Where Walls Have Ears

La Corona di Ferro is the name of an Italian hotel-restaurant in a street near the water front of Nice, for years patronized by Italian workmen who periodically cross and recross the Franco-Italian frontier via the Riviera. Now it is rumored that its walls actually have ears—so many arrests have recently been made there of workmen who turned out to be spies employed by a "certain foreign government."

What seems to make the legend an actuality is the fact that when the arrested men are examined separately and then confronted with one another by the Nice examining magistrate, they are not asked to repeat their conversation at La Corona di Ferro, but are informed what their conversation was and are then cross-questioned on it. The answers to these cross-questions are then compared, with disastrous results when they are confronted, which usually ends in a series of mutual accusations.

So it was with Prantesi, Morucci and Umberto, who were recently arrested at La Corona di Ferro. Because they hailed from the quarries of Massacarra, they had no difficulty in finding employment as masons in the new French fortifications being erected at Flautos, in the Alpes Maritimes Department. At the restaurant they confessed later that their conversation had been carried on in whispers. Nevertheless, Prantesi was told that he had boasted of placing blue prints of certain parts of the fortification in his son's school books. Morucci that he had written out reports with invisible ink on the clean white shirt he was wearing, and Umberto that he had performed a similar feat in regard to the fortifications in the Lauter section, where he had been employed before going to Flautos—all of which proved to be correct upon examination.

As the men were arrested at the end of their "whispered conversation, their mystification naturally served to confirm the legend of the walls with ears—microphonic ears.

Customs Officials Find Bridal Party a Sham

BELGRADE.—The customs officials in the frontier village of Futek stopped a bridal party which was crossing the frontier in a peasant's cart and requested the occupants to dismount for the cart to be searched. Without further explanation the "bride" jumped to the ground and opened fire on the customs officials with a revolver in an endeavor to cover the escape of the remainder of the party.

Search revealed 400 kilograms of tobacco which the false bridal party was endeavoring to smuggle out. They had made only one mistake which had aroused the suspicion of the customs officials in selecting Lent as the season for their sham bridal party. In this strictly religious district a wedding in Lent is unthinkable. The smugglers were all arrested.

When all is done and said, in the end thus you shall find, He most of all doth bathe in bliss, That hath a quiet mind.—Thomas Vaux.

ARM NUMB WITH RHEUMATISM

Woman's Thanks to Kruschen
"I have been suffering from rheumatism for years. At one time I could scarcely walk with pains in my feet. The thumb of my left hand was so stiff I could only bend it with the aid of the right hand. I was afraid to go to bed, as my right hand and arm up to the elbow used to go numb, and the pain was just terrible until I got the circulation going again. I started to take a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast, and believe me I feel a different woman. I tell everyone what I take, and the good it has done me."—(Mrs. W. A. B.)

Kruschen contains six mineral salts which tone up the liver, kidneys and stomach—and keep them working smoothly and efficiently. The reward of this internal cleanliness is a freshened and invigorated blood-stream. Poisonous uric acid is expelled through the natural channels, and the pains of rheumatism cease. And as you continue with Kruschen, your whole being—body and brain—responds to its purifying force.

Portugal Extends Censorship

Lisbon.—The General Assembly of Press Censorship instituted by the military government in order to prevent the use of the press against the realization of the government's program of national reconstruction, republican institutions and the tranquility of the nation, has announced that unwholesome doctrines and ideas conducive to criminal acts, publicity of murders and other crimes must be reduced to the minimum required for the informative functions of the press.

The first vegetables to be sown are usually those grown for their leaves, like spinach, cress, mustard and lettuce. One can sow the first of these just as soon as the ground is ready, and can continue sowing them in intervals of a week for about a month. This will give a much longer season and a succession of very necessary vitamins at a time when people are just getting over the effects of a long diet of starchy, stored foods or insipid, imported Southern stuff. In all of these the new varieties which will keep the table supplied with greens right into July. With the first of these early, leafy vegetables should go in the first sowing of peas. The best and largest crops of peas come from the early planted seed. This vegetable will stand considerable frost, and a snowfall after planting should not be viewed with alarm but as a good omen. The early varieties will begin to bear in forty-five days.

At this time, too, should be put in the first sowing of radish. A week or two later get in the second sowing of the leafy vegetables and more radish, the main sowing of peas, which should include at least one late, one medium and one early variety, so that the season is prolonged to its maximum, the first of the beet and carrots and half of the early potatoes. It is good business at this period to risk a row or two of corn and beans. If a late frost catches them it is a small loss any way. In the third planting group will come cabbage and cauliflower, which should not go out until danger from frost is past, and a little later when the soil really warms up plant melons, cucumbers and celery.

Materials For Paths
A well planned path usually adds to the appearance of any garden. Curves are advisable, but unless there is an obvious reason such as a corner of a building or fence, one should be supplied by planting a tree or clump of shrubbery. A path curving under some covered trellis and leading up to a new vista of the lawn with the flowers behind is very effective. Several materials can be used. Flat limestone laid irregularly are probably the best, though gravel, cinders, brick, or, if the traffic is not too heavy, a grass passageway between flower beds

Belgian Auto Tax Hit

Brussels.—The Antwerp Matin prints an article attacking the Belgian Government for its short-sighted policy in putting a high duty on imported automobiles. Home industries will be protected, says the paper, but there is a risk of the big American concerns that import motors and build their bodies in Antwerp deciding to leave Belgium for some country where they are not so highly taxed. Several thousand Belgians are employed in connection with this trade and most of the accessories are purchased in this country.

That fruit in transit from the West Indies to northern climes has to record a normal temperature before being discharged as healthy? The normal temperature of oranges and grapefruit in transit is 43 deg.; bananas 54 deg.; and human beings 98 deg. The photograph shows an officer of a Canadian National Steamship taking the temperature of an orange while the boat's nurse looks on. The thermometer is driven deep into the heart of the fruit.

THAT ALL-TIRED-OUT FEELING IN SPRING CAN BE BANISHED

Actual Authentic Blood Tests Prove That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Will Correct Conditions Underlying Lassitude

There is a definite medical reason for that Springtime "all-tired-out feeling." Winter living conditions have thinned and devalued your blood stream. A blood test would probably show that it isn't carrying the amount of oxygen—Nature's great vitalizer—required by the body tissues. Your blood is deficient in haemoglobin, the vital element which carries oxygen through the system. That is why you are languid, listless, and easily fatigued. This condition can be quickly made right. Actual tests recently directed by a reputable physician definitely proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills greatly increase the haemoglobin and the red corpuscles in the blood stream—which is your life stream—and thereby revitalize the whole system. Patients of both sexes—whose names and complete records are on file—were given a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills under the physician's supervision, and actual blood tests were taken by him. In his words, "The improvement was nothing short of remarkable." Every patient showed splendid increases in haemoglobin, some over 20 per cent. The real significance of the restorative effects of this world-famous remedy is seen when it is stated that the symptoms of these patients ranged from slightly "under-par" conditions to those indicating a serious anemia. The results of this blood test confirm the testimony of literally thousands of men, women and youths in 72 different countries that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by oxygenizing the blood stream, have positively relieved anemic, rundown conditions, under-nourished nervous systems, habitual tiredness and rheumatic sufferings. With the haemoglobin content and red corpuscles of the blood stream restored to normal, tiredness gives way to a feeling of renewed strength. Nervous irritability vanishes. Appetite is sharpened and digestion is stimulated. New energy and new vitality are experienced. If you tire easily, lack ambition to do your work, have poor color and perhaps experience heart palpitation and dizziness—don't drag along any longer without doing anything about your condition. Before it gets any worse, start right away on a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have a record of 40 years as a standard preparation for rundown, anemic conditions in people of all ages. They will bring you the new strength and vigor you crave. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are 50 cents a package—and your druggist has them.

Mrs. Dinks—"What I say never seems to bear any fruit."
Mr. Dinks—"It might if you pruned a bit."

The Inspector visiting a country school was asking the children questions. After a while he said to the class: "Now, I want one of you to ask me a question I can't answer."

"After a few vain attempts, a small boy said: "Please, sir, if you were stuck in a pool of mud up to your neck and a brick was thrown at your head, would you duck?"
He—"What kind of shoes do you think I ought to wear with these hose?"
She—"Hip boots."

Art of "Duffing"
A Pawnbroker
"Duffing" the pawnbroker cost Henry Morton Penman $15 fine and costs in the Salford Police Court, England, "duffing" being the word pawnbrokers use for giving a false name and address, says the Canadian Press. The accused pleaded guilty to two charges of giving a false name and address to two pawnbrokers when pledging rings. It was stated in court that the rings were specially made for pawning purposes, having a worthless stone in a good setting to deceive people not jewelry experts.
