theatre, which has cost a million and a half marks, is a triumph of good taste and excellent architecture; its acoustic properties are admiracl : and the players can le 'pard and seen' by every member of the audience in every part of the vast building, which will seat 5,400. The Christus of 1870, 80 and '90, was Josef Mayr, a great genius, and none ook right and left as they entered who saw and heard him will ever for-Presently, he pulled up at a red When I first saw him he was the Chorrick building with sundry white bills agus, who gave the Epilogue and led in its windows and a blue lamp over its the choir. His place in that capacity Lang. who also as. the remarkable outhful vision. She had eyes of vio-drowsing derelict, which seemed regirl shakily, with a sudden pinched privilege of taking the part of the blue, her lips were poppy red, her luctant to wake from its slumbers. look about the nostrils. Plays, 1900, 1910 and 1922. He also is a great personality, and like Josef now speaks the Epu ogue and Mayer that I saw the man who was on A sort of cracked laugh escaped the The inquiries having elicited the standingly a genius from the historic no contributor named Joyce Dabuey, "He's only my step father, she said, and further, that several faked Play. Anyone who was at those earsister for as long as she would have had lately been presented at their Zwink mentioned will at once respond ability of that player. The parts of fitt's pillbox to secure the person of Mary, the Mother of our Lord, and > the players could have desired. During my visit to this first public performance of 1930 I heard a good liability of a million and a half marks for their theatre and half a million marks for the extension and improve ment of the roads, rendered necessary by the immense increase in motor he villagers intimately told me that assessed the'r own private mortgages, resulting in large measure from the tremendous lesses of the inflation period during which the Play of 1922 took place, at the large sum of a further two million marks, making a total indebtedness of the villa to collectively and of the people individually amounting to something like four illion marks, or £200,000

If the village is to succeed in paying this sum, the current expenses and the small payment to the respective actors to compensate them for their loss of time, out of the receipts of the Play, they will not have much over, and anything that remains will be de voted to public ends. A certain amount has been said about the villagers making a great deal of money out of receiving the visitors for board and lodging. A careful calculation reveals that fact that their remuneration from this source will be very insignificant after they have defrayed! he expenses of putting their homes in order and have received any compensation whatever for all the time spent in preparing for the arrival of the visitors and the discomfort that they personally endure in order to give up their rooms to their visitors. Many of the players who are acting for so many hours and undergoing the most terrific strain are sleeping on the floor of their own houses in order that their own heds may be occupied so that they may be able to discharge their debts, debts which have hung over them over since 1922. Of course, there is always a grave danger with a great influx of rich peoole from America and Europe that the simplicity of these villagers should be damaged, and even destroyed, but those who witnessed the Play on Sunday, May 11, will agree with me almost unanimously that there was a devotion which could only be shown by those whose simplicity was as yet untouched. Much is to be hoped that nothing will occur to prevent the villagers clearing themselves and the village of Oberaumergau from their oppressive debt. The first Play was performed in the year 1634, and there is a possibility that a centenary Play may be acted in 1934, but the general belief is that the next Play will take place in 1940.

Some men are born great, others achieve greatness, and others just na Preisinter. Galdo Mayr, who took "Of course, I'm not really a romanagraid I might have to walk to the at me like you did, and -- and say they ticist, muttered James Trufitt, as the ceded by Hans wink he would have mated this year an additional single nearest petrol station. He unserewed are charmed and don't even hother to red car proceeded on its way later that been in the front rank. Melchior afternoon, "or I'd have let the girl go. Breitsamter , made a most effective She was a good looker all right.' He The highest tribute to the skill and chuckled. "Still, one has to protect devotion of the players is to be found party into the North country. They drain slowly, very slowly, in. For his live been so (sob) unhappy. But now those silly and generous young men in the fact that 5,000 people sat 31/2 dyes we'e on the beaut... I've a chance to earn my own living, she spoke of! Oh, yes—Ten pounds a hours in the morning and 3% hours in the was gazing at him with a curb and I won't go back. Without his thousand, by gee! I wish I could have the afternoon, scarcely stirring in Commissioner of the Department of ous air of annoyance, the reason for knowing; I sent a story to Hearth and got rates like that when ' first started their places, and showed a rait attendid and their places, and which he could not fathom. Possibly Home, and they've accepted it. I had the writing game."—Answers. tion—surely the highest tribute which traffic. An influential man who knows

Igloos To

The Eskim

seriously cor

their igloo-

comfortable

remains was

be faled w

When D

Northe

branga

the value

Way of

Fall Prague

Real; Springi

Millian