As a Woman Sees It

(Mrs. E.A.D. in the Warton Echo) The other day a tourist pulled his car up in front of the Echo Office. There is nothing startling about that for it is a common occurrence these days. We glanced out of the windows, then we took a good look and finally we frankly stared—Why? Because he was wearing a sport shirt and it wasn't tucked into his pants but was hanging free and unfettered. We blushed for him and hastily got back to our typewriter and busily tapped out some uninteresting statistics.

Well, we needn't have been embarrassed for him at all. Evidently he was a "Beau Brummel" away ahead of the guys who industriously tuck in their shirt tails, for this morning we see in "Over the Tea Cups" that "shirt-tail hanging out is the smart new thing in sport dresses" and it seems Betty Furness, a movie star, wears a shirt with the shirt tails hanging down the back and the front tails pulled back and tied in a knot at the back. Now if Betty, the movie star, can do it, so can Billy, the tourist. Women have taken men's clothes and tied them in knots and done all kinds of crazy things with them, so we don't blame the men for coming right out in the open and letting their shirt tails take to the air.
