 Don't Make It Possible For Your Widow To Regret That You Didn't Have Enough Life Insurance

INSURE YOUR LIFE

VOL. 51; NO. 26.

Because it protects your family. The primary and fundamental explanation of and reason for Life Insurance is found in the protection which it affords to the wives and children of those who insure their lives.

INSURE YOUR LIFE

Because very little self-denial on your part when you are at the hey-day of your earning capacity, can make provision for your family which may mean to them the difference between plenty and penury, between happiness and want; which may mean an education to your children; which will relieve your mind of all uneasiness as to their financial welfare.
