

NORTH GLENELG

Everyone is thinking seriously about beginning the sugar making these nice days.

The crokinole party on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Thos. Laughlin was a big success. Everyone enjoyed the games very much. The prizes being won by Mrs. Willie Ellison and Mr. Clarence Vaughan. The consolation prizes went to Mrs. Revel Boyce and Mr. Alf. Vaughan. A very dainty lunch was served after which a very enjoyable evening of singing was spent. The proceeds amounted to in the neighborhood of $6.00.

We extend our sympathy to the family of Mrs. Ellen MacArthur. Mrs. MacArthur was laid to rest on Thursday last in Durham cemetery beside her late husband, John MacArthur, who predeceased her some years ago. The deceased was highly thought of and much respected by her old friends and neighbors on the 10th concession of Glenelg.

C. R. Itic Misses Hockey Match Friday Night

Dear Readers.—I received another bad set-back on Friday night after I was all ready to assist the hockey boys in their game against Dundalk. I heard about it in the afternoon when I was down town. I went in to see Bill Armstrong about a new car and he told me about the game. I decided then and there that I was going to get into the game. Bill loaned me the old outfit he used when he played with the Warton aggregation. I got to the rink early and as usual they made me pay my way in. I slipped up the stairs to the big room to get my togs on and was ready when I heard the referee's bell. I slipped down the steps but when I got to the door I found that some person had fastened it on the other side. I tried the other steps and the door there too was locked. I spent most of the time the first period trying to attract the attention of some person to let me out but failed. I watched the second and third periods from the big window upstairs and after the game was over I was able to make Border hear me at the door. He let me out and I told him a thing or two about locking me in but he said he knew nothing about it. He was of the opinion that some of the Dundalk supporters saw me and fastened the door after I had gone in so that their team would be sure to beat our fellows. I guess he was right as I remembered seeing a couple of strangers eyeing me before I went upstairs. I'll be on the job for the game Monday night if I have to get ready at home.
