Town Wins Appeal in Water Case

His Honour Judge Morley gave decision on Friday in the appeal made by the village against the decision of Police Magistrate Spereiman in the Graham case, imposing a fine of $15.00 with an order that Graham pay $50.00 costs. The matter has been hanging fire for some time and the decision of Judge Morley places the village at an advantage for the present. A little more than a year ago the water supply of the village was pronounced to be unfit for use and immediately steps were taken to have the matter corrected. The filter bed was cleaned and a chlorine plant installed. At the same time action was taken against Mr. W. R. Graham of Glenelg, who it was claimed conducted a piggery on land through which the stream, from which the water supply is procured, flows and that the pigs had access to a smaller stream flowing into the larger stream before it reaches the intake. Police Magistrate Spereiman dismissed the action on the grounds that he had no jurisdiction in the matter. Since that time, on the advice of the Provincial Department of Health, sanitary control has been established on the land adjoining the stream and it was on this authority that the second case was entered against Graham. Police Magistrate Spereiman again dismissed the case, claiming that the village had failed to convince him that Mr. Graham had been guilty of a breach of the law. Appeal was entered and Judge Morley reheard some of the evidence and also heard the evidence of Dr. Berry of the Department of Health with the result as announced above. What the next move will be we are not in a position to say.

King Paving Company Now in Markdale

The workmen of the King Paving Company are engaged erecting their plant on the Walker farm, east of the railway, where they were located when the paving was done in the village. Already two large shovels are busy on the highway, one reducing the grade at the south end of Berkeley village and the other taking the top off Saugeen hill, north of the bridge. Markdale will be the home of the workmen during the next couple of months and the presence of so many laborers will add considerably to the volume of business transacted here.

The King Paving Company left a good reputation behind them when in this locality before and we have no doubt they will retain the goodwill of the people of the village and surrounding territory. They are among the best of the firms in the paving business.

Hitch-Hiking Girls Goes to See Boy Friend

(The Walkerton Herald-Times)

A tall, corpulent girl with hair as red as the Soviet flag and a shiner under each eye as dark as ink from the Black Sea, and which, with a broken nose and a swollen jaw, made her look like 'a nobody's darling' on parade as she breezed into town in shorts with a haversack on her back Sunday night, proved to be bent on the lovelorn mission of seeking her fiancé, one of the quartette of alleged bandits who is behind the prison bars in connection with the Warton beer warehouse safe episode.

Booze that has made more bums than a score of census sharps could enumerate in a year had apparently tempted her intended to surreptitiously seize some of its immense profits in an illegal way and he was now in the blink awaiting trial for the folly of his ways. But love laughs at locksmiths and knowing that her sweetie was in the place where the vocal hit is 'The Prison Song,' she was prepared to pay the price to get there. Facing the dangers of the road she was hitch-hiking from Toronto to Walkerton when two rough mugs are claimed to have assaulted her and beat her up after the manner of the one in Scripture whom the priest passed by on the other side. Certainly, her blackened eyes, broken nose and swollen jaw looked like the pair were out to get her goat. 'I have suffered,' was written all over her dial when she got here, and Chief Ferguson, on being accosted on the main street about 9.30 p.m., and asked by the maid if he could give her a place to flop for the night, his compassion was moved towards her and, taking her to a restaurant, he suggested that she wash down a pair of sandwiches with a cup of coffee. Later, on escorting her to the lock-up, he apologized for the hardness of the bench that was to be her cot for the night. Admitting that it was no bed of roses, but that it might have been worse if the nails had been pointed the other way, she unfolded a robe from her knapsack, and suggested that he lock the door as she didn't want to be disturbed for the night, no doubt having in mind the two bums who had so mugged her up coming here.

Flow gently, sweet Afton,
Disturb not her dreams.
Came dawn and just another day for Chief Ferguson. But it meant more to the maiden. She was to see her cutie when the jail opened at ten o'clock, and see him she did, and the special police on guard turned their heads for a moment during the greeting.

Having accomplished her mission here, she returned post haste to Toronto in order to be present Tuesday morning to press the charges against the pair of assaulting her and causing such grievous bodily harm as to darken her lamps and bust her beeper in the manner described above.

Exchange of Recipes in The Standard

So that the ladies of the village and district may have a chance to exchange recipes and receive new ones we are inviting each lady to send in to us her favorite recipe, which we will publish in The Standard. When a sufficient number has been published the recipes will be put into book form and each lady who has sent in one or more recipes will receive the book free. We would ask each lady to please sign her name and address to the recipe she sends in so that we may send her the book when completed.

Ontario is to Have Graded Butter

On and after September 1st, 1936, all package creamery butter sold to consumers in the Province of Ontario must have the grade of the butter clearly indicated on the wrapper in letters not less than one-quarter of an inch square. The grades are First Grade, Second Grade, Third Grade and No Grade. This means that, while stores may use a brand name, the grade must also be shown in accordance with Regulations 27 and 28 of the Dairy Industry Act of Canada.

Butter will be sold by grade for domestic use on and after September 1st in five of the Provinces of Canada, namely, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. It has been in effect in the Western Provinces for more than a year. At the last session of the Ontario Legislature the necessary legislation was passed making the Regulations of the Dairy Industry Act referred to applicable to the grading of creamery butter, sold in Ontario. This action followed the formal proclamation published in the Canada Gazette of August 1, fixing August 15 as the date the grading regulations shall become effective. In order, however, to give merchants an opportunity to clear any stock of package butter on hand and to enable them to become familiar with the new requirements, it has been decided by the Dominion Department of Agriculture not to take any action until after September 1.

The new measure means that consumers will merely have to look at the wrapper to know the quality of the butter offered for sale.

It is expected that in the course of time the four provinces in which creamery package butter is not sold by grade, will pass the necessary legislation and make these regulations effective.

About 25 per cent. of the creamery butter made in Canada last year, amounting to 238,854,600 pounds, was produced in Ontario.

"It may be cruel to tell you, but at the party last night your sister promised to become my wife. Will you forgive me for taking her away?" "Forgive you? Why, man that's what the party was for."

Mrs. Donald McLeod Laid to Rest

On Jan. 29, 1890 the deceased was married to Donald McLeod, son of Donald McLeod Sr. and Isabella McLean, taking up residence on the homestead when she resided until death. An active life spent on the farm with always a sympathetic interest in the rural activities of her district sponsored by a bright happy temperament; and endowed with a spirit of unselfishness, always so evident as a hostess endeared her to a multitude of friends. A lover of flowers she attained considerable success in the development of dahlias.

In failing health the past two years the nature of her affliction relieved the shock somewhat of the sudden termination of her final illness, being confined to her bed only two days.

Singing his text from 1st Corinthians, Chap. 15, verse 35, Mr. Miller gave an impressive discourse to the large gathering seated in the house and on the lawn.

The large concourse of relatives and friends present and the innumerable floral tributes, in each case many from distant points were mute evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The pallbearers were six nephews, namely: Messrs. Harold Stewart and Louis Thibaudau and Messrs. Vernon Dick and Donald Stewart.

Interment took place in Flesherton cemetery.

Owing to distance and lack of time, Western relatives were unable to attend, but among those noted from a distance were: Mrs. M. Mitchell, Montreal; Mrs. H. Jackson, East Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bervey, Mrs. Thow and Mr. Alex. Nixon, Caledon East; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Perry Orangeville; Mr. and Mrs. A. McDonald and Miss Isabel, Weston; Mr. and Mrs. R.
