Get Somewhat Peevish

From time to time the Express is asked to publish reports from various organizations after such reports have been published in the Owen Sound Daily several days ahead of the publication of this paper, and it gets under our skin to be playing second fiddle all the time. If the heads of these organizations would release their matter at a time when the local papers could be on a par with our outside opposition, we would not mind. In many cases it is only thoughtlessness that causes the trouble. A sure way of killing the local papers is to continue to ignore them and supply Owen Sound with such reading matter days ahead of local distribution. The practice of giving Owen Sound the preference over your own town paper is completely taking the joy out of the lives of the local publishers and may eventually mean a serious step for the community as well.—Meaford Express.

Get Somewhat Peevish

From time to time the Express is asked to publish reports from various organizations after such reports have been published in the Owen Sound Daily several days ahead of the publication of this paper, and it gets under our skin to be playing second fiddle all the time. If the heads of these organizations would release their matter at a time when the local papers could be on a par with our outside opposition, we would not mind. In many cases it is only thoughtlessness that causes the trouble. A sure way of killing the local papers is to continue to ignore them and supply Owen Sound with such reading matter days ahead of local distribution. The practice of giving Owen Sound the preference over your own town paper is completely taking the joy out of the lives of the local publishers and may eventually mean a serious step for the community as well.—Meaford Express.
