Woman Breaks Back In Rescuing Children

Suffering a broken back while rescuing her year-old baby from flames that destroyed her home on nearby Blue Mountain today, Mrs. Albert Abbey was in a critical condition in the hospital here from the injury and influenza. Three sons were also saved when they jumped from the house into their father's arms.

Abbey had left the house and his bedridden wife to do the morning's chores, and when he returned he found the lower part of the home in flames. Unable to force an entry, he ran around outside and shouted, awakening his wife.

Mrs. Abbey awakened her three boys, Bert, 15; Ross, 8; and Harold, 3, hurrying them through a second story window to the verandah roof. The children jumped to safety in their father's arms.

The mother returned to her bedroom to get the baby, and when she dropped it into her husband's grasp was overcome by weakness and her efforts, toppling from the verandah to the ground.

Because of the isolation of the homestead, on top of the mountain, no fight could be made against the flames, and it was some time before medical aid could be reached.

Russia Attracts Thousands of Tourists

More than 100,000 foreign visitors have travelled through the new Russia under the care and guidance of "Intourist", the State travel agency. This season notably increased interest in the land of the Soviets indicates that a very considerable number of people not only from Canada but from the United States as well will include Russia in their summer itineraries, according to information received at the headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Montreal. Many round the world parties are adding to their knowledge of the country by using the Trans Siberian Railway which has been modernized and double tracked. The picture layout gives a broad idea of certain phases of Russian life under the Soviets. Indicative of the part women are playing in the new regime is the distinction won by Anya Maremukova, shown in the oval upper left, of being the first aviatrix and parachute jumper. The centre picture illustrates the progress in education, and shows an attentive class learning some useful wrinkles in chemistry. That all is not hard work is proven by the scene in lower left which shows a group of harvesters, improving the noon time rest period with folk dances and songs. In lower right a good looking Russian girl is, in the traditional Russian manner, carrying in a basket of fresh picked fruit.
