News and Information for the Busy Farmer

Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture

The 27th annual report of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association for 1931 is now available. It includes a number of interesting addresses, reports and treatises on different phases of vegetable-growing. Copies of the report are obtainable through your local agricultural representative.

Decreased Hog Supply
Market supplies of hogs in the United States and Europe will probably decrease during the next few months; nevertheless they are likely to be larger than in the corresponding period last year, says the U.S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Bill of Lading Protects Farmers
Excellent progress has been made in applying bill of lading regulations to truck movement of live stock, states Garnet Duncan of the Ontario Marketing Board staff.

"Farmers appreciate the protection offered them by this system against irregularities practised by some truckers," continued Mr. Duncan, "and most reliable truckers support the system as it saves time and protects them from unfair competition. Weekly records show the use of bills of lading is increasing steadily."

Minister's Report
The report of the Minister of Agriculture for the year 1931 has been issued. It starts with a foreword by the Minister in which he reviews the outstanding accomplishments of that year in an agricultural way. These include the creation of the Ontario Marketing Board in May, 1931, which has given leadership in the marketing of farm products, especially those of the dairy, live stock, fruit and vegetable industries. A survey of cold storage requirements was made and assistance given to the erection of six new cold storage warehouses at points in the province. These facilities were of unusual service because of the long hot season last year. A ten-year cold storage program embracing the needs of all branches of agriculture is in course of preparation. One of the bright spots, remarks the Minister, was the Junior Extension work among boys and girls. Stress is also laid upon the marked improvement in quality of live stock owned by Ontario farmers as a result of the premium granted on stallions coming up to certain high standard; the bonus system on the purchase of pure-bred bulls and high-grade rams, and the organization of Bacon Hog Clubs. Increasing numbers of farmers are taking advantage of the assistance offered them.

The report gives a comprehensive review of the activities of the various departmental branches and the work done at the Ontario Agricultural College, Macdonald Institute, the Ontario Veterinary College and the Kemptville Agricultural School. Attendance of students at these institutions has surpassed all previous records. Anyone interested in any particular branch of the Department's work can secure a copy of this report upon application.

Current Crop Report
In Huron County, fall wheat promises an excellent yield, although there is some lodging and damage by Hessian Fly. Alfalfa and mixed hay will be good crops in that county. Ninety per cent of the wheat crop in North Simcoe first-class. Ten thousand acres of buckwheat were sown in Wellington County the last two weeks in June and the first week in July. Cutting of fall wheat has been general in Essex. Heavy rain and wind hurt the fall wheat fields in Haldimand. The new egg-grading regulations are reported to be working well in that county. Rains over most of Ontario in the early part of July brought needed moisture and spring crops are coming along rapidly. In Renfrew County alfalfa, clover and hay crops are yielding only half of last year. Reports from Northern Ontario are optimistic.

Wellington County Report
The Wellington County Live Stock Improvement Association aims to make Wellington County one of the best live stock breeding centres in Canada and already 95 per cent. of all the sires in Wellington are pure bred, including 1000 pure bred bulls, 2000 pure bred rams, 300 pure bred boars, and 50 pure bred stallions.

Wellington County now has 51 accredited herds, including 24 Holsteins, 18 Shorthorns, 4 Ayrshires, 1 Jersey and 4 Angus.

Wellington's 100,000 acres of hay for next winter's roughage will be worth about $1 a ton less for feeding value on account of the continued rains holding back the haying and allowing the protein to turn to fibre in the standing crop. Hundreds of acres of alfalfa that should have been in the barn before the wet weather started remained uncut until the second week in July.

Hundreds of city people are flocking to Wellington County farms and old empty houses in the country are being re-occupied. At least ten married couples must have come to Arthur village alone during the past twelve months and they all seem to get something to do, even although their income is a very meagre one.

Clover Seed Prospects
G. S. Peart, Chief of the Markets Division, Dominion Seed Branch, has just returned from a trip through some of the principal alfalfa and red clover producing districts in Ontario and reports that seed production prospects for these two crops appear poor.

Generally speaking red clover did not winter well owing to insufficient snow cover and meadows with really good stands are not numerous.

This prospect of a short red clover seed crop, taken in conjunction with the relatively small amount of the 1931 crop carried over, may mean a strong domestic demand for Canadian grown red clover seed for sowing next spring, and those farmers who are fortunate in having good stands in fields reasonably free from weeds should leave the second cut for seed rather than use it for pasture.

As for alsike, the consensus of opinion is that the total acreage in Ontario this year is about forty per cent. less than last year so that unless the yield per acre is heavy there will likely be much less alsike threshed than even last year, when the total yield was much below normal.

Good quality alsike is expected to be in fair demand for export to the United Kingdom this year.

Plums For Britain

The ten per cent. tariff which went into effect March 1st, 1932, on foreign plums entering the United Kingdom, offers a splendid opportunity to the Ontario plum industry to develop this potential export outlet, according to Andrew Fulton, overseas fruit representative. Since Canada is the only source of overseas supplies to take the place of foreign imports, it is necessary to look to Ontario for this fruit. In 1930 the United Kingdom imported 44 million pounds, which is more than twice the annual production in Canada. France supplied nearly half the total. There is no reason why Ontario should not capture part of this export trade. Past experience has shown that special care is required in growing, packing and transporting Ontario plums to ensure the fruit arriving in the United Kingdom in good condition. They must be selected for maturity and strictly packed according to recognized standards. Therefore plums for export should be handled through central packing houses in close proximity to cold storage facilities where the fruit can be properly assembled, packed, pre-cooled and shipped under refrigeration to seaboard. The British market is exacting in its demand for only good-sized plums. Plums for export should be picked, packed and pre-cooled in one day. Special shipping arrangements are absolutely essential for plums, according to Mr. Fulton, who sees a bright future for this export trade if properly handled.

Favorable development of this year's crop on the prairie provinces is noted by the Canadian Pacific Railway's weekly report issued recently by the Agricultural Department in Winnipeg. Most of the wheat in Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan is headed at an average height of two feet, and elsewhere ranges between advanced shot blade to headed stage. Hill loss has been only local and in scattered districts.

Bob Davis, roving columnist of the New York Sun, and probably the most travelled newspaperman in the world, has been staying at the Banff Springs Hotel on his way back from Hawaii, accompanied by Mrs. Davis. Mr. Davis has a flair for the unusual, and will likely unearth a wealth of good material for his column among the old timers of the Rockies.

Taxation comparisons in connection with motor vehicles and railroads should take into consideration that the railways pay for their own roadway, and also to some extent for the roadway used by their motor vehicle competitors, says the "Traffic World". This brings in the question of how much the motor vehicles should pay for the highways and whether they are doing it.

Here and There

Four guests at the French River Chalet Beaulieu Camp recently brought in four muskies totalling 73 pounds, of which the largest weighed 24 lbs. and the smallest twelve. Fishing at this popular resort is most successful this season, and there will be keen competition for the Canadian Pacific trophy.

Native Sons of Glasgow enroute to the big Convention of their Association at the Scottish city. Have been travelling across Canada via Canadian Pacific Railway from Victoria and points in Western Canada, Ontario and Quebec, for the sailing of the "Duchess of Bedford". Members will gather from all over the world for a monster celebration July 15-22.

John Findlay, who is by way of being the all time big game hunter of the world, arrived at Vancouver recently aboard the "Empress of Russia" enroute to England "for a little rest." He adds to his big game hunting the disciplining of Malay head-hunters, who disregard the white man's laws. "One raid we made," said Mr. Findlay, "left a trail of twenty dead men."

Canadian Pacific low rate bargain return trips, which have been a very successful feature of the company's operation this year, will include one to the Maritime Provinces July 22, when Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will be covered in round trips to take in most of the show places of the two provinces. The trip will be made by a sea passage in the fast new steamship "Princess Helene" across the Bay of Fundy to the Land of Evangeline.

A hole-in-one, though rare, is not unique, but when it is made by a lady and for the first time on the course it rates a headline. This was done by Mrs. Guy LaPrak on the 150-yard par three hole at the Canadian Pacific Recreation Club course at Sorbus near Montreal recently.
