WE DIDN'T WIN

At the Liberal-Conservative Convention held in Durham on Friday last to select a candidate to contest the riding of South Grey in the next Provincial election, we allowed our name to go to the delegates but we did not win. We had hardly expected to do so with so popular and well known a person as Dr. Brad Jamieson of Durham as our opponent. The majority of the delegates gave their support to him and we bow gracefully to their decision. We desire now to assure Dr. Jamieson and his friends of our loyal support throughout the campaign which we trust will result in his election. At the same time we wish to express our thanks to those who loyally supported us before and at the convention, support which was unsolicited by ourselves. We also desire to acknowledge with gratitude the requests which came from so many people outside the Conservative party for us to at least make an effort to secure the nomination, and for so many promises of support and encouragement from those who usually vote for the Liberal or U.F.O. candidate. We have no regrets and no apologies to offer. We have nothing but the best of good feeling for Dr. Brad Jamieson.

Editorial from The Meaford Express

The Express has been taken to task for carrying certain liquor advertising now appearing in these columns. We might say that the contract was signed with a certain amount of reluctance, and we expected a certain amount of criticism when our decision was made. We also know that there are people whose objections to the presence of liquor are even stronger than our own, and we are bold enough to take the credit for fighting the bootlegging and liquor business as strongly as any paper in this or any other community. We have conducted a newspaper in Meaford for over thirty years, have refused liquor advertising more times than we have fingers and toes, also any other outside advertising that conflicted with our own home town. At present writing we have six advertising contracts in our office from a neighboring community which have not been fully accepted, just as a protection to the other fellow. What does the public do for us? They will sell us out for 50 cents on a subscription and will sell us out for a nickel per inch in advertising or ten cents on the price of a printing job, notwithstanding we have maintained a service which is as clean and as efficient as can be found anywhere. Who then, pays the piper, the people who delight in boasting of their principles and liberality or is it the poor newspaper man? We now are confronted with the wrath of a few for slipping a cog—while if they were forced to wear our shoes for the past few years, we venture to predict that they would have skidded a number of cogs in their endeavor to maintain a service at all. We therefore offer no apologies for our action and we find many other newspapers forced into the same position for one reason and another.

While on the subject we might add there has been a lot of skidding in the temperance laws in the past thirty odd years and if the proper progress had been made and maintained it would not be necessary in 1937 for any newspaper to open its columns for this kind of advertising. It is not us who are responsible for the inroads of increased intemperance—it can be truly laid at the doors of others besides newspapermen.

Only yesterday we heard people—

WODEHOUSE

(Intended for last week)
Wedding bells are ringing.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley attended the Breadner re-union at Athalee on Wednesday.

Mr. Harry Sewell is doing some shingling for Mr. Nelson Wilcox on his barn.

The bee held Monday afternoon was a real success, the Church shingling being completed by a large crowd of men who gathered. In a few short hours everything was looking spick and span. The ladies tender many thanks to all who assisted so generously and well.

There was a large crowd at the W. I. convention on Tuesday and the weather being ideal every one enjoyed the day as well as the program carried out by the officers in charge of the proceedings. A sumptuous dinner and supper was served by the ladies.

Mr. John Parker is up from Toronto on his annual holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Newton Hutchinson.

The next event is the Sunday School picnic on June 30.

Mr. Leonard has moved his family to Kimberley.

A large number from here attended the Decoration Service at Markdale Cemetery on Sunday last.

Mrs. James Wiley jr. and sons, Elgin and Clarence, of Griersville were guests of the Wilcox family while down to attend the W. I. convention on Tuesday.

By request, the school chorus, which won the second prize in Owen Sound, was repeated at the W. I. convention on Tuesday forenoon. Mr. Perry, their instructor, took the children to the Church and their number under his guidance was much enjoyed by all. Glen Kirkpatrick also repeated his solo and was well received. The children are very enthusiastic over their singing lessons and are showing marked improvement in their singing. The Sligo children also contributed a chorus under the same instructor during the afternoon. Their teacher, Miss Patterson, was with them and their number was also well given.

Masters Garnet Walsh and James Brown are writing on the entrance examinations. Success boys.

who protested to us over our liquor advertising policy—gloat over the result of a prize-fight held Tuesday night and the punch it must have taken to do the trick of putting the opponent out of the ring. We can hardly see their viewpoint as to us both the liquor and fighting are on a par and we have little to do with either.

Our subscribers have a right to expect us to conduct a newspaper in keeping with the community in which we live, and we as a publisher also expect decent treatment from the public to the same extent. Today we are expected to re-hash every item of news—even to that of a prayer meeting—each week and smile. No less than five reporters attend Meaford Council meetings, so important have we become in the world's news. Every women's organization, quilting bee and the like supply the outside press with their items of news days in advance of the local press and then tell us we are losing ground. It takes more than a cheap pencil and camera to conduct a newspaper, and we know people who had better realize it when they start to dictate. We can easily open our columns to the outside world and get a better living than we at present enjoy. We have a larger investment in the publishing business than any other person in the immediate locality and we may yet be forced to join the caravan of open house and add our quota of assistance to driving business out of town. We have protected and fought for this community stronger than any bulldog there is in the place and we expect at least our share of fair play. We have no quarrel with the people who directly approached us regarding liquor advertising and this article is intended to include every person who loans himself or herself to the practice of being unreasonable and unfair to the local newspaper situation.

Friend: "There wasn't a very big account of your daughter's wedding in the paper this morning."
Father (sadly): "No; the big account was sent to me."

On Friday evening, June 18, the members and friends, numbering over 60, of Maxwell United Church met at the Parsonage to spend a social time with Rev. A. Acheson; speech by Mr. Milton Shouldice; a duet by Rev. and Mrs. Bushell; games and contests. An address was read by Mrs. E. Buckingham and Mrs. E. Wright presented Miss Jean with a pearl-on-amber toilet set. Mr. and Mrs. Bushell were presented with a fernery, fern and a chair, Mrs. G. Ross, Mr. J. Stephen and Mr. Wm.
