Smokeless Chimneys.

Two more tall chimners have ap peared on London's sky line, but they will never smole. This is not to some sad story of economic conditions, for the new Batterses Power Station, to which they belong will be a veritable hire of happy ac tivity. But it is a feature of this power plant that all the fumes from the three great 100,000 horsepower turbo-alternators will be washed away by the successful smoke eliminating Those skeptical folk who hesitated to believe that such a gigantic plant would not pollute the air have been invited by the engineers to place their faces over the aperture at the top of the chimners, to demonstrate

The elite were then accustomed to drive in the parks in barouches with a Dal matian running behind between the yellow wheels. Now the se dogs have suddenly become fashionable again. The demand for them, however, is said to be at present greater than the supply, so that waiting lists have had to be instituted in some cases. Some people in London are even be lieved to be considering ordering yellow-wheeled barouches early in case there should be a rush on them in the near future.

Women Should Make Diet a Study

Relationship of Various Foods to One Another Essential to a Balanced Diet-Incompatible Diet Dangerous to Health

Scientists tells there is no such thing as hereditary diseases—that weaknesses and tendencies may be inherited, but not the diseases themselves.

Children born of parents afflicted with tuberculosis are almost sure to be flat-chested, and parents suffering from some digestive disease or ailment are likely to pass on to their off-spring the weakness or tendency to the same condition.

No one will argue that a flat chest annot be corrected by remedial exercises, deep breathing and fresh air, and we rather think that everyone will admit that a tendency towards poor digestion can be remedied by proper mastication and a sound diet. ided by regular exercises of the ablominal regions.

The only cure for bad mastication is sound teeth, either real or arti-ficial, and the regular habit of masicating one's food completely. With regard to exercising the ablominal organs everyone should do that whether they are in apparent good health or not, because regular exercise of all the muscles of the body s essential to the best of health. The value of the daily dozen or some form of recreational sport daily is no myth, ecause one has only to try it to feel As to diet this is a subject which should engage the earnest study of

Accident Frequency Shown by Statistics

Increase Shown in 1931 Re port of Dominion Bureau

Toronto.-There is not yet in Can ada a comprehensive system of report ing and compiling motor vehicle acc dents, although the provinces are one by one requiring motorists to report all accidents and possibly in the near future the laws in all the provinces will be more or less the same in thi respect. The vital statistics collected by the Dominion Bureau of Statistice however are complete for fata accidents.

The deaths are recorded in the place in which they occur. Thus an accident may happen in one province and the victim may die in anothe province: the number of such cases would be small, but for cities undoubtedly many of the fatalities are due to accidents on rural highways and the victims are brought into the cities and recorded from there. sequently city statistics should be construed to include the surroundin country.

During 1931, despite the lighter mo tor travel as revealed by the gaso line consumption, the number of per sons killed in motor vehicle accidents increased to 1.314 as compared with 1.290 in 1930. The increases were not in the summer months when travel is heaviest, but in the winter months. January showing an increase from 30 to 54, and February an in-crease from 31 to 52. March, October, November and December also showed increases.

The largest number of deaths from motor vehicle accidents was reported from Montreal (143), which was an increase over 1930 of 7, or 5 per cent. but was less than the high record made in 1929 with 151 deaths.
