Sardine and Apple

Another tasty filling is sardine and nole. Blitter the requisite number of lices of bread and on half of them place a split, boned sardine. Cover with a thin slice of raw apple dipped n mayonnaise dressing, and close the sandwich. Bread for sandwiches that are to be really appetizing should be cut thin and evenly, and have the crusts removed before being buttered. These can then be used for soup crouettes, pastry weights, and other ooking purposes. Cut the sandwiches nto small squares or triangles.
