

Owl Laffs

Wife (at desk)—"I've been asked for a reference for our last maid. I've said she's lazy, unpunctual and impatient. Now can I add anything in her favor?"

Husband—"You might say she's got a good appetite and sleeps well."

Monty's idea of a courageous and independent man is one who can go entirely through life with a full set of tonsils.

Tacks

How much alike people are in general outline, but how different in detail. If, as is said, Nature abhors a vacuum, why does she create so many? People who bury the hatchet don't need a marker to remember the burying place. Truth is stranger than fiction—also scarier and less interesting. Amusement is the happiness of those who cannot think. Some women seek to attract attention by trying to look miserable. There's something good, even noble, about anyone who does his job well. Consider well your own faults and you will have less to say about the faults of others.

Get It Done

It isn't the job we intended to do, or the labor we've just begun, that puts us right on the balance sheet.

It's the work we have really done. Our credit is built upon things we do. Our debit on things we shirk. The man who totals the biggest plus is the man who completes his work. Good intentions do not pay our bills. It's easy enough to plan. To wish is the play of an office boy. To do is the work of a man.

When a man buys a round trip ticket he thinks he's covered all the expense of the trip, but he forgets that his wife will have to buy a trunkful of new clothes.

Sandy—"How much to the station?"
Taxi Driver—"Fifty cents, sir."
Sandy—"Does that include the charge for my bags?"
Taxi Driver—"I'll take those for nothing."
Sandy—"Excellent. Then I'll walk."

"Everybody has more or less trouble."
"Yes" answered the observant woman. "If a man can't find anything else to worry him, he goes to a ball."

IN TEARS WITH PAIN OF RHEUMATISM

"For six weeks," a woman writes, "I had rheumatism, mostly in my feet and wrists. In fact, I have been in tears with the pain. Owing to stomach trouble, I could not take any kind of medicine, as it made me feel sick. So a lady said I should try Kruschen Salts. I am very thankful that I did so, for now I feel completely restored. I have not been taking anything else, so it must be Kruschen that has relieved me."—Mrs. C.

The six mineral salts of Kruschen have a direct effect upon the whole bloodstream, neutralizing uric acid, which is the recognized cause of rheumatism. They also restore the eliminating organs to proper working order, and so prevent constipation, thereby checking the further formation of uric acid and other body poisons which undermine the health.

New Poetry

Mackleokoe, in the New Statesman and Nation, London, gives the following offering, which might well cause each citizen a moment of thought:

Patriotism For Prattlers

"Pray what is the test," little Henry inquired,
"For assessing a patriot's worth; Since even a Socialist's often inspired By a love for the land of his birth;

"And it doesn't seem true that one party alone To the flag of its country pays deference?"
"But the depth of their love," said the Tory, "is shown By its solid cash value in preference."

"We display," cried the Nazis, "our love for the State By our flagrant contempt for its laws; For the use of revolvers to silence debate Is the mark of the patriot cause."

"A patriot's one," came a voice from Japan,
"Who is willing to steal for the nation, And by flouting the League, to engender a plan For a country's complete isolation."

"To distinguish," quoth Winston, "the wheat from the chaff, I can give you an excellent test: He will ham-string a peace for the sake of a laugh And anger his land for a jest."

"Alas!" sobbed the child, "I must forfeit my claim To a patriot's rank, though a dunce one; For it seems that I value my country's fair fame A great deal too much to become one."

Hospital

By Wilfred J. Funk
A little lad to-day will keep A quiet tryst: he soon will sleep
In dreams: I pray he may not feel The sharp bite of the searching steel;

He is so very young; he knows The mystery of death; he goes With level eyes. Guard him to-day, This hour, dear God, I kneel, I pray.

Well Children

"Occasionally I give each of my five children BABY'S OWN TABLETS. I am sure that is why they never have any serious illness," writes Mrs. George Morley, Yarker, Ont. This sound advice is passed on to all Mothers. BABY'S OWN TABLETS can be given with complete safety to the youngest and most delicate child—see analyst's statement in each 25c package. Recommended by mothers for teething troubles, simple fevers, colic, digestive disorders, constipation, fretfulness. Easy to take as candy.

Old Lines for New Clothes

Like the horse you lead to water, you can coax a man into a new suit but you cannot get him to go out in it until his fancy as well as his figure conforms to the cut. So a department just made public from the International Association of Clothing Designers' convention in New York seems a bad one. It is that peg-top trousers, accentuated waists and broad shoulders must return to a man's wear.

The backward turn in styles for women has so widely revived recollection of the Gibson girl that an attempt to revive the Gibson look might be thought of. But men feel funny that way. And if their tendency to cling to last year's fedora extends to other sections of the wardrobe, the clothing designers will have to employ some subtle designs to put over their latest idea of reform.

It might be argued, of course, that the peg-top trouser was popular for a number of years at Oxford and Cambridge. It might be pointed out that it doesn't really matter whether the superfluity in a pair of trousers is at the top or bottom, and that a generation that has learned to steer a clear course through society in bell-bottoms should be able to sail along in peg-tops without having to take a reef in them except in a heavy wind. As for the broad shoulders and accentuated waists—the arguments will have to fit the occasion and no less the individual.

The success or failure of the clothing designers to impose their will on the sterner sex must be left for future historians to discuss. The significance of their move, however, already is the basis of much philosophical comment. Does it portend a return to the good old peg-top ideas of yesterday? Are we about to adventure in the contentment of a simpler era? Only one thing is sure: Whoever habitually scoffs at his wife's submission to fashion's decrees will have to conceal his admiration for his neighbor's new broad shoulders—when, as and if padded—and will do well to keep forever out of peg-tops—if he can.—The Christian Science Monitor

Couldn't Walk a Step

Credit Given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills For Ending Severe Attack of Rheumatism

"My father, a man past middle life, was suddenly stricken with rheumatism in the knees," writes Mrs. James Mitchell, St. Catharines, Ont. "So severe was the attack that he was unable to take one step without assistance. We concluded that the trouble was constitutional, so we procured a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A decided improvement was noticed, and when three boxes had been taken the trouble had completely disappeared. He never had the slightest return of the rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved wonderfully effective in numerous cases similar to this one. When the blood stream becomes thinned, rheumatism attacks the system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually create an abundance of new red blood cells, which enrich the blood stream and revitalize the entire system. They're highly recommended for ALL run-down or nervous conditions. They are a great help to growing girls. Get the Pills at your Druggists'. 50c package.

CAN'T BUY THESE

L. M. T. (Gaston, Ind.) laments the fact that she has been unable to buy:

A sheet for the bed of a river.
Suspenders for the pants of a dog.
A blanket for the cradle of the deep.
A razor for the face of the earth.
Something that will keep the ink well.

W. G. M. (Brooklyn) would like to patronize advertisers selling:

Monocles for potato eyes.
Rugs for the ocean's floor.
Rings for the piano keys.
Cloths for time-tables.
Mrs. S. K. Y. (Cincinnati, Ohio) is still looking for:

A curtain for the stage of life.
A fence to inclose the land of Nod.

Queer Taste

The big-game hunter had just returned from an expedition and was telling a crowd of admiring friends and relatives his thrilling experiences. After a few stories of encounters with lions and elephants, he said: "Just before leaving I had the good fortune to shoot a man-eating crocodile."

His aunt looked horrified.

"But surely that was murder and quite unnecessary. Why shouldn't the poor man eat crocodile if he wanted to?"

Pre-war Stuff

"We better make a front-page story of this wedding," remarked the editor. "Why?" asked the society reporter in surprise. "They aren't very prominent people."

"That may be," he replied, "but this is the first account of a wedding you have turned in for ages that hasn't had as a last line, 'They will reside with the bride's parents.'"

BLISS

I think there can be few, who more truly feel than I, that this is a world of bliss, of beauty; that is, that bliss and beauty are the end, the tendency of creation; and evils are the shadows that are only the conditions of life in the picture.—George Elliot.

JUSTICE

What asks our Father of His children, says Justice, and Mercy, and Humility, A reasonable service of good deeds, Pure living, tenderness to human needs, and trust and prayer for light to see Thine Master's footprints in our daily ways? —Whittier.

I Ask

I do not ask for life's most costly things,
Nor scramble for the jewels fortune brings,
Nor yearn for painted hours of futile ease,
Nor yet for fame far-fung from sea to sea;

I only ask for mine a blue-gold day,
The dear enchantment of a woodland way,
My own a kingdom fair and azure-rimmed,
A day with autumn magic overbrimmed,
And just we two—my high-bred horse and I
Skimming the plain and clearing the hedges high,

Within our veins an exultation rare,
A wild exuberance beyond compare;
O, Destiny, one promise I would ask,
When all is done, each homely earthly task,
When I tread in lone years the sunset trail,
With weary, earth-worn feet, and eyes that fall,
In heaven's vastness may I find a stall,
And know my comrade, dear, awaits my call.

—Gertrude E. Forth, in Our Dumb Animals.

Tongue Twisters

It's always fun to try saying new tongue-twisters, isn't it? Then, of course, you can laugh at your friends later when they try to say them. Here are some good ones:

"Grace Green gazed at the grey geese!"
"A blue hue drew Hugh to the yew!"

Seven shrews slithered slowly through the shrubs.
Three faithful thrifty friends fluttered freely through the thatch.

INFLUENZA

It is difficult to estimate the influence upon a life of the early formed habit of doing everything to a finish, not leaving it half done, or pretty nearly done, but completely done. Nature completes every little leaf, even every little rib, its edges and stem, as exactly and perfectly as though it were the only leaf to be made that year.—Orison Swett Marden.

ETERNITY

We exist in eternity. Dissolve the body and the night is gone; the stars are extinguished and we measure duration by the number of our thoughts, the activity of reason, the discovery of truths, the acquirement of virtue, the approach of God.—Mary Emerson.

"Doctor," said the patient, "if there's anything the matter with me, don't frighten me to death by giving it a long scientific name, but just tell me what it is in plain English." The doctor examined the man thoroughly and then said: "Well, to be quite frank, there's nothing the matter with you. I should say you were just lazy." The patient looked rather discomfited, and said: "Now give me the scientific name for it—the longest name you've got. I've got to report to my employer."
