NEW ENGLAND W. I.

The New England branch of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. L. K. Clark on Thursday afternoon last. The inclement weather prevented some from being present, however, there was a good representation of the members and some children and visitors present. The meeting opened in the usual way after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved of. Laid over business was then attended to. The ladies decided to hold their annual fowl supper in the basement of the church on the night of Thanksgiving, October 24th, also a Halloween masquerade to be held in the Wodehouse school house on the evening of November 1st. Pies, only, are to be brought by the ladies and auctioned off by the appointed auctioneer, Mr. Dunn Lee. A box of chocolates was passed around among the ladies and enjoyed by all, these were a much appreciated treat from Mr. Joe Boyd. Many thanks Mr. Boyd, call again. The tontine proposition re consulting with the local doctors was called off for the present. A very interesting report of the Ravenna Institute Rally was given by Mrs. G. W. Lawson and enjoyed and appreciation was shown by a hearty clap from all. A little sing song helped to brighten up the doings of the afternoon. Anyone wishing to bring a basket and join in with the Institute in their fowl supper will be welcome to do so. The meeting closed in the usual way and lunch was served by the ladies.

The New England Women's Institute also had in store a surprise for Mrs. Gordon Wyvill as follows:

Dear Hazel:

We, the members of the New England Women's Institute, wish to take this opportunity of extending to you and Gordon our heartiest congratulations and best wishes upon the occasion of your recent marriage. We regret that you will no longer be living in our midst, as we all cherish memories of many happy times spent with you. We appreciate the help which was always so read-ly given and which we shall surely miss from now on. We ask you, as a slight token of our esteem for you, to accept this serring tray and may it always remind you of the kindly associations with the Institute, and where you will always be made very welcome should you care to visit us.

Mrs. James Willey read the address and Mrs. C. Risk presented the gift.

The bride, who was one of New England's beloved and popular young ladies, will be missed as she was always ready and willing to do her bit in the interests of the community activities. We wish her and her partner in life every success and happiness as they journey along together.
