TRAVERSTON

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McFadden of Orange Valley spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Staples and daughter, Eileen, of Edge Hill spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Timmins.

Mrs. R. T. Cook left by train on Saturday to spend a week with her sister and father in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Carson of Pricerville spent last Thursday with Mrs. William Timmins.

Mr. Ted Morice of Varney has been assisting Mr. Oren Peart to put up a big pile of poles which they cut into wood with a circular saw last Thursday.

Miss Rebecca Banks spent a few days last week with Mrs. Richard Banks of Edge Hill.

Mrs. R. T. Edwards and daughter, Mina, and Dr. Royden Burnett of Durham, motored to Stratford the first of the week to visit W. H. Edwards, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in the General Hospital there on Friday. The patient is doing fairly well under the care of Dr. Greaves and two special nurses. Will had suffered an attack of influenza three days previous to the operation, hence was in rather a weakened condition and it is not expected that he will be able to leave the hospital for a few weeks.

On March 1st, 1933, at 1.30 p.m., a marriage of interest was solemnized by Rev. W. C. Almaack, at Queen St. parsonage, when Alberta Pearl, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McNally, and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McNally, was united in wedlock to Mr. Frederick George Cook. The bride looked charming in her white crepe gown trimmed with radium lace and having hose and shoes to match. Her travelling costume consisted of a light navy crepe dress and dark navy coat trimmed with black seal collar and cuffs and other accessories to correspond. Bertha is one of Traverston's fairest maidens; a talented housekeeper and an excellent helper in church and community work. Fred is an industrious lad and has had a good training in farming, having had several years' experience with some of our best farmers in Glenelg. He also has a mechanical turn which enables him to take charge of sawing outfits and remodel Ford cars. The young couple will commence farming on the former McIntyre farm near Glenelg Centre after enjoying a week's trip among friends at Schomberg and Toronto. Miss Clara Greenwood and Mr. Thos. McNally, brother of the bride, were the witnesses. The groom presented the bride with a lovely cabinet of flat silverware. The best wishes of the neighbourhood go with the young couple as they commence home-making.

Congratulations are extended to Miss Mary Thompson and Mr. Roy Trafford, who were married at Ripley on Saturday.

Mr. Harold Banks has returned from Proton after spending a couple of months among friends.

We wish Miss Naomi Colgan the best of success in her contest.

EUGENIA

The Late Mrs. Frederick
In 1873, in Allenwick township, Northumberland county, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Whitby, a daughter, Annie. While quite a little girl Annie, with her parents, came to this locality to reside. Here she spent many of her girlhood days. Later the family moved to the United States where Annie married Mr. Frederick and settled in Seattle. She had a warm, lovable disposition which won for her many friends here. That bond of friendship she now broken for on Feb. 16th she passed on to be with Jesus in the Home of the Blest; but death cannot sever the chain of love and remembrance. About two weeks previous to her death she contracted pneumonia which in the end proved fatal.

The deceased had visited here on several occasions since her removal to the States. Her last visit here was six years ago. At the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lawlor (nee Miss Maude Carr) she was Mrs. Lawlor's chief attendant, and they had kept up a correspondence for many years since. Mrs. Robt. Purman and Mrs. John Williams of this village are aunts of Mrs. Frederick and Mr. Jim Linton of Wareham is an uncle.

The late Mrs. Frederick was a very loving and dutiful daughter to her widowed mother who resides at Tacoma. Her kind acts will never be forgotten by many, especially her cousin, Miss Gladys Williams, who deeply mourns her demise.

She leaves in sad bereavement her sorrowing husband and two sons in Seattle, her mother, three sisters and three brothers, all living in the States. We extend our sympathy to the sorrowing relatives.

"Friend after friend departs;
Who hath not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts
That hath not here an end."

Mrs. J. E. Large and daughter, Miss Beth, of Niagara Falls are visiting the former's father, Mr. F. Munshaw, and her son Jack, who is here.
