C. R. Itic Undertakes to Fix Kitchen Clock

Dear Readers,—While I was kept in the house last week with a cold which developed as a result of my dip in the Saugeen river, the little woman suggested that I might clean the old kitchen clock which hasn't been running for the past two or three years. We went at the job on a co-operative plan, with the little woman as instructor and me doing the labor. We got the thing on its back on the kitchen table and with a screw driver and a pair of pliers, borrowed from Joe Richardson, I was able to pull it to pieces. As the several parts were removed the little woman fastened a piece of paper cut from a card-board box to each and numbered it in order to keep us right when we undertook to put it together again. After we had all the parts removed and the tags securely fastened to them with thread the little woman put a pot of water on the stove and got it boiling. I went down to Wally Graham's garage and got a quart of gasoline. When I returned home the water was boiling nicely and we dumped the works into the pot. We let them boil for several hours and then when the water was getting low we fished them out with the pliers and dropped them into the can of gasoline and then slushed them about in it for a while. After getting them out of the can we undertook to re-assemble the works but the boiling water had removed the numbers from the the cards and we couldn't remember which wheel went in first but after working for two or three hours that day we decided to leave the job over until the next day. We have been a busy man and a busy little woman ever since and on two or three occasions we have had it all together excepting for three or four little wheels for which we could find no places. We are still at the job and I am hoping that by the time you read this we will have solved the puzzle.

When I was in at Wally's for the gas he was telling me that he had taken the agency for the Frost and Wood farm implements and the little woman suggested when I told her that I might get a job with Wally putting the implements together for him. I'm going to see him just as soon as we get this blooming clock going again.

Don't fail to meet me at the big carnival at Rocklyn on Friday night. I am going out there to judge the costumes and I'll be glad to see my old friends there including Mike Foy and Bob Gardner. I expect to get Ken. Gemmel to drive me out in the snow car as he is going to enter for one of the awards, and he's pretty sure of getting first prize in his class when I am picking out the winners. I'll be seeing you at Rocklyn on Friday night.

Yours truly
C. R. ITIC

VANDELEUR W. I.

The Vandeleur W. I. met at the home of Mrs. S. Arrowsmith in Markdale on Feb. 27th. There was a nice attendance, but owing to the storm and bad condition of some of the roads not all the members were out. The roll call was answered by "My Neighbor's Talent". Music was supplied by the hostess. A contest, "Do you know your apples", was very interesting and was won by Mrs. Jack Taylor with Mrs. S. Arrowsmith scoring the booby prize. A comical skit was then given by Mrs. J. Dillon and Miss Jane Noble, which everyone enjoyed. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. P. J. Thompson and Mrs. F. W. Taylor, over which all enjoyed a social half hour. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Elliott.

50 YEARS AGO — March 4th, 1886

Local and Other Items

Mr. Wm. Speers of Tara has rented Montgomery's bakery and will open shortly.

Mr. Dundas has moved to his new premises on the corner of Mill and Queen Streets.

Mr. Wm. Jackson has not only become a resident of our town but has opened an extensive agency for the sale of farm and other implements. His warehouses are directly opposite The Standard Office.

Flesherton

On Wednesday evening last a large gathering of young people assembled at the residence of J. W. Armstrong Esq., the occasion of a farewell party given to our genial friend, Mr. John Bannon, druggist, who has made many friends since his coming to our midst. Mr. Bannon left on Saturday morning to pursue his studies in the School of Pharmacy, Toronto.

Mr. James Bryce of the 4th line, Artemesia, one of the old pioneers of this township, died very suddenly at his own place on Wednesday last. Interment took place in Salem cemetery.

Mr. James Brooks, having sold his lately erected dwelling and lots in connection therewith to Mr. Thos. Osborn, now contemplates buying again and at once commence operations on another new dwelling. This will be the third building for Mr. Brooks in his brief citizenship here. Miss Bertie Philp, daughter of the Rev. S. C. Philp, formerly of this circuit, is at present visiting with friends in the village.
