Our Ottawa Letter

As this letter is written the special session of Parliament to deal with unemployment is under way. The full program of the Government is, as Mr. Bennett promised, directed immediately to betterment of conditions. It is in no sense offered as a permanent remedy. That can be achieved, he believes, only by a rather comprehensive revision of fiscal policy, which, if it is anticipated, will be laid before the regular session of the House early in the New Year.

The process will be lengthy and acrimonious. Even were the facts at hand to permit the introduction of such tariff changes as well provide a more staple remedy, it would be useless to bring them forward now with the idea of stimulating employment through the coming winter. They will unquestionably run counter to Opposition views and are likely to bring many weeks, if not months of debate and, when they are carried, it will take months for their reaction upon economic conditions to become apparent in expanding employment.

The facts upon which Mr. Bennett will act in framing his fiscal policy are not sufficiently complete to enable him to proceed this week, or next. In truth, the conditions to be met are not wholly known. Nor can they be until such time as the Economic Conference of the Empire meets in London next month and proves the extent and limitations of actual and mutual cooperation possible at this period in trade within the Empire.

Upon the success or failure of proposals for mutually beneficial agreements within the Empire, must be largely premised the policy of the immediate future in Canada.

One of the greatest exponents of Empire economic co-operation is in Canada at the present time. He is Lord Melchett, the great industrialist, of London England. He is seizing every opportunity to emphasize the wisdom and the necessity of this co-operation which he views as the life-blood of Empire solidarity. Were all Englishmen as "sold" on the subject as Lord Melchett, Mr. Bennett would have little difficulty in finding a permanent market for Canadian grain and other products of agriculture in Britain. Unfortunately, such is not the case.

The opening of Parliament, even for a brief and abbreviated business session, was attended with customary pomp. It was shown of the brilliant social functions, the drawing room and State dinner, which customarily follow, but the opening itself was up to the usual standard of social pageantry. A new Parliament brings many new members, and in this respect the present House is outstanding. While the families of many former members did not appear, those of men taking their places for the first time descended upon the capital en masse.

Gossip still flourishes as to the probable length of the session. While some correspondents are carrying it along into months, the best guess is that two weeks will see it prorogued, even if closure has to be adopted to do so. While Governments apply that pressure reluctantly, they do it not infrequently. Mr. King enforced a type of closure only last session to stop debate upon resolutions dealing with soldiers' pensions.

In the present instance the Government accepts full responsibility for its emergency measures and the necessity of permitting leading members of the Ministry to attend the London conference, in order that a permanent remedy for unemployment may be arrived at, will be using closure, if obstruction develops.

If the session ends within fourteen days the cost will be $119,310. Each day costs $5,115 in indemnities, so that there is little foundation for the rumor spread that the session will cost a million or two million dollars.

Here and There

Pressure of business and growth of the Canadian Pacific, Telegrams has necessitated the appointment of an assistant general manager of the system. W. D. Neill, assistant manager, western lines, Winnipeg, having been promoted to the position. Other appointments resulting from this are: W. M. Thompson, superintendent, Ontario Division, Toronto, to be assistant manager, western lines, Winnipeg; S. Ingram, superintendent, eastern division, Montreal, to be superintendent, Ontario Division, Toronto; and W. S. Emery, chief operator, Montreal, to be superintendent, eastern division, Montreal.

Fox Film Corporation during early July took sound records of the wind in the pines, the music of the waterfalls and the rippling of streams around Banff Springs Hotel and into this boxed atmosphere there will be placed actors and actresses who will be shown climbing mountains, walking by the side of lakes or canoeing on water-courses they have never seen.

Beating the world's record in passenger traffic operations, western Canada came into the limelight at the end of June with the 1,252 mile continuous run from Fort William to Calgary performed by Canadian Pacific engine No. 2808, of the H1 class. This locomotive is one of several now in service and under construction for the railway and are the latest type of passenger engine.

Carrying nearly a hundred tourists organized by the University of Montreal, a special Canadian Pacific train left Montreal July 5 for western Canada and the Pacific coast. This tour is the sixth annual transcontinental trip undertaken and will last for three weeks.

The richest industrial, agricultural and commercial districts of Canada, as well as the most beautiful scenery, including the Rocky Mountains, will be visited.

With a five-pound trout taken himself and a four-pounder landed by his son, in the catch, Arthur C. Roche, of Melrose, Mass., has just concluded a ten-day fishing trip down the Cain's River, New Brunswick. He said he had never heard of waters where there were so many trout as in Cain's River.

A total of over $37,000,000 is spent this year on the construction and maintenance of roads throughout Canada. Ontario has set aside $12,500,000 of which $10,000,000 for construction; Quebec will spend $11,000,000 for extending, improving and maintaining the provincial system of roads. Manitoba will expend $10,000,000; the Prairie Provinces, $15,000,000, and British Columbia, $8,500,000, representing a total of $37,000,000 spent by provincial governments.

The old gentleman, Father Time, often regarded as somewhat relentless, has been put over him by the plant breeders at the Government Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa. Two crops of grain are now grown there in each year, one in the open and the other in greenhouses, brilliantly lighted with electric lamps, which have proven to be good substitutes for sun's rays.

Edward N. Cornfield

The death of Edward N. Cornfield, which sad event occurred at Oshawa on Dec. 29th, 1929, through drowning, came as a great shock to his many friends. The late Ed. Cornfield was the third son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Cornfield of Kimberley and was 24 years of age. At the time of his death he was engaged with the firm of the Lark Transport at Oshawa. He was a man of great business ability, and honor and was highly respected in his work and by his many friends.

On September 5th, the body was recovered from the dark waters at Oshawa and was conveyed to Lukes undertaking parlors, and from there to Thornbury Union Cemetery where interment took place. The funeral service was held in Kimberley United Church at one o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Rev. J. R. Wilkinson of Temple Hill, assisted by Rev. S. McAusland of Kimberley, was in charge of the services, and spoke very feelingly to a large crowd of sympathizing friends and neighbors. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the bereft parents, brothers and sisters in this, their hour of sorrow. The floral tributes were beautiful silent expressions of esteem and sympathy. They were: wreaths from the family, and Lark Transport, Oshawa; sprays from brothers, Ladies Aid and Women's Institute of Kimberley; aunts and uncles; Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen of Meaford; Mr. and Mrs. John Bussey of Markdale; Public School at Kimberley; Mrs. James Lawrence of Kimberley. Many friends from Owen Sound, Meaford and Markdale attended the funeral.

The pallbearers were three brothers of the deceased, a cousin, Russell Ward, and an uncle John Cherry, and Mr. Kenneth Durno of Oshawa.

"The face they loved is now laid low,
The fond, true heart is still,
The hand they often clasped in theirs
Lies now in death's cold chill.
Some day, some time, their eyes shall see
The face they loved so well,
Some day their hands shall clasp
In his, and never say farewell."

Taylor Hall Dead

Mr. Taylor Hall, a former resident of Glenelg, passed away at his home in Saskatoon, Sask., on Tuesday, Sept. 2nd. He was injured with a crane while unloading gravel in the railway yards and died as a result of the injuries received. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hall of Glenelg. About twenty-five years ago he was married to Miss Margaret English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard English of this place. They went west about 25 years ago. Besides Mrs. Hall two children also survive.

Unusual Event

A most unusual event occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gardiner, Maple Grove, when Margaret Florence Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Walker, 84 Murray street, Brantford, was present together with her two great grandmothers, Mrs. S. Gardner of Windsor, and Mrs. S. Donnelly of Markdale, both 87 years of age; and two grandmothers, Mrs. A. L. Walker of Markdale and Mrs. Wm. Gardiner of Brantford. Miss Margaret is one of very few who can claim four generations of ancestors, living, on both sides of her family.

Born

STEPHENSON—In Toronto, on Wednesday, August 27th, 1930, to Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Stephenson, a son, Douglas Frederick.

Cook - Firth

Durham Presbyterian church was the scene of an early morning wedding on Saturday, August 30th, 1930, when Miss Kathleen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Firth, was united in marriage with Mr. Edwin Embury Cook of Palmerston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook of Glenelg. Rev. B. D. Armstrong, pastor of the bride, officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose sand georgette with brown velvet trimmings for her wedding gown and a brown velvet hat and carried red premier roses and fern. Miss Marjorie Firth, R.N., of Owen Sound was her sister's only attendant and wore a becoming dress of glade green georgette with hat to match and carried yellow oshelia roses and gladjoil. Mr. Clifford Cook, brother of the groom was groomsmen. Messrs. Will and Dan Firth, cousins of the bride, were ushers.

Miss Jean Harding played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Elizabeth Harding sang "I Love You Truly."

The church was tastefully decorated with mauve and yellow flowers. The young couple left by motor for Sarnia en route for Duluth on the steamer "Noronic."

Mr. and Mrs. Cook will reside in Palmerston.

Previous to her marriage the bride was the recipient of several showers from her friends in town and country. On Wednesday evening of last week the whole Rocky Saugeen neighborhood turned out to honor a former teacher. The bride-to-be was seated beneath an arch of streamers and bells. Little George Miller was dressed as a bride and to the strains of the wedding march, accompanied Mitchell McLean with a gaily decorated wagon of gifts. The march was played by Mrs. J. C. Cook, who, with Miss Islay McKechnie, opened the gifts. The gifts were composed of kitchen ware exclusively. The Rocky Saugeen Y.P.U.F.O. club also presented her with three pieces of Belek china, cup, saucer and plate. The bride was president of this club for a number of years and during the past two years was secretary. She made a very appropriate reply. Following the presentation the company enjoyed themselves in games and dancing.

On Thursday afternoon the choir of the Presbyterian church held a very jolly picnic at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harding at Wilder's Lake. The afternoon was spent in water sports and a short program. Rev. B. D. Armstrong made a short address referring to the splendid service given by the bride-to-be and expressing for the choir and congregation their good wishes for a happy and prosperous life in her new home. She was presented with a silver centred dish, which is a companion to the one presented by the Young People's society. A little bit of humor was added to the program when Mr. T. M. McPadden at the close of his speech handed her a fancy wrapped parcel containing a miniature rolling pin.

An added pleasure to the afternoon was having Miss Julie M. Weir and Mrs. A. W. H. Lande present, who gave interesting accounts of their overseas trip.

In the evening the bride-to-be received a big surprise in her home when 25 of her pupils came silently into the house. The pupils reported at the classes of the past two years. Norah Baird read a short address to their teacher and a decorated basket with miscellaneous gifts was brought in and presented. Songs that had been taught to them in school were heartily sung and finally the public surrounded their former teacher and sang "She's a Jolly Good Fellow."—Durham Chronicle.
