

C. R. Itic Takes A New Line

Dear Mr. Editor—I have tried for three weeks to place before your readers my ideas as to how the unemployment situation in Markdale might be somewhat relieved but nobody seems to pay very much attention to my suggestions so I'm going to try some other line. I don't believe that unemployment is a very serious question in our midst and if there is any real reason for action I guess those in authority are capable of dealing with it without any assistance from me.

Well, I followed the crowd on Monday evening and landed in the new skating rink where Flesherion and Markdale boys were billed to meet in a senior game in the Northern Hockey League—I think that's the proper title—and I must admit I was disappointed. When the players from Flesherion skated out on the ice I thought they looked more like a bunch of school boys than a senior aggregation. When it was advertised as a senior game I expected there would be some big fellows of mature age. I watched them for a while and finally recognized Harold McCutcheon, a former Markdale boy, who is now living in Flesherion, and by the way he's just a little the best player representing the village to the south of us. When the Markdale gang showed up I got another surprise. They too are a bunch of youngsters with none of the ear-marks of seniority, that is in so far as being afflicted with grey hairs and wrinkled brows. Just the same both towns may well be proud of the boys who are representing them in the hockey games. They play fast and clean and behave themselves like gentlemen. There were two unpleasant features during the evening, the first being the parting with the thirty-five cents before they would let me into the rink and the second was when my friend George Dundas, who was acting as a goal umpire, failed to dodge behind the net and got a smash on the jaw when the puck failed to hit the goal-tender. There were no serious results in either case as I was able to borrow another thirty-five cents and Dundas is none the worse now, having completely recovered his normal proportions. I guess I should have said also that the only fault with the game was that the Flesherion boys scored twice while our boys were able to do the same thing only once. The referee was the only person on the ice who looked like a senior. He is the police force in Dundalk and is about the same size as our own policeman. He is however a good official and there was no reason to find fault with his decisions.

I was out again on Thursday night to see the different costumes at the carnival. I noticed by the poster advertising the affair that it was to take place in the Markdale arena and of course I knew that meant the skating rink but on my way there I followed three dressed-up characters and they led me into the curling rink which kind of surprised me. I soon discovered that they were curlers who had a game on hand before going to the carnival. It was Harold McInnis, Bob Down and Bruce Stewart, who, along with Bert Jackson, were slated to play a game in the senior and junior series in a curling competition. Their opponents were Tom Reburn, Findlay McNab, Joe Erskine and Charlie Armstrong who went down before the boys in the funny costumes. On the other side of the rink Harvey Lucas, Gordon Beaton, Sandy Robertson and Lewis Thibaudeau were trying their best to put it over Dick Stephen, Hugh Knott, Jack Elliott and Ed Colgan but the old fellows proved too much for the youngsters and were able to pull out with a score enough in advance of their opponents to win the prize for the fellows of mature age and sound judgment. I don't know what the prizes were but no doubt they will be in keeping with the dignity of the twenty or more old fellows who took part in the several games of the series.

After watching the curlers I went across the street to the "arena" and here again they took from me the second thirty-five cents and again I am left without visible means of support. They didn't charge me anything to get into the curling rink and I think I'll go back there again. The place is comfortable and the company is delightful. At the carnival there were so many costumes and so many what bewildered and failed to recognize enough of the maskers to make it worth while mentioning any names. All I can say is that I enjoyed the affair and if there is another such event I'll be there provided some of my friends will come across with enough ready cash to permit me to enter by the main entrance.

I notice that there is to be another hockey match in the rink here on Friday night between Flesherion and Markdale and I'll be there if I have to climb in through the back window. It should be a hum-dinger—whatever that means—as the teams are very evenly matched.

So long,
C. R. Itic.

Hockey

Flesherion 1, Markdale 0
Markdale's senior hockey team got a bit set-back in a game at Flesherion on Friday evening of last week when they failed to locate the nets while the home team got one counter. It was a game full of excitement and was a splendid exhibition of Canada's national winter sport. The teams are evenly matched and it was any person's game right up to the last minute. Both goal tenders had plenty of opportunity to show the spectators that they were on the job. The one which beat Wright, the Markdale goalie, was shot in from a rebound and there was no chance for Wright to even see it.

The only score came in the last period when Patton secured the puck on a rebound and slipped it in. Twelve minor penalties were handed out during the game, Markdale getting seven while Flesherion received five.

This win gives Flesherion two of the four games and in order to remain in the series Markdale must win the game here on Friday evening of this week.

The teams lined up in this order: Flesherion—Goal, J. Snell; defence, C. McTavish and J. Nuhn; centre, W. Patton; wings, R. Boyd and H. McCutcheon; alternates, F. Gorrell, L. Ferris, D. Sled and R. Phillips.

Markdale—Goal, E. Wright; defence, B. Johnston and H. Whyte; centre, M. McFarlane; wings, E. McFarlane and F. McCutcheon; alternates, R. Singleton, M. Perkins, L. Kelley and P. Wright.

Referee—C. Murcar of Dundalk.

Quillinan Awarded Damages

John Quillinan wins his action against the township of Glenelg and Howard Weaver, according to a judgment given by His Honour Judge C. T. Sutherland of the County Court of the County of Grey who awards Quillinan damages of $282.79 and costs. At the trial of this action on Dec. 12 and 13 last at Owen Sound W. J. Scott of Middlebro & Scott, Owen Sound, was counsel for the plaintiff, W. D. Henry, K. C., of Markdale for the defendant township and Otto Klein, K. C. of Walkerton for Howard Weaver the third party in the action.

The judgment gives Quillinan the full repair bill for his car of $182.79 and also the sum of $50.00 for general damages to the car and depreciation, and $50.00 to Quillinan for personal injuries. The judge also gave the defendant township judgment against Weaver the third party for this amount, together with the plaintiff's costs.

The judge accordingly disallowed the defendant township its costs subsequent to the filing of the statement of defence by Weaver, and directs that Weaver and the township pay their own costs incurred after that date.

The action arose when an automobile driven by Quillinan last August fell to the bed of the Saugeen River when the flooring of a township bridge had been removed by Weaver in the course of erecting a new bridge. The Judge states "there can be no question that this made highway dangerous and impassable" and adds that no substantial barricade or warnings had been given as provided by the Highway Improvement Act.

Mrs. Wm. Stewart

Mrs. William Stewart passed away on Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. S. Bellerby, Owen Sound, with whom she had been making her home since moving from Fergus in July of 1929. The late Mrs. Stewart had been ailing in health for over a year and a half and had been seriously ill for some five months.

Deceased, who was in her 72nd year, was born at Nichol in Wellington County near Fergus, and spent all her life in that district until going to live with her daughter. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boys, her maiden name being Phoebe Boys. In 1883 she was united in marriage to William Stewart, who survives to mourn her loss, living with his daughter, Mrs. Bellerby in Owen Sound. From the time of their marriage until moving to Owen Sound Mr. and Mrs. Stewart lived in Fergus. The late Mrs. Stewart, who was a continuing Presbyterian in religion, was a member of St. Andrew's Church, Fergus, and took an active part in church work while her health permitted.

Besides her sorrowing husband, the late Mrs. Stewart leaves to mourn her loss three children, Mrs. M. S. Bellerby of Owen Sound; Mrs. A. W. Poole of Southampton and Roy of Marietta, Ohio. Three brothers, Henry, Albert and Herbert, all in Alberta and three sisters, Mrs. Byron Shank of Flint, Mich., Mrs. Thomas Milne of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Mrs. Murdoch Craig of Guelph, also survive.

A service, conducted by Rev. A. L. Atton of Westside United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Bellerby, on Friday evening. Interment was made at Beleyde Cemetery, Fergus, on Saturday. Rev. Dr. J. A. Brown of Ingersoll, a personal friend of the deceased had charge of the service and was assisted by Rev. A. O. McDonald of St. Andrew's Church, Fergus.

James McKay Dead

Mr. James McKay, middle-aged farmer of Swinton Park, died on Saturday morning as the result of poisoning from Paris green, self-administered, the previous evening. Mrs. McKay and two other members of the family had gone to spend a social evening in the neighborhood, and it was while they were absent that Mr. McKay took the Paris green. The deceased at times had acted queerly and on one occasion the help of the police was solicited to search for him when he went to the bush and did not return. He and his family moved about 15 months ago to Swinton Park from Berkeley, occupying the farm vacated by J. H. Richardson, who now resides at Berkeley. Dr. Platt of Dromore, was summoned when the unfortunate man took ill, but despite antidotes and other remedies he passed away Saturday morning. Besides his wife, a family of two sons and three daughters survive.

Dr. F. Martin of the Dundalk, the coroner, was called to the scene, but deemed it unnecessary that an inquest be held.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon.

The late Mr. McKay had been in poor health for several years and there was no hope of his being restored to good health.

Markdale Old-Time Hockey Players

Local hockey fans have been greatly amused by the following paragraph which appeared in the Owen Sound Sun-Times one day last week: "Markdale and Flesherion are staging a tidy little battle for the half of the Northern group they are in. Each team has won one game and oddly enough it has been on the other team's rink. Markdale has the McFarlane brothers performing on their forward line, and this pair have been playing nice hockey. Both are former Chatsworth boys and played with the Markdale Junior N.H.L. champs last year. Markdale also has a team in the N.H.L. junior series, but they have drawn a bye and have not been organized. Many of them are playing on the senior team. The senior team has many old standbys on their line-up, including the Wright brothers and Johnston, who have been in the game for years. White is also a veteran of the team." The "old standbys," the Wright brothers and Johnston, are indeed veterans. E. Wright is playing for the third season and is eligible to play with the juniors when they get going. Rev. Johnston and Percy Wright are in the game for the second year only, as also Harvey Whyte. They sure are veterans. Almost all are eligible for the junior team and will still be playing when that team gets going.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindly assistance and sympathy at the time of the illness and death of our mother also for floral tributes.

Carbert - McNamara

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hannah of Markdale, Ont. on Wednesday, Jan. 21st at twelve noon, when Miss Christie McLeod McNamara of 534-2nd Ave. East, Owen Sound, late of Darvel, Ayrshire, Scotland, was united in marriage to Mr. William J. Carbert of Markdale. The Rev. A. D. Corneil of Knox Church, Owen Sound, officiated. The bride carrying a beautiful bouquet of carnations, mums and a sprig of heather entered the drawing room on the arm of Mr. Andrew Kellighan, who gave the bride away. The bride was gowned in white satin trimmed with old Spanish lace and veil with a crown of orange blossoms with hosiery and white kid shoes to match. Miss Nettie Jaap of Toronto, who was gowned in pink taffeta with hose and shoes to match and who carried a bouquet of mixed flowers, attended the bride. Mr. Merle McCauley assisted the groom. Mr. John Hannah presided at the feast in the bride and groom. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a fur coat and a substantial cheque. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a handsome motor rug of Scotch plaid. The bridegroom's gift to the bridesmaid was a silver compact and to the groomsmen a signet ring.

Sixteen guests sat down to enjoy a dainty dinner. The happy couple later left on the afternoon train to Toronto to enjoy a short honeymoon, the bride travelling in almond brown dress with brown fur coat and matching accessories. On their return they will reside in Markdale.

Induction Services

On Tuesday evening, January 27, the induction of Rev. T. O. Miller, B. A. into the charge of Markdale and Flesherion took place in Cooke's Presbyterian church here and was the occasion of a very happy gathering of both congregations and their friends. The church was filled to capacity and owing to illness, Rev. W. McRae, Moderator of Orangeville Presbyterian was unable to preside and so Rev. Graeb of Grand Valley acted as Moderator. After the rendering of the anthem "Praise God the Father" in a very beautiful manner by the choir, Rev. Mills of Dundalk preached an impressive sermon on the topic "My Growing Conception of the Minister's Art." The keynote of his masterful address was that this was an age of growth and that the growth on the four-fold plan as illustrated in Luke 2: 52 was the only worth while life. Rev. Reddie of Hillsburg, clerk of Orangeville Presbyterian then related the steps leading up to the moderating of the call. Rev. Stewart of Priceville in an able manner addressed the minister to be inducted. His theme was "Preach the Word" as Christ had done and to stand to show thyself approved of God. Mrs. (Dr.) A. M. Brown sang the solo "Son of my Soul" in her usual beautiful manner. Rev. Douglas of Caledon East addressed the congregation taking as the subject of his address that the work of the congregation, which is the church, was as important as that of the minister. No minister can do his part or build up a church without the work of the congregation. The only permanent thing in the world is the love of God as shown in 1 Corinthians 13. Christ comes in proportion as he is accepted. The greatest business in the world is the business of the church and no institution in the world can solve the problems of life except the church of Christ on earth. Only when a congregation realizes its work to do in the world will the church do her work. Rev. Graeb brought the meeting to a close by expressing his best wishes for cordial relations with pastor and people and Rev. T. O. Miller pronounced the

Royal Purple Poultry Specific Keeps Poultry Free from WORMS

Mr. Wm. Jarrett, of Bridgen, writes you a year ago stating that his poultry had become badly infested with worms. We advised him to use 2 lbs. of Royal Purple Poultry Specific in each 100 lbs. of Laying Mash for two weeks and continue thereafter the water with 1 lb. After using it for three weeks he writes us stating that in three days he noticed blood streaks in the droppings, and that his egg production had gone up 100%. During the Fall, Winter and Spring months he produced 600 lbs. of this Poultry Specific. We received a letter from him the latter part of August, stating that he was amazed at the results he obtained, that his poultry were entirely free from worms, and that during August of this year his production was 100% larger than last year.

It will pay every poultryman, no matter what feed he is using, or if he mixes his own, to add one pound of Royal Purple Poultry Specific to each hundred pounds of feed during the whole season the poultry are shut in. While this great toxic destroys the worms, it at the same time tones up the birds, keeping their digestive organs active the same as if they were on range, compelling them to take from 15% to 20% more food from the feed they eat. This is naturally reflected in increased egg production.

Worms in poultry is often mistaken for other diseases. The birds become very thin and show symptoms of diarrhoea. When badly infested they will die.

Put up in 30c. and 60c. packages, $1.75 and $5.00 tins, also 100-lb. air-tight bags—$14.00. For sale by 4,600 dealers in Canada. If your dealer cannot supply you, write direct.

Royal Purple Laying Meal

We can supply you with Royal Purple Laying Meal with or without the Poultry Specific added in. Mr. T. L. Matheson, Ingersoll, Ontario, tells us that he fed Royal Purple Laying Meal to 600 pullets last year with the Royal Purple Poultry Specific and got an average of 74% production from the middle of December until the middle of March. He also states that he has received the largest production of eggs he has ever had during the twelve months he has been using Royal Purple Laying Meal, and that it keeps his poultry healthy during the entire season. If your dealer cannot supply you we will be pleased to quote you a price, freight paid to your station.
