When Walking
you are Courteous—

Try Courtesy
When Driving

AS WE walk about on street, highway and bypath we are all most courteous to each other as we pass, overtake, stop, cross and otherwise mingle with our fellow-pedestrians. None of us would think of being otherwise—we are just naturally courteous at heart.

But, too often, this native courtesy leaves us when we get behind the wheel of a motor vehicle.

Do not let your attitude of courtesy leave you when you drive but, rather, "Try Courtesy" every inch of the way.

When you meet a fellow-motorist pull well over to your right. When you overtake him sound your horn—a short note will do! Keep to the right on curves, "blind spots" and, of course, on hills. Drive at the speed of the traffic you are in—don't "hold up the parade." Never put the "other fellow" on "the spot". He may get excited and you may both be hurt.

Dip or dim your lights when you meet at night—neither of you can see where to steer when you are "blinded".

Do not "crowd" pedestrians, we all walk at times and we all dislike being startled.

Hand-signal your intention to slow down, stop or turn and otherwise act to your fellow-man a wheel in the same considerate manner as when he is afoot—"Try Courtesy" every inch of the way.

Leafs Are Confident of Making Play-Offs

Toronto Players Determined no One Will Wrest First Division Birth From Them

There is one thing you cannot take away from those battling Toronto Maple Leafs; that is supreme confidence in their own ability; the youthful optimism that won't admit defeat. They fear no team in the International League pennant race, at least of all the Newark Bears, who have been setting such a torrid pace all season. There is nothing jaunty or cocky in the bearing of the Leafs. They just believe in themselves and go out on the field and demonstrate in workmanlike manner that their confidence is not misplaced.

When a few weeks ago, they said they would give the Bears a real battle in Newark, they lived up to that prediction and took two games out of three from the New York Yankee farm hands. When the Bears appeared recently in Toronto, the Leafs took three games out of four from them, climaxing the series with a double victory by last-minute rallies. They have steadfastly maintained that they would finish in the play-offs, which embrace the first four teams, and, barring accidents, they should have little trouble in doing so.

As the closing weeks of the schedule approach, the Leafs appear to be pretty well set for the struggle to remain in the first division. John Berly, veteran right-hander, who was only figured on as a relief pitcher when obtained from Baltimore in the Spring, has proved to be one of the most effective performers on Howley's staff, and his consistent displays have featured several of the Leafs' recent victories. Another veteran right-hander, upon whom Howley is counting for some winning efforts, is Johnny Wilson, who was signed in mid-season after being released by Buffalo. After joining the Leafs, Wilson went to his home in Georgia to undergo an operation for the removal of infected tonsils. The operation was a success and the tall pitcher has gained some 17 pounds of needed weight since his return. An effective pitcher in a big park, Wilson should be right at home in Maple Leaf Stadium. With Woody Davis, Earl Caldwell, and Mike Melola, Manager Howley has an impressive array of starting pitchers, while Frank Nekola, Joe Mulligan and Ted Horton are capable relief men.

The Leafs have no worries about the infield or outfield departments either, and "Shanty" Hogan and Johnny Heving form a catching combination that is second to none. Joe Gantenbien and Frankie Madura have been clicking off double plays regularly and their batting is improving steadily. Madura having picked up 20 points in recent games.

In the outfield, the youngsters, Ted Petoskey, Mayo Smith, and Bobby Porter have been coming through in sensational style, Petoskey setting the batting pace for the team. His base running is also a treat to watch.

The Leafs have a majority of their remaining games at home and during the month of August, there are a number of outstanding dates at Maple Leaf Stadium. The Newark Bears will be in Toronto for a night game on Friday, Aug. 13th, and an afternoon doubleheader on Saturday, Aug. 14th. The Syracuse Chiefs, who open the Leafs August schedule with a double bill on Civic Holiday and play another twin bill on Wednesday, Aug. 4th, in the afternoon, will return to Toronto for a three-game series of night games starting Monday, Aug. 16th. They will be followed by the Baltimore Orioles who play the Leafs under lights on Thursday and Friday, Aug. 19th and 20th, and an afternoon pair on Saturday, Aug. 21st. The Jersey City Giants are in Toronto for floodlight games, Aug. 23, 24 and 25th. The August 24th attraction will be a twilight-floodlight affair starting at 6.30. The Montreal Royals will meet the Leafs in a doubleheader at Toronto on Saturday, Aug. 28th, and the Rochester Red Wings will be at Maple Leaf Stadium for night games on Monday and Tuesday, August 30 and 31st.
