The New School

Since the destruction by fire of the fine brick school building here last November, the staff of teachers have labored under many disadvantages and yet commendable progress has been made in the various departments. This state of affairs is certainly creditable to our principal Mr. Bright and his colleagues, Miss Ford and Miss Lucas. The new structure is the same size and dimensions as the former one but is considered decidedly superior in many respects. Mr. Whitten, the contractor, carried out his agreement most satisfactorily. Mr. W. G. Richards was sub-contractor for the wood, mechanics from Toronto did the brick, Mr. Joseph Gibson the plastering, Mr. J. J. Cherry the painting and J. E. Treford put in the furnaces. Mr. Forster of Owen Sound was the architect. The junior form took their place in the new school building on Monday and the other two will move next Monday.

Lauriston

Mr. John Bell and Mr. Kirby of Atlantic City are guests at Lauriston Hall before joining a hunting party in Muskoka.

Poultry Cream

The poultry season is at hand and we are looking for a good steady market for good quality birds, with prices better than last year.

So that the producer may obtain higher market prices, we advise you to well finish your poultry before marketing; then, bring them to us, live or dressed, for highest market prices.

We see a strong market with higher prices this coming winter and our advice would be to feed the cows well to keep up the flow of milk.

As to the marketing of your cream, there is no creamery that can give you any better results than the Markdale Creamery Company.
