Saturday night, October 27th, will mark the climax of six and one-half weeks' hard work in The Markdale Standard's Big Subscription Drive. Promptly at eight p.m. the campaign comes to its official close and the Judges (selected at the outset of the drive) will assemble at The Bank of Toronto to check the final week's reports and determine the position of each candidate in the final results.

With several workers in a position to win the coveted Chevrolet Coach, offered as first prize in the competition, a hot fight is in prospect before the Capital Award is made this Saturday night. Just who will emerge winner in this gruelling affair will remain in doubt until the very last moment. In the meanwhile leading candidates are surely making every minute count and the winner of the Chevrolet will most certainly deserve the applause of this trade territory.

While the vote schedule has been reduced to its lowest point—and no extension subscription credits are allowed—there are still many credits to be gained on the longer term subscriptions. A Ten-year Subscription, for example, will earn 60,000 REGULAR CREDITS and 50,000 CLUB VOTES or a total of 110,000 VOTES. Ten such subscriptions earn over a million votes which might easily spell the difference between winning the Chevrolet Coach or a prize worth five or six hundred dollars less!

The race is nearly over—the finish is just ahead! WILL YOU make the most of YOUR OPPORTUNITY to win this week or will you work half-heartedly and see victory wrested from your grasp? It is squarely up to you now. There can be no substitute for results this week!

Saturday night will tell the story, and, MAY THE BEST CANDIDATE WIN!!!!

Live Stock Market

Supplies of cattle have been liberal for the early markets this week, comprising over 1200 cattle from Western Canada, which were mostly of the sticker and feeder class. There was a scarcity of well finished cattle for which there was a keen demand. Best heavy steers sold mostly at from 4½ to 5½, while those of medium quality sold downward to 3½. In the butcher section, there has been considerable activity for baby beefs, best kind selling from 6 to 7 cents. Choice butcher steers brought from 3 to 4½, fair to good from 3 to 3½. There was a wide range in values of unfinished cattle, some of the very common steers selling as low as from 1½ to 1¾. The feature of the market this week, has been in the strong enquiry shown for stockers and feeders, which are selling from 16 to 15 cents higher than a week ago. Stockers and feeders of selected quality are making from 2½ to 3½, with a few of the best feeders up to 3½. All classes of cows held steady, choice kind from 2½ to 2½, others lower according to quality. Best milk cows made from $40 to $45 each.

The lamb market has held firm, best ewes selling at from 6¼ to 6-40. The latter price for lambs weighed off-ears. Bucks and heavies were discounted generally $1.00 per cwt. The sheep trade was a little easier, the bulk of the best Hgini sheep bringing from 2¼ to 2½. Choice veal calves have been in strong demand from 6½ to 7½, fair to good from 5½ to 6½. Heavy calves very slow at from 2½ to 3½.

Hogs have again advanced in price, showing a gain on each of the first two days of this week's trading. Sales were made on the basis of $7.75 to $8.10. Reports from Old Country markets have been more encouraging, and local supplies light for this time of the year, thus assisting in advancing prices on the market here to a point of over $2 per hundred compared to a year ago.

Anniversary Services

Annesley United Church celebrated anniversary services last Sunday with Rev. A. R. Huband of Chesley as the guest speaker. His message in the morning was woven around the scriptural verse in Psalms, "How can I sing the Lord's song in a strange land?" The obstacles we face in attempting to do this were outlined very forcibly. Faith in the future was emphasized by the predictions of various outstanding men in the past that the world was on the verge of chaos. All these predictions came to naught. The evening topic was "The Everlasting of God." These were namely, democracy, prayer, the church and the word of God. Voltaire predicted that the Bible would be almost unknown fifty years hence. But in reality the termination of that period saw the works of Voltaire read by only a few, while the Bible had become more widely known. The speaker impressed his listeners with the lines "Hammer away ye hostile hands, your hammers break, God's anvil stands." Special music was supplied by the choir under the capable direction of Mr. John Dundas, organist and choir leader.

Monday evening a goose dinner was served at the church to one of the largest crowds ever attending such a function in the Annesley Church. The attendance was beyond all expectations. Over one hundred dollars was the clear profit after all expenses were paid. A varied program followed the sumptuous dinner, the church being filled to the doors. Many numbers were furnished by local talent. Mrs. Cecil Johnston and little daughter, Betty Lou of Meaford favored the audience with several musical selections and readings which were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. A. C. Gardner accompanied Mrs. Johnston in her songs. All in all this year's anniversary proved to be one of the most successful held for many years.

Frances - Hampson

The marriage of Doris Leona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hampson of Toronto and Mr. Howard Frances, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frances of Ochre River, Manitoba, took place Wednesday, Oct. 17th, at 7 o'clock p.m. at Knox Presbyterian Church with Rev. J. G. Inkster performing the ceremony.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late Mr. Abraham Scott and Mrs. Scott of Owen Sound, and a great, great granddaughter of the first Mr. and Mrs. Lyons who settled on the old homestead at Harkaway where Mr. Alfred Lyons now lives.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of traditional satin, with a long train of lace falling from the shoulders. Her veil of white embroidered net was bound to a coronet with pearls, lily of the valley and orange blossom. She carried calla lilies, and wore a silver mesh collar with earrings to match, the gift of the groom.

Little Miss Billie Lou Mulveeey carried the bride's train and wore pink chiffon. Miss Verna Hampson, bridesmaid, wore a gown of pink tulle, embroidered with gold and carried golden mums. The bridesmaid wore a pendant set with chipped diamonds, the gift of the groom.

Little Misses Beryl and Bernice Armstrong, twin cousins of the groom, wore flower girls and during the signing of the register sang "At Dawning". They were dressed in shell pink satin that reached to the floor and carried small baskets of golden mums.

The best man was Mr. Joe Whitaker. The members of the Toronto Centennial Pioneer Drill Corps L.O.L. No. 800, were present in full uniform and regalia. The eighteen men belonging to the Drill Corps acted as Ushers and as the bride and groom left the church the Drill Corps formed The Guard of Honour with their axes for the bride and groom to walk under. One uniform worn by a member of the Drill Corps was fifty years old.

At the wedding reception Mr. and Mrs. Hampson received with Mr. Tom Brown, uncle of the groom. Mrs. Hampson wore a gown of Royal blue satin.

There were about 170 guests sat down to the wedding supper and among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lyons and daughter. After the wedding party Mr. and Mrs. Frances left on a trip by motor to the north. The bride travelled in a navy blue ensemble with accessories to match. On their return they will reside on Lauder Avenue, Toronto.

Grey Presbyterial W. M.S. Met at Hopeville

The Grey Presbyterial W.M.S. of the United Church of Canada held a sectional all-day meeting at Hopeville on October 19th, with a splendid attendance, many coming from a distance. Several officers of the Toronto Conference Branch were the speakers for the day. Mrs. B. D. Pearson, Press Correspondent, spoke on the influence of the Press, the Missionary Monthly and Society Literature in this extensive work. Mrs. Baillie gave a talk on Temperance and the growing need of education along this line. Mrs. E. R. Young, President, and Mrs. J. H. Dewar, Vice-President, conducted the Question Drawer and The Quiet Time. A delicious luncheon was served by the ladies of the Hopeville Society.

The afternoon session was most interesting. Mrs. Young spoke in detail of the fine work being done in the northern and outlying parts of the Province, by the faithful representatives of the society. Mrs. Stewart Cooper of Markdale sang a solo, "An Evening Prayer." Mrs. Oliver gave an address on the Kingdom of God Movement, stressing the importance of creating a taste and an appetite for the best things in life. She likened our lives to a musician, stating that we can't play upon (influence) the lives of others, unless we are trained.

Mrs. E. C. Murray of Flesherston, District President, spoke very touchingly upon the interest and co-operation she has received in her work. She asked everyone to think what that particular day had brought them, by which their lives would become more worthwhile. The importance of the Baby Bands was mentioned as a means of drawing the mothers and their children into the church. Mrs. Murray closed her inspiring talk with the belief that the Kingdom of God on earth will come only through the work and influence of each and every individual.

Mrs. W. J. Scott of Flesherston acted as chairman for the occasion and warmly welcomed all the guests, graciously thanking the speakers for their helpful messages.

Excellent Address

A splendid attendance was present at the meeting in Reburn's Hall on Tuesday evening for the address and corresponding pictures on "The War against Cancer" given by Dr. J. W. McCullough, Chief Inspector of Health for Ontario. Valuable information regarding the recognition and treatment of cancer and the imperative necessity for fear in delay was most capably outlined by the speaker. In another page of this issue will be found in detail, the address of Dr. McCullough—an address which should be carefully read by everyone and kept for perusal and reference.

AN OPEN LETTER TO CANDIDATES

It has been a real pleasure to work with the ambitious and energetic candidates in The Markdale Standard's subscription campaign, now in its final stages, and, which comes to an official close this Saturday night at eight o'clock.

All have shown a commendable spirit of sportsmanship and of fair play. Their work has been an accomplishment to feel proud of, and we feel that the salesmanship experience gained during these few weeks will prove of untold value in the years to come.

The race will soon be over. To the winners: Congratulations! To those who go down in defeat, we can truthfully say they have fought a good fight, and, special commendations are due those who are 'game' to the end.

We are only sorry that an automobile could not be awarded to each candidate but to do so, of course, would be impossible.

My association with The Standard's publishers, the business men of Markdale, and the public at large, have been very pleasant indeed. My stay in Markdale has been so pleasant that it will be with genuine regret that I leave next week.

Sincerely yours,
Bayne A. Morley,
Campaign Manager

Mrs. A. M. Bradford

The death of Ida Amelia Bradford, wife of Arnold M. Bradford, occurred at the Armstrong Hospital on Saturday, October 13th, 1934, after a long illness.

The funeral was held from the Zion United Church, Armstrong, B.C., on Tuesday, October 16th, 1934, at 2 o'clock. Rev. S. T. Galbraith, assisted by Rev. Tatham, officiated.

Mrs. Bradford came to the Markdale district while it was still known as Cornabus. She came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stevens, in 1865. The family went to Manitoba in the '90's and Mrs. Bradford lived in Manitoba until she moved to British Columbia in 1925. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband and daughter, Mrs. J. T. Niblock of Kelowna, B.C., and three grandchildren. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Johnson McLoughry, of Moosomin, Sask., and two brothers, Rev. F. G. Stevens of Kooistak, Man., and W. J. Stevens of Kelowna, B.C.

James Brown

Mr. James Brown, one of the old and highly esteemed residents of Euphrasia, passed away on Wednesday following a brief illness. He was in town on Monday and was, apparently, in his usual health. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from the home of his son, Mr. Robt. Brown, to Ebenezer church cemetery. Service in the church at 2.30 o'clock. The late Mr. Brown was in his 80th year and is survived by a grown-up family.

PAID TRIBUTE TO LATE INSPECTOR

At the convention of the teachers of South Grey held here on October 11th and 12th the following resolution was moved, seconded and adopted unanimously by a standing vote, after which the teachers paid tribute to their late Inspector, Mr. Robt. Wright by observing a two minute silence with bowed heads.

"That we, the teachers of South Grey in convention assembled at Markdale desire to express our appreciation of the splendid work carried on in this Inspectorate by the late Robert Wright, B.A., who was in charge here for the last seventeen years, and our great regret on hearing of his death in June last.

That the Inspectorate is now one of the best in Ontario, and that the pupils from the various schools have been eminently successful in many walks of life, are due to the indefatigable labours of Mr. Wright and in his death we feel that the Department of Education has lost a thoroughly capable and efficient official, the teachers a tried and trusted advisor, the county an Inspector whose judgment was clear and wise, the community a citizen who was honoured and respected and all of us a tried, trusted and sympathetic friend.

Be it also resolved that this resolution be transcribed into the minutes of the Convention and that a copy be sent Mrs. Wright and to each of the local papers."

Sunday Shooters Fined

The game warden, Mr. A. L. Rolston of Owen Sound, has had a busy time during the past two weeks keeping a line on the hunters in the Warton district, to see that the game laws are observed, with the result that four Sunday hunters were fined $10.00 each.

Worthy Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding Quietly

MR. AND MRS. E. S. RUTLEDGE, FORMER RESIDENTS, MARRIED FIFTY YEARS AGO

Fifty years ago today Edward S. Rutledge and Anna J. Thibauden formed a partnership which still subsists and they with their children and grandchildren quietly are celebrating this golden wedding.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge still are in the enjoyment of good health and are assuming the same responsibilities and attending to the same daily tasks that they did when they started out half a century ago.

To Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge were born four children: Mrs. Edna Waite, widow, who has been accountant in her father's office for several years; Mrs. Mona Pelletier of North Bay; Lieut. Stanley Rutledge, who fell in the war, and Lieut. Wilfred Rutledge, aviator, now issuer of motor vehicle licenses in Fort William.

Stanley had his bachelor of arts degree and was ready to be called to the bar when the high call came which he answered with his life. It was the opinion of his hundreds of friends at the head of the lakes that Stanley would go far in his chosen profession and in politics, but the fates decreed otherwise. His book, "Pen Pictures from the Trenches," has been read with interest and well revealed his divining mind. Lieut. Wilfred, too, had a fine war record. He was overseas more than five years.

Their home has been saddened again three months ago, with the death of their granddaughter, Lorna M. Waite. She had passed her normal and was ready to teach.

Born in Grey County Both Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge were born in the county of Grey and their village was Markdale. They belonged to neighboring families. They grew up together, attended the same schools where an attachment was formed that ended in life's partnership. They were married by Rev. Wesley Casson, father of the noted writer, Herbert N. Casson. The attendants were A. E. Rutledge and the late Elizabeth Tucker, a sister of Mrs. Rutledge.

The lure of the west drew Mr. Rutledge away from the farm and during the summer of 1883 he worked on the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway on the Maple Creek section, returning for the winter to his old home. Then, in the spring of 1884, he came up the lakes to Prince Arthur's landing to find much activity in railway construction and in silver mining.

Just 50 years ago last June he arrived at the Town Plot, as Westfort then was called. There he met the late Allan McDougall from his home town who was in business in the pioneer village. In the spring of 1885, E.S. and his brother Albert bought out the McDougall store. They continued in business until 1889 when E.S. built a two-story brick store just opposite the Alexandra hotel on Gore street where he continued in the grocery business until 1891. Meanwhile Albert had formed a partnership in the clothing line under the firm name of Rutledge and Hammond, later being the senior partner of the pioneer firm of Rutledge and Jackson.

Civic Position Late in 1891 E. S. was appointed clerk of the municipality and saw Fort William incorporated as a town in 1892. He continued to hold this office until the year 1900 and for the last four years also was treasurer of the town. Mr. Rutledge then went into the insurance business in which he still continues while Alex. McNaughton who succeeded him as city clerk still occupies that office.

Mr. Rutledge had a penchant for the civic arena and his municipal activities only had begun for he has the record of holding more offices in the government of the city, clerical and administrative, than any other man. Included in the list are terms as mayor, chairman of the water commission and president of the Chamber of Commerce. He was mayor of Fort William in an important period in the life of the city and presided at such functions as the turning on of the Kam power and the turning of the first sod of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. During his regime the Lock Lomond waterworks system also was started.

Student of Affairs Mr. Rutledge has been a close student of civics here and elsewhere and has given the results of his studies and observations in many letters to the Times-Journal. Form of government and town planning have been his chief inspiration but so far the city has not answered his call for these reforms. He also has contributed a number of briefs on the economic situation which have been read with interest.

Mrs. Rutledge has been a noble helpmate in this union and has excelled in the home circle. Her good sense and aptitude in the care and proper nourishment of her young family always has been manifest and their fine health record is the result. She belonged to a family that were fine students at school and was able and delighted to assist her children in their studies. For one whole year the four children never missed a day at school or were late.

Mrs. Rutledge was quite active in the church circle at Westfort, also a charter member of the Women's Canadian Club.

Mr. Rutledge belongs to a family that has an enviable record for health. He is the oldest of ten and with the exception of the death of a brother from croup in 1873 there was no other death until the passing of T. W. Rutledge last year, a lapse of 60 years.

Blessing their autumnal years are eight grandchildren.—Fort William Daily Times-Journal, Oct. 15th, 1934.
