South Grey Teachers Held Annual Meeting

Held Sessions in Durham High School Thursday and Friday of last week with record attendance.

Many good addresses listened to with interest, and a great deal of business gone through in the two days at their disposal. Meet next year at Dundalk.

Thursday and Friday of last week was "Teachers Day" in Durham, the annual meeting of the South Grey Institute being held in Durham High school. There was a record attendance with very few absentees, and during the two days the convention was held, every hour was full of addresses, business and discussion. In fact the meeting was still going strong when the second day was drawing to a close and many felt another two days' time could have been fully utilized. The weather was ideal. In those good old days that have long passed into oblivion, an influx of teachers into a town meant rain. No teacher would dare attend the convention "without his customary umbrella," and in those days the country doornees were known as the "Umbrella brigade."

Not so last Thursday and Friday, which were beautiful days, warm and sunny, and quite warm. It was ideal weather for a drive, and as a result the teachers of the riding not only came out in full force, but as well had a most pleasant outing. The first session was opened at 10 a.m. Thursday, the initial procedure being the conducting of devotional exercises by Rev. H. S. Fiddes of the Queen Street United Church, Durham. In a short address following the opening prayer and scripture reading Mr. Fiddes delivered a short address, dwelling principally on three influences in the life of the child—the home, the school and the church. In the home the child is under the influence of a mother's love and teaching and the father's guidance; the school teaches him about himself, his duties, and gives him the lessons that help him to become a useful citizen; the church teaches him of God and his duties to his fellow man.

Addresses of Welcome were given by Mayor Hunter on behalf of the town, who expressed the pleasure it gave the citizens to entertain the South Grey teachers, and who also made fitting reference to his old teacher, Mr. Thomas Allan, who retired from active duties a few years ago. Mr. John Morrison, of the High School Board further stressed the welcome of the citizens and the Board, as did also Mr. T. M. McFadden.

The usual routine business such as the reading of the minutes, the receiving of the auditor's report and the payment of fees over, an address on "What High School Expects of High School Entrance Pupils," was given by Mr. J. A. Robb, principal of Durham High School.

High School Entrance Requirements. Mr. Robb stated there were many who advocated doing away with written examinations on the entrance to High school examinations and in lower forms. He did not agree with this, and expressed the opinion that the written examination is a much better test of a pupil's knowledge than anything else yet tried. The High School Inspectors make a specialty of examining lower forms in reading, writing and spelling, and blame the Public School for any weakness in these subjects. Until recent years these subjects were on the High school course, but now they are no longer on the course.

Important subjects such as reading, writing and spelling should continue in Form I, according to Mr. Robb, who also stated there is a lack of accuracy in the simple rules and vulgar fractions. Aim at speed and accuracy in these mechanical operations before proceeding to more advanced questions. The time spent by a pupil at High school should be regarded as a period of preparation for good citizenship.

Honored Departed Teachers. Within the past two months two well known and respected teachers of South Grey had passed away in the persons of Mr. Donald McDonald and Miss Sarah Fulton. Mr. McDonald began his career about 1870 and taught in several schools in South Grey for nearly 30 years until blindness forced him to give up his profession. Miss Fulton taught for a long period in the vicinity of Markdale. She was an exemplary young woman and her death was much regretted.

South Grey Teachers' Institute had placed a wreath on each grave of these departed fellow teachers, and as a further mark of their esteem the secretary was instructed to write a letter of condolence to the friends and relatives conveying the sympathy of the teachers.

The President's Address. Mr. Irvin B. Sharpe of No. 3 Ben-tinck (Allan Park), the president of the Institute spoke on "Brightness and Dullness in Pupils." There is more trouble with these extremes than with all the rest of the school he said. The work can be done so easily and so soon by the bright pupils that they have time to turn their active minds to some new mischief. The dull ones are often backward because they are not interested. So

Royal Purple Poultry Specific

Keeps Poultry Free from WORMS

Mr. Wm. Jarrott, of Bridgen, advised him to use 2 lbs. of Royal Purple Poultry Specific in each 100 lbs. of laying Mash for two weeks and continue throughout the winter with 1 lb. per 100 lbs. for three weeks. He wrote us stating that in three days he noticed blood in the droppings, and that his egg production had gone up 100%. During the next three weeks he purchased 600 lbs. of this Poultry Specific, and that he was very pleased with the results he obtained, that his poultry were entirely free from worms, and that during August of this year his production was 100% larger than last year.

It will pay every poultry raiser to use Royal Purple Poultry Specific to each hundred pounds of feed during the whole winter. It is not only safe for the birds, but it is also safe for the human family. While this great tonic does not cure worms, it keeps them from coming, and it keeps the birds healthy during the entire season. This is naturally reflected in increased egg production.

Worms in poultry is often mistaken for other diseases. The birds become very thin and show symptoms of disease. When badly infested they will die.

Put up in 30c. and 100-lb. air-tight tins. For sale by 4,600 dealers in Canada. If your dealer cannot supply you, write direct.

Royal Purple Laying Meal

We can supply you with Royal Purple Laying Meal with or without the Poultry Specific mixed in. Mr. T. M. McFadden, Inverkip, Ontario, tells us that he fed Royal Purple Laying Meal to 100 fowls last year with the Royal Purple Poultry Specific and got an average of 75% production from the middle of December until the middle of March. He also states that he has received the largest production of eggs he has ever had during the twelve months he has been using Royal Purple Laying Meal, and that it keeps his poultry healthy during the entire season. If your dealer cannot supply you, we will be pleased to quote you a price, freight paid to your station.

VIMLITE (formerly known as Vitelite) We are sole distributors for this wonderful wire-filled product for windows in poultry houses, barns, etc. It lets in light but keeps out the sun's rays that will not pass through ordinary glass. Write for descriptive circular.

FREE We will be pleased to send you one of our 32-page books with illustrations in full colour, describing the common diseases of Stock and Poultry with particulars of the Royal Purple remedies for each, and details of all the different lines of feed we manufacture. Write for it. We manufacture 25 deals with 186 subjects of vital interest to every farmer and poultryman.
