

THE MARKDALE STANDARD

"DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF MARKDALE AND SURROUNDING COUNTRY"

VOL. 58; NO. 43.

MARKDALE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JUNE 23rd, 1938

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Thompson of Montreal is the guest of Mrs. P. McCullough.

Miss Theresa Gray of Toronto is visiting with the Misses Carefoot.

Hon. I. B. Lucas of Toronto visited for a few days with relatives here.

Miss Alice Cutting of Hamilton is spending her vacation at her home here.

Miss Bertha Boyd of Hamilton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turner of Toronto were week-end visitors with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Millsap and daughters, Betty and Shirley, visited on Sunday with Mr. T. H. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heath returned on Monday after visiting over the week-end with friends in Uxbridge.

Mr. Hilliard Elliott, Lorraine and Bill of Bracebridge were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elliott.

Mrs. M. Parkin has returned to her home in Markham after visiting her sister, Miss Jane Hutchinson, in town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilson of Belleville were week-end visitors with the latter's sister, Miss Jean Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Henry and son of Toronto spent the week-end with the former's father, Mr. J. C. Henry.

Misses Greta Elliott and J. Norris of Toronto were week-end visitors with the former's father and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf. McCullough and daughter, Dorothy, of Dundalk visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cannon and children of Caledon East were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kidd and family.

Mrs. R. J. Cranston and Miss Dorothy Cranston of Caledon East visited with Mrs. A. Eagles and Miss Freda on Sunday.

Mrs. Jas. Geddes and son, Cameron, of Toronto were week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elliott and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. C. Bishop of Bishopston, Que., were week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Burritt and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Alcox.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hawken of Vancouver arrived on Tuesday to visit with relatives here and at present are guests of Miss E. C. Hawken.

Mr. Leland Foster of Guelph called recently on Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sewell and Mrs. Everett Graham, and also attended the Decoration service.

Misses Betty and Alma Mitchell and Mr. Jim Mitchell of Mono Mills and Mr. Bob Smith of Caledon East visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. Scott and family.

Revival services are continuing in the Gospel Workers' Church. Miss Ila Dennett, as evangelist, will preach Friday evening of this week and Sunday evening.

Annesley Church garden party was held in the basement on Friday evening of last week. Following the supper a program was put on by the Owen Sound Variety Concert Company under the leadership of Mr. W. R. Colquette.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Ghiesse were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lackey of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Lackey sr., Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Lackey jr. and children of Orangeville; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Broster of Dundalk.

Mrs. W. E. Harris, Mrs. L. Rapp, Mrs. W. J. Colgan and Miss Eunice Colgan, accompanied by Mrs. Thos. Brady and Miss Marion Muir of Flesherston, attended a meeting of the Eastern Star Chapter in Lisfowal last Friday evening.

We understand that an unusual feature in connection with the Lucas auction sale of household goods on Friday afternoon will be the gift of a worthwhile article to each of three purchasers who draw lucky numbers. This is a new idea and a good one. It should tend to speed up the bidding and create an added interest.

The Markdale Dairy has changed hands, Mr. Austin Boadway having disposed of the business to Messrs. Dan. Kay and Bruce Boddy of Toronto. The new proprietors took charge on Monday. They are young men and have had experience in the business in Toronto. It is their intention to supply customers with the best possible quality of milk and for those who wish raw milk they are prepared to comply with their desire. See their ad. in this issue of The Standard. Mr. Boadway came here from Orillia about a year ago and he and Mrs. Boadway have been good citizens. Many will regret the removal of the family from the village.

Decoration Service Held On Sunday Afternoon

The annual Grave Decoration Service of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was held Sunday afternoon last under the auspices of Saugeen Lodge No. 327, Markdale. The members of the Orange Lodges in the district and the returned soldiers were guests of the Odd Fellows and participated in the service.

A parade was formed at the Odd Fellows' hall on Main Street with the returned men leading. The members of the Orange order came next and then Dundalk band followed by the members of Saugeen Lodge.

On arrival at the cemetery the band played a selection and this was followed by Rev. Allan Ferry of Knox Church, Owen Sound, who gave a stirring address in which he made an appeal for all to be faithful to their obligations to the Almighty as well as to the British Empire.

Mr. W. J. Howard gave the Odd Fellows' charge and then a wreath was placed over the slab on the Memorial Chapel which bears the names of those who served and gave their lives in the great war.

Dr. H. G. Marshall of Dundalk sounded the Last Post. The band played another selection and the decoration of the graves followed. After closing the service by pronouncing the benediction the procession was reformed and returned to the village.

In the shade of the trees at the Revere House Dundalk band gave a pleasing program.

There was a large attendance at this annual service which is made possible by the members of Saugeen Lodge No. 327, I.O.O.F.

The cemetery was in excellent shape and many visitors expressed delight at its appearance.

Smart - Abercrombie

Willow Grove Farm at Cedarville, Ont., the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Abercrombie, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 15th, 1938, when their daughter, Jean Elizabeth, was united in marriage with Victor R. Smart, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smart of Markdale, Rev. H. O. Hutcheson of Shelburne officiating.

Promptly at twelve o'clock noon to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Evelyn Harper of Holland Centre, the bride, dressed in pink crepe with white accessories, entered the living room on her father's arm and took her place beside the groom before a bank of ferns, where the wedding ceremony was performed. Only immediate relatives were present.

While the register was being signed Miss Harper again rendered some pleasing music.

Following congratulations the bride led the way to the dining room where the wedding breakfast was served, the bride's cake being decorated with pink sweetheart roses.

At the close a toast to the bride was proposed by the clergyman and ably responded to by the groom.

The happy couple amid showers of confetti and good wishes left on a short honeymoon trip at Niagara Falls.

They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. The groom's gift to the organist was a silver marmalade set.

They will reside on the 11th Line, Euphrasia.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the neighbours and friends for their many acts of kindness and for fruit and flowers brought Mr. Hampton during his long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hampton and Family.

Card of Thanks

For the splendid support accorded the Markdale Dairy during the past year we desire to express our sincere thanks and at the same time we solicit your continued patronage for our successors, Messrs. Kay and Boddy.

Austin Boadway

The next Union Fellowship Meeting will be held on June 29th at the home of Rev. A. Mills.

At Walters Falls on Monday evening the home team and Markdale played to a 7-7 tie in the Holland Softball League series.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thibaudeau, Mrs. P. Thibaudeau and Miss Edna of Toronto spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thibaudeau.

Mr. Elvin Sewell of Temple Hill, Mrs. Roy Kirkpatrick of New England, Mrs. Jas. Kirkpatrick of Kimberley visited recently with their mother, Mrs. Henry Sewell, and their sister, Mrs. Everett Graham, who has been very seriously ill for some months.

Warden's Banquet Held On Tuesday Evening

Mr. Howard McCauley, Warden of Grey County and Reeve of Flesherston, and Mrs. McCauley entertained the members of the County Council with their wives and a number of invited guests at the Fraternal Hall in Flesherston on Tuesday evening. It was a pleasing event and about 150 sat down to a sumptuous repast prepared by the ladies of St. John's United Church.

After justice had been done to the tasty supper the toast to the King was responded to by singing the National Anthem. Mr. J. C. Mercer, County Treasurer, was toastmaster and the following toasts were on the program: Canada and the Empire, proposed by Mayor Allan Stewart of Owen Sound and responded to by Judge Morley; Grey County, proposed by Reeve Wm. McGregor of Sydenham and responded to by Ex-Wardens W. L. Taylor of Osprey, John Dolphin of Derby and Dan. McTavish of Flesherston; Agriculture by Reeve Sam. Patterson of Egrement and response by F. R. Oliver, M.P.P.; The Guests, by Reeve Albert Rusk of Markdale and response by Warden Henry Lantz of Bruce, John Pedlar, Alfred Down of Flesherston Council and Rev. Geo. Service of Flesherston; The Press, by Reeve John Davis of Artemesia with response by Geo. Dulmage of Owen Sound, Frank Irwin of Durham and Frank Macintyre of Dundalk; The Ladies, by Reeve Emerson Brown of Collingwood and response by Mrs. Austin Ball, wife of the Reeve of Hanover.

Ex-Warden Riley, Reeve of Meaford, proposed the toast to the Warden and Mr. McCauley made a very good reply.

It was a pleasurable event and a dance followed which provided further pleasure for a great number of guests.

Dental Survey Made in the Local Public School

A dental survey of the teeth of the children in the Markdale Public School has recently been conducted by the Ontario Dental Association co-operating with the Department of Health. The inspection was done by Dr. L. G. Campbell and Dr. J. A. McArthur who have generously given of their time for this survey without remuneration.

Each child has been given a notification card to take home with the exact teeth requiring attention marked, whether temporary or permanent, and also any other necessary comments. By the card the parents are advised to have the family dentist consulted immediately so the defects may be remedied. Prompt attention will prevent suffering to the child and decrease the expense.

The survey showed the teeth of the majority of the children to be in good condition and to be taken care of in a commendable manner.

LIVE STOCK MARKET REPORT

by DUNN & LEVACK, TORONTO

With a heavy run of 4500 cattle for Monday's market, trade opened slow and buyers were bidding lower prices. However, by noon hour a better demand developed and sales on good to choice cattle were made at fairly steady prices, while those of medium to good quality, off pasture, sold fully a quarter lower.

A few choice weighty steers brought 8.00, but the bulk of the good to choice ranged from 7.00 to 7.50; fair to good from 6.50 to 7.00. Butcher cattle were from a quarter to thirty-five lower with choice from 6.75 to 7.25; fair to good 6.00 to 6.25; common to medium 5.00 to 3.00. Choice baby heaves brought from 7.50 to 8.00, with a few at 8.25; others at lower prices accordingly. Stockers and feeders were in limited demand with best light kind from 4.00 to 4.50; good breedy feeders from 4.75 to 5.25. The cow trade was easier with choice from 4.50 to 5.00; fair to good from 3.50 to 4.25; canners and cutters 2.50 to 3.00. Choice butcher bulls brought from 4.50 to 5.00; good to choice heavy bulls 4.00 to 4.50; good heavy bologna bulls 4.00 to 4.25; light bolognas 3.50 to 3.75.

Choice lambs sold at 10.50, with those of medium to good quality from 8.00 to 10.00; unfinished lambs were not wanted and it is advisable to keep them on pasture until they are ready for market. The sheep trade was very slow with choice light kind 3.00; others from 1.50 to 2.50. The calf market was lower, choice 7.50, with a few at 8.00; fair to good from 6.50 to 7.25; common to medium 5.00 to 6.50; grass calves 4.00 to 4.50.

The hog market showed considerable strength on Monday, sales being made at 11.15 for truck deliveries. Prospects for the balance of the week is favorable.

Subscribe for your daily paper at The Standard office.

Sidney B. McMichael, Toronto Rotarian, Spoke On 'History of Rotary'

Rotarian McMichael, a native of St. Louis, has been a member of the Toronto Rotary Club since 1918 and has held many important posts in the International organization. He is a past Governor of the old 27th District, which included the Toronto Club. His talk was particularly interesting because of his wide range of service in Rotary work, and the interesting information he had gathered in visiting clubs in Europe.

Commenting on his present mission to make a contact between Rotary International and the small clubs newly organized in this district, the speaker stated that eighty per cent. of the Rotary Clubs in the world are small units of less than fifty members. They have a great advantage over larger clubs in metropolitan areas because they can contain most of the active and influential men in their towns, and thus maintain close contacts with every line of endeavor in the community.

The Rotary movement started in February, 1905. Paul Harris, then a young lawyer, from a small town, found himself rather lonely in Chicago. He became acquainted with three or four other men in the same position and they used to visit each other in their offices. These meetings held in the different offices by turn—or rotation—gave birth to the idea of rotary. From the fact that each of the original men was in a different line of business, or service to the community, came the idea of classification by occupation, which is now an integral part of the movement. The club grew to such proportions that larger quarters had to be found and a regular meeting place in a hotel replaced the offices.

From the original club in Chicago the movement spread originally due to the change of residence of the members to other cities. By 1910 there were sixteen clubs in American cities, and they held a National convention.

In 1912 the convention had requests from Winnipeg, Canada; Dublin, Ireland, and London, England, for charters. In this way the International Organization came into existence.

By 1916 there were many clubs in Canada and Great Britain. At that time Britain was engaged in the Great War; the Americans had not yet entered, so the British clubs objected to the headquarters being maintained in Chicago. In order to avert the crisis the executive suggested a headquarters organization for the British clubs to be called "Rotary International, British Isles—R.I.B.I.", to manage the affairs of British clubs, but to be affiliated with the International movement.

In Canada there is also a national executive, concerned primarily with Canadian club problems, which makes recommendations to Rotary International.

In 1921 the International Convention first left America and journeyed to Edinburgh, Scotland. Representatives of 70,000 Rotarians met on this occasion. From this convention also went two Rotary missionaries to spend six months opening clubs in Australia and New Zealand.

Originally Rotary was based on the principle of developing friendship, but about the year 1919 the idea of further service was taken up and Rotary International recommended Boys' Work to the attention of all clubs. A later development, the Crippled Children's movement followed, and these two spheres of activity are now of premier importance in all Rotary clubs.

The International aspect of the organization has been still further emphasized in recent years by the holding of conventions on the continent of Europe—the convention of 1927, in Ostend, Belgium, and that of 1931, in Vienna, Austria.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Mr. McMichael concluded by a brief reference to the difference in interests between American and European clubs. Activities of European clubs seem centered on the development of better international relations. Although newspaper reports of European unrest give little evidence of their success in these efforts, they continue undaunted. One method of developing friendly relations is very popular. Not only do the Rotarians visit other clubs on the opposite side of boundary lines, but they arrange for visits of their wives and families to be exchanged with the families of Rotarians in other countries.

Newspaper Men and Women Met At Dundalk

The members of the Weekly Newspapers Association of Wellington, Dufferin and Perth held the annual meeting at Dundalk on Friday last. The gathering was entertained at luncheon in the Bowling Club's rooms by Editor Frank Macintyre of the Dundalk Herald and Mrs. Macintyre. This was followed by addresses by Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P. for Grey-Bruce; Mr. G. James of Bowmanville, President of the C. W.N.A., and Mr. C. V. Charters of Brampton, Managing Director of the Canadian Association. Mr. A. W. Wright of Mt. Forest, the veteran secretary of the association, was presented with a brief case as a token of the good-will of the members.

Mr. T. F. E. Claridge of Shelburne presided over the business session which was held while the ladies of the party viewed the sights in the Eugenia district.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Frank Macintyre of Dundalk; Vice-President, Albert Reis of Milverton; Secretary-Treasurer, A. W. Wright of Mt. Forest.

It was a pleasant and profitable gathering and the members appreciated the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Macintyre.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Storey Celebrated Anniversary

Saturday night was a gala occasion at 1010 Melrose Avenue when more than 100 friends called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Storey, the event being the celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Mrs. Storey received the guests in her wedding gown of 25 years ago. The dining table was centered with white candles and a three-tiered wedding cake surmounted by a tiny bride and groom; spring flowers graced the other rooms. Miss Eva McComb and Mrs. Ethel Sawdey poured tea for the first hour and Mrs. E. A. Marshall and Mrs. S. W. Bradford for the second. The other attendants were Mrs. A. R. Wilson, Mrs. R. Kingston, Mrs. Huffman, Mrs. Escaravage and Misses Joan Hodges, Gwynnith Edwards and Jean Storey. The gifts of silver received gave evidence of the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Storey are held.—Saskatoon Star-Phoenix of June 14th.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Priel, Mrs. Ethel Sawdey, Miss Muriel Sawdey, Mrs. Eva McComb, Miss Eileen McComb, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. R. Anderson.

Mr. Storey is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Storey of the 9th line, St. Vincent, and Mrs. Storey is a daughter of Mr. Henry Reid and the late Mrs. Reid of Heathcote.

WALTERS FALLS

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Quinton and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rennie returned to their respective homes last week from their post-nuptial tours. Their many friends of this vicinity join in congratulations. Some of the said friends called on them in a very noisy manner.

Mrs. Brown is visiting with her grandson, Mr. D. Strain, in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Les. Merriam and little daughter of Guelph spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. M. Cathrae.

Mrs. D. Symes, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. E. Quinton, for some weeks, has returned to her home near Markdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reid and Mr. Orville Shepherdson of Perdue, Sask. are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Shepherdson, and other relatives.

Markdale softball team played a game with our team on Monday evening, which resulted in a tie.

Mrs. Thos. Johnson, who has been housekeeper with Mr. R. W. Quinton for some months, left last week for Holland Centre.

Congratulations are due Misses Annie Lemon, Blanche Seabrook and Beth Saunders on obtaining the Entrance certificates on their year's work.

Harold Laycock, Ken. Cook, Mac Saunders and Elgin Seabrook, are home for vacation from the Meaford High School.

Miss Alice Ward called on some old friends the past week.

The W. I. held their June meeting at the home of Mrs. D. Rennie last Wednesday afternoon with a goodly number of ladies present. A ten-cent collection is to be given at the July meeting to augment the funds.

Mrs. W. I. Seabrook gave a grandmother's reading. Little Misses Templer sang a duet.

Mrs. William McKay Passes In Holland Township

Holland township lost another well known and highly respected citizen on June 4th, in the death of Mrs. Wm. McKay.

Deceased was formerly Rose Ann Farrelly, elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Farrelly of Holland township. She was born on the farm where her brother, Matt, still resides. In August, 1906, she was married to William McKay and moved to her new home about one and a quarter miles from where she was born. In the fall of 1935 they sold their farm and moved to Holland Centre. Mrs. McKay was of a quiet, retiring manner, devoted to her family and a sympathetic neighbour, always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need.

Besides her husband she leaves to mourn her passing one daughter, Gladys, and one brother, Matt, J. Farrelly. Her only sister, Mary E., died in 1931 and a brother, William A., a number of years ago.

The funeral was held on June 7th and was largely attended. Rev. C. O. Pherrill of Markdale conducted the service at the home and at St. Mark's Anglican Church, of which Mrs. McKay was a faithful member. At the close of the service Mrs. Price sang "When the World Forgets".

The floral offerings were a wreath from the family; sprays from Mrs. C. Wenner and Mrs. R. Ferster of Buffalo, Mrs. C. W. George of Lockport, St. Mark's Guild, the Campbell and Kanane families of Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Givens, Mrs. John Farrelly and Mrs. Harold Edmunds. The flowerbearers were Misses Euphemia Telford, Helen Kenniffick, Mrs. Chas. Ransome of Holland Centre and Mrs. McKay of Manitoba. The pallbearers were Messrs. Thos. Anderson, Jas. Kenniffick, Thos. Troughton, Harold Edmunds, Thos. Givens and William Lambert.

Those who attended the funeral from a distance were: Mrs. C. Wenner and Mrs. R. Ferster of Buffalo and Mrs. C. W. George of Lock