Drunken Driver Given
30 Days in Jail

"I have listened with a great deal of attention to the evidence given by Chief Meyer, Crown attorney Birnie and Lawyer Wm. R. Brunt for the defence. What strikes me important is that you were convicted once before, in Bruce county, for the same offence, and given the minimum sentence of seven days. Had you stopped to think you would have realized you were let off very easy. No man has a right to drive a car when he has been drinking. It might easily have happened that Messrs. Mills and Brigham might have been killed by your negligence. You will be committed to the common jail of Grey county for one month as a second offence, and your drivers' license will be suspended indefinitely."

With these words, Magistrate E. C. Spereman, K.C., of Owen Sound, presiding in court in Hanover last Thursday afternoon, disposed of a charge of driving while drunk against George K. Armstrong of R.R. 1, Formosa. Accused pleaded guilty to the charge, and, in addition to serving a month in jail and losing his driver's license, he will have to repair his own car which was badly wrecked; fix up Mr. Brigham's car, or buy him a new one, as this machine is almost beyond repair, and pay damages to Messrs. Mills and Brigham, all of which would indicate that it was one of the most expensive "jags" which ever afflicted a district man.

Chief Meyer related the story of the accident and the Crown Attorney John Birnie of Owen Sound, in a few words had the police tell the court that Armstrong had been found guilty on a similar charge on December 14, 1933, and sent to jail for seven days.

"I may say quite frankly that I have no sympathy at all with drunken drivers," said Mr. Birnie. Such men are a dangerous type of criminal, and the two Hanover men might have been killed by Armstrong's negligence.

Mr. Wm. R. Brunt of town, for the defence, said that in order to secure bail the papers had to be signed by Mr. Mills as justice of the peace, and Mr. Mills had shown no animosity toward the accused and had granted bail. Armstrong realized it was a very serious offence. He owns 100 acres of land, and is married with one child. It was essential to get bail for him that Saturday night as his barn was full of stock needing attention. If he were given a long term, his wife would suffer as much or more than he would. It was not his first offence, but on the other occasion he had pulled over to the side of the road and parked there, where he was discovered by the police. He thought Armstrong would never drive a car again, because of difficulty in getting insurance. It would be a severe lesson to him and would teach him that he must leave liquor alone. He was well regarded in his home district, and had only the one fault that every once in a while he got too much liquor. This episode would have such a disastrous effect upon him that he would likely leave all forms of liquor alone from now on. The farmers' busy season is now approaching, when he must do his spring seeding, and he asked the court to be as lenient as possible in order that the wife should not suffer more than the accused.—The Hanover Post.

Pretty soon the time will be here again when every married man in town will be indignant when Friend Wife hasn't a job hunted up for him to do on the half holiday.

TEA TIME TALK

(BY WILMA J. MARCH)

Last week I told you about the first Girl Scout Field Institute ever held in Florida. Today I shall tell you about the scouts of Puerto Rico, as told to us at that Institute by Mrs. Christ of Orlando, a national scout worker. She took a freighter to this island in the West Indies which was acquired from the Spanish by the United States in 1898. The name meant "rich port", and the square mileage of the island is 3,435. It was discovered by Columbus in 1493 but the first settlement was made at Pueblo Viejo by the Spanish in 1508. The population when taken over by the United States was a little over 800,000 but now boasts over a million and a half. San Juan is the chief city on the island. Traditionally speaking it is believed that the young girls should stay at home and fit themselves only for housekeepers. Therefore it has been a long and tedious task to teach them that scouting is proper and good for girls. It is so novel to them, that it interests the girls but their elders must be converted gradually to the modern ideas about it. It is very interesting to know the progress they have had in forming a scout organization there. To date five hundred girl scouts are registered and more are joining each month. The English scouting books are translated into Spanish for them.

In the British countries the Girl Scouts are called Girl Guides and were so called by the latter name in America until 1915, when the former name was chosen at an organization found at Savannah, Ga. by Mrs. Juliette Gordon Low (1860-1927). At the Field Institute in Tampa a memorial in the form of a bird-bath was dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Low.

The hospitality shown to Mrs. Christ was beyond words; it was typical of the keen interest which the young girls and boys show in learning of children in other countries. Instead of the Canadian or American scout uniforms, they wear the tropical white uniform with green ties.

They have a blind troop and also a deaf and dumb troop, and you can imagine what scouting means to those children who are not blessed with all their faculties. There is also an orphan troop, sponsored by older girls, and instead of the orphanage uniforms, they are allowed to wear the scout uniforms. This means so much to these little motherless and fatherless children. Then can you imagine such originality, as to have a scout troop composed only of business women. They love their work, which is mostly civic and advancement work to help the community. They look ahead and help plan for protection from storms, they help erect hurricane proof buildings for the scout groups.

Miss Olive McCormick told us about the Mariner program for scouts. She told us that of all the States in the Union none was so adapted to Sea Scouting as Florida, with its nearly two thousand miles of coastline, its many beaches and hundreds of bays and bayous. Then too, there are thousands of lakes in the State, and no end of rivers all of which furnish an abundance of opportunity for sea-scouting.

The blue uniforms of the Girl Sea Scouts are most attractive, as blue as the bluest sky. They are the pride of every owner. Everyone loves an attractive uniform and none are more comely than these. If the best advantage were taken of sea-scouting in the states or communities where such is possible, it would give new life to scouting organizations. If enough sea scouts existed to hold "Gams" or gatherings of ships to have a social good time on water instead of land, it would be splendid fun. These scout mariner ships are manned at intervals by the girls, who learn the ship names for all things pertaining to a vessel. There is a novelty to sea scouting which is lacking on land. Perhaps someday we shall have air scouts too.

LIVE STOCK MARKET REPORT

by
DUNN & LEVACK, TORONTO

Supplies of cattle were heavy for Monday's market and the trade was slow and prices slightly easier, especially on cattle of medium quality and heavy steers. There was some export demand for choice heifers, cows and bulls, which was of considerable assistance to the market as a whole.

Best heavy steers sold at from $2.25 to $3.50, with a few extra choice up to $7.75; fair to good from 7.50 to $8.00. In the butcher section, best handy weight steers and heifers brought from 7.00 to 7.25; fair to good from 6.50 to 7.00; medium 5.75 to 6.25. Choice baby beefs were in good demand at from 8.00 to 8.50, others lower according to quality. Stockers and feeders sold readily, best selected light cattle from 5.00 to 5.50 and feeders of heavier weights from 5.75 to 6.50. Choice heifery cows brought from 5.25 to 5.75; fair to good butcher cows from 4.75 to 5.25; common to medium 3.50 to 4.25; canners and cutters 2.00 to 3.00. Milch cows and springers were slow of sale, only a few of the best selling from $50.00 to $65.00 each. Choice light butcher bulls sold at from 4.75 to 5.25; heavy bulls 4.25 to 4.60; bolognas 3.75 to 4.25.

Lambs continued to feature the market, selling strong at 11c. Choice light sheep brought from 6.00 to 6.50. The calf trade was active, with best calves selling at from 9.00 to 9.50; fair to good from 7.50 to 8.50; common to medium 5.50 to 6.50.

The hog market was disappointing due to heavy supplies and direct shipments to packers over the weekend. Monday's sales were made on the basis of from $6.00 to $7.75 for truck deliveries, with prospect of a steady market for the balance of the week.

The fact that a chap likes to get thirty-seven inches to the yard is no indication of how good he is at giving it.
