In Passing Other Cars...Don't "Cut In"

One of the greatest dangers on the highway is the driver who insists on passing other cars when there is no space for him in the traffic line ahead. If he should meet a car coming in the opposite direction, a crash follows—with injury to persons or cars.

It's a good rule to keep in line, unless you have a clear view of the road ahead, and there is a place in the traffic line which you can reach before you meet on-coming traffic.

Don't be a nuisance by "cutting in". It is discourteous to other drivers and creates needless danger. You may have a crash... and even if you don't, you are liable to a fine under the Highway Traffic Act.
