English School Teacher Learning the Geography of North America By Unique

After cycling through Austria and the Sudetenland as they were being taken over by the Germans last year, Douglas C. Goodson of London plans to pedal in more peaceful surroundings this summer on an 8,000-mile trip across Canada and the United States.

Goodson, a school master specializing in geography, will investi-gete Canadian and United States school systems as he travels across e continent. Reaching Halifax in a freighte after a 10-day crossing, the young Londoner arriver in Montreal by train and will go to Washington, D.C.
