Boys Smash Dozen Bottles of Whiskey

Three Chesley boys became real temperance crusaders last Thursday. They were looking for scrap wire up at the dump on the west side of the town and in an old overturned Ford car they thought they had come across some material for fixing electrical devices that would surprise the late Thomas Alva Edison if he were to come back to this mundane sphere. In the course of their snooping around the old tin Lizzie the three young explorers spied a box under the car and they soon had the mystery parcel out. They expected to find a real treasure in that box and so it would have been to an old toper for there were 12 bottles in that box of "Teachers' Highland Cream Whiskey," and real imported stuff. Evidently some bootlegger, who was afraid to keep the real old stingo in his home, had left the booze under the old car until he could safely place it with discriminating customers. One of the boys went to his home nearby, secured a hammer and like Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, started in breaking the glass-ware. The young crusader never let up till he smashed the whole 12 bottles of intoxicating cream which would have gladly been licked up by a lot of human Toms. The bootlegger's loss by the curiosity of these boys is estimated to be over $40. This is no moonshine story.—Chesley Enterprise.

Mother of Five Looks for Early Release

When one is only 27 the strain of raising five children on limited financial resources is a burden which would tax any woman's strength and vitality. In the case of slender Mrs. N., none too strong from early years at factory work, the burden pressed her lower and lower till she fell into the clutches of tuberculosis gripped her in its evil power. Fortunately, however, she was sent to the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives, where the expert hand of doctors and nurses took her in like a rain-freshened flower. Mrs. N. received the carefully planned treatment and has made splendid progress towards recovery, and is eagerly looking forward to the time when she may return to her little ones.

There are many such cases, but without financial assistance the Muskoka Hospital cannot aid them. A gift from you will be gratefully received if sent to Mr. A. E. Ames, 123 College St., Toronto.

Hanover has Large Amount of Taxes in Arrears

The town of Hanover is not in an enviable position with arrears of taxes amounting to $28,000. Tara is indeed fortunate in having practically no arrears. Commenting on the Hanover situation The Hanover Post says—

"Some of these fine days Hanover council is going to be compelled to take action to put a stop to the increase shown every year in the amount of tax arrears. It is an impossible condition that some people are allowed to go on, year after year, ignoring their taxes. There's bound to be a show-down sooner or later, and it will not be the town that will suffer."

We are informed that Hanover's 1931 statement will show $18,838.01 in uncollected taxes for that year, plus previous arrears of some $9,501.65, or a total in arrears of $28,339.66. In 1930 the total was $23,984.16, the two items making up this total being $16,068.59 and $7,915.57. In 1929, the figures were $11,708.14 and $5,656.39, a total of $17,364.53.

We read where Goderich council are continuing their policy of aggressive tax collection. Last year, distress warrants were issued in that town, and a tax sale held, the first in 27 years, with the result that $23,000 more in taxes was collected than in 1930, and more than in any previous year in the last item.

The Post is not suggesting a similar course of action for Hanover—at least, not until times improve—but we do feel that the increasing amount of tax arrears should be curbed. Without a doubt, many people make a sincere attempt to pay their bills, but there must be many who would pay if sufficient pressure were exerted. Some day Hanover council should take action to eliminate these tax arrears and in the meantime they should exert every effort to keep the figure down to a more reasonable level.—Tara Leader.

The Brockville Recorder in a recent editorial urges all Canadians who are figuring on holidaying outside the Dominion this winter to consider the advantages of British Columbia where the Canadian dollar stands at par and where the climate is the equal of any to be found in the United States. Great Britain, the editorial adds, has set the example for Britisheers which Canadians should be patriotic enough to follow.

The high reputation of Canada for the pacific settlement of disputes with foreign powers is an example that exerts considerable influence in the councils of the League of Nations and indicates that the Dominion should play an important part in the coming disarmament conference at London, says Colonel David Carnegie, C. B. E., noted lecturer on the promotion of peace, who recently sailed for Great Britain aboard the Duchess of Richmond.

Ski Runners of the Canadian Rockies

With a field of activity unequalled the world over the new winter sports association the Ski Runners of the Canadian Rockies, enthusiasts generally. The new organization is patterned largely after the famous Trail Riders and its locale, unequalled for scenery and facilities on this continent and probably without a rival even in Europe, is Banff, in the heart of the Rockies, with covering such world-known objectives as Mount Assiniboine, Simpson Pass, Shadow Lake, Lake Louise, Parnigian Valley and Pass, Bow Lakes and Pipestone Pass. Skiing over some of these passes is in full swing as late as June when visitors are enjoying golf and tennis fishing and hiking in the valleys below. But the sport begins in November each year.

A thousand feet above Banff and about an hour out from the town is the ski lodge built on the pass and shelters at strategic points for rest and refreshment. There is a 50-metre Jump at Buffalo Park and a 100-metre Jump at Buffalo Park and a 100-metre Jump at Buffalo Park and a 100-metre Jump at Buffalo Park.

Lay-out shows (1) Ski track across virgin snow with Mt. Assiniboine, 11,800 feet high, in background; (2) Canadian Pacific Bungalow Camp at Masog, headquarters for skiing at Mt. Assiniboine; (3) Mount Assiniboine, 11,800 feet high, overlooking the Bow River, with dog team in foreground and (4) The Towers, on Wonder Pass, near Mt. Assiniboine, one of the finest winter scenes in the Rockies.
