The coiffure recently adopted by the Queen is interesting. Som weeks ago she was desirous of hanging her style of coiffure. As a result of consultations b ween M. Boudou, who has dress the Queen's hair since she was a child, and another famous hair ex pert who attends Royalty, a style of hairdressing was suggested which met with the approval of both the King and Queen.

About a year ago the Queen de cided to abandon her fringe, and this was taken to each side of the centre parting with short curls Now these curls have grown sufficiently long to be included in a wave that sweeps down from a centre parting to the ears, where it is taken up again and allowed to fall for evening wear into a low cluster of curls on the nape of the neck. In the daytime the Queen has these neck curls dressed a lit tle higher.

A. As to sowing the fertilizer with the grain, I would say that there is some danger of the fertilizer materials reacting on the metal parts of the grain drill, which are not built for fertilizer sowing, and seriously injuring the drill. Then again, fertilizer materials and the grain are of different specific gravity. This means that the fertilize tend to flow through the drill much If a dry, uniformly graded granular fertilizer is used, there is some chance for success by applying it as you have indicated. However, e do not recomend this practice I have known some farmers who claim success from sowing fertilizer mixed with seed grain in the

A 3½ acre exhibit at the World's Fair in New York is being completed by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company. In addition to a full-scale tire factory producing a tire every four minutes, probably the most unique part of the exhibit will be an actual life-size reproduction of a thriving farm with live stock, buildings, farmhands, and all. This part of the exhibit will demonstrate how the farm is being modernized by the use of rubber tires on every wheeled farm implement, and will call attention to the fact that it was Harvey S. Firestone on his own 640 zere farm who pioneered in the development of rubber tires for farm use.
