Ontario School Trend Toward Larger Section

(Globe and Mail, June 28th) A review of the developments in education in the elementary school panel as the school year draws to a close in Ontario shows that substantial progress has been made in three directions.

Since the opening of the calendar year application has been made and granted for the establishment of two-way one year units in the administration, with several school sections uniting in each case. A survey of salaries indicates that as a general rule the trend is definitely upward. And a review of the number of rural schools shows that twenty-five of those with small attendances have been closed, with consequent improvement in the education offered in the communities concerned.

Officials of the Department of Education are particularly encouraged by the increasing number of larger units of administration, a development which educationalists have urged for many years. Back in 1929 one of these larger units was established in Markdale. This it was not until 1925 that others were added, and then only three, all in the inspectorship of L. J. Williams in Dundas, Huron and Perth counties. It was added in the Province in 1928, two were added in 1932, one in 1934, one in 1935, two in 1936 and three in 1937. It was not until last year that a general movement in the direction of uniting of small school sections, from May 28 to July 2, 1938, fourteen larger units of administration were formed.

Twelve Large Units Formed. "We are delighted with the progress being made," commented V. G. Greer, chief inspector of elementary schools, yesterday. "The officials of the department and the inspectors are meeting with a more friendly reception in connection with the establishment of the larger units at any time in the past. There is evidence now that the movement toward the larger unit is definitely under way and we are very encouraged."

The chief inspector noted that while last year the larger unit in only two instances had been established in the course of the year twelve larger units have been formed in the counties of Southern Ontario, including Leeds, Renfrew, Lennox, Hastings, and Simcoe. The movement has spread from the newer part of the Province to the older districts.

It is possible that other larger units will be added this year. Township have until July 1 to pass the necessary by-law.

The most recent township to set up a township school board is Shelburne in Westworth County which made application only a day before yesterday. In this case six rural school units have united to form a single unit of administration. Six rural school boards of three trustees each have been scrapped to set up a township school board of five trustees in control of the entire territory at affairs of the area comprising the former six sections.

Advantages of Merger. Since the beginning of 1935 the following township have established the larger unit: Monk, Muskoka, with five school sections united in the inspectorship of G. S. Johnson; McLean, Muskoka, four sections in the inspectorship of B. S. Johnson; Machar, Parry Sound, six school sections, J. R. Pickering, in inspectorship; Parry Sound, five sections, J. L. Moore, in inspectorship; Queen's County, three sections, W. J. Joyce, inspector; Carleton, Parry Sound, five sections, J. L. Moore, inspector; Whitnour, Cochrane, two sections, H. H. "FOR MY SAKE"

Three little words, but full of tender meaning: Three little words, the heart can scarcely hold; Three little words, but on their intemperate lips, they would utter.

For my sake cheer the suffering, For my sake help the needy, For my sake let the harsh word die unuttered, That trembles on thy swift intimation, For my sake check the quick and rebellious feeling, That rises at every fancied wrong, And in coming days the world recalls thee.

For my sake thou suffer pain and loss, Bear up faint heart thy Master wait, For my sake, since thou art here, They only wear His crown who share His cross. Loretta.

Albert E. Hunt Spoke On "Commercial Banking"

At the meeting of the Rotary Club held on Wednesday evening of last week Mr. A. E. Hunt, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, gave a talk on "Banking" which drew a large audience.

President Gordon, fellow rotarians, and guests. It is a pleasure to speak before my own club on Commercial Banking, my classification. The subject has a great many branches but I will talk only to a few of them. First of all I would like to give you a little history of the institution which I have been associated with for a number of years.

On July 31, 1856 The Bank of Toronto opened its doors in a building on Church Street, Toronto. The first president of the bank was John Galt, who had his head office in the Province of Ontario. It was organized and launched by Toronto merchants, and the first meeting was held in the rooms of the nation-wide structure of today. They raised between themselves the bank's model original paid-up capital of $25,000. Toronto at the time had a population of 10,000. The Grand Trunk Railway had just completed its line from Montreal and another railway had been opened through to Collingwood, providing an outlet via the Great Lakes to the west. The first president of the Bank of Toronto was J. G. Chewett, formerly deputy surveyor general for the Province of Ontario.

The Royal Party continued up the steps of the Memorial, but the King alone continued to the Platform where he received the National Anthem which played the National Anthem whilst the colours were dipped.

His Majesty the King then placed a wreath at the base of the Monument in brilliant sunshine.

Returning down the steps their Majesties were met by the Mayor who invited the King to plant a tree at the Eastern side of the War Memorial. The Queen followed and afterwards invited the Queen to plant a tree at the Western side of the Memorial. The King handled the spade in a familiar manner. On the 30th of June, 1938, our total assets stood at $14,812,263. Deposits $121,401,567, another record in the Bank's history. Loans $16,911,821, an increase of $1,000,000 over the year ended on June 30, 1937.

Critics point to the similarity of rates, in all the banks, as their "proof" that we are a monopoly. They charge us any half dozen reasons in one town with being a monopoly when the prices of sugar or flour in each store are the same. They refer to all our operations as being substantially the same conditions. So do we. The legislation which governs us is the same for one bank as for another. Bank charges are the same for all banks. Of provincial governments, churches, hospitals, etc.

Service Charges: It is only in recent years that the Canadian banks have given small accounts a closer attention to determine the cost of handling them. It was found that a large number of these accounts were carried at a loss to the bank. When the service charge was first put into operation it met with a great deal of opposition on the part of the customer. It was found that the cost of operating each account, showing the loss to the bank was shown to the customer, with a better understanding, the customer readily agreed to the charge. Although the service charge has only been put in force in Canada recently, the banks in the United States and Great Britain have been making this charge for years. An American opened an account here. He immediately asked what the service charge would be. When informed stated they were making a profit on the account. In closing, may I venture to hope that I have made the banking system clearer to you. Thank you.
