Was 93 on Christmas Day

The Standard extends congratulations to Mrs. Martha Walker of Berkeley, who celebrated her 93rd birthday on Christmas day.

Bull - McFarland

Christmas decorations formed an effective background in St. Paul's Church, Bloor street, for the marriage on Saturday of Miss Frances Adone McFarland, daughter of Mr. Justice McFarland and Mrs. McFarland, to Mr. John Laxier Bull, son of Mr. Duncan Bull. The ceremony was conducted by Bishop R. J. Reinson. Mr. Maitland Farmer and Mr. Richard Tattersall were the organists, and the St. Paul's choir boys sang.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin, with hand embroidery around the square neckline and girde. A Madonna halo of rosepoint lace held her veil of tulle and lace, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and open white roses. Miss Katharine McFarland was maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Watts, Miss Elizabeth McClelland and Miss Nancy Baker were bridesmaids. Their gowns were of turquoise blue silk jersey, made with sweetheart necklines, draped skirts and long, light sleeves. They wore hats of twisted jersey with matching veils, and carried open Better Times roses.

Mr. David Owen was groomsman, and the ushers were Flying Officer John McFarland, Mr. Colin Laxier, Mr. Peter Rea and Mr. Alexander Hutchison.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Russell Hill Road. Mrs. McFarland received wearing a wine velvet gown with wide cuffs of kolinsky fur, matching feather hat, and corsage of bronze orchids.

For going away the bride changed to a Chanel model blue wool suit, matching felt hat and veil, brown ermine jacket, and corsage of Sweetheart roses. Mr. and Mrs. Bull will live in Brampton. The bride is a graduate of Bishop Strachan School and the bridegroom of Appleby School, and both of the University of Toronto.

The bride's father, Justice McFarland, is a native of Markdale, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McFarland. Many friends still reside in the village and district.

Miss Madge Lucas Receives Gift From Anglican Choir

At the home of Mrs. A. Brown on Monday evening of last week the choir of St. Peter's Church gathered to do honour to their organist, Miss Madge Lucas, who has resigned to take on a life-job as housekeeper for a young man well and favorably known in the village and vicinity. During the evening Mr. T. H. Reburn, the dean of the choir, presented to Miss Lucas an occasional chair as a token of esteem and good wishes. Miss Lucas has been a capable and faithful organist for many years and her services have been greatly appreciated. The good wishes of a host of friends will go with her when she enters upon the duties of caring for a husband.

Mrs. John Irwin Died

A native of Euphrasia township, Mrs. John Irwin, passed away at her home in Meaford on Monday afternoon in her 72nd year. The late Mrs. Irwin was born in Euphrasia and her maiden name was Margaret Cooper. She was united in marriage to John Irwin, 53 years ago. The couple farmed in Euphrasia for some time, then St. Vincent and then Sydenham townships before moving to Meaford. Mrs. Irwin had been a very faithful member of the Meaford United Church, where she had been prominent in all church organizations.

Left to mourn her death are her husband; three daughters and two sons, namely: Mrs. Ross Jackman, Dafce, Sask.; Mrs. John Long of Annapolis; Mrs. Sydney Coleman of Meaford; David W. of Dafce, Sask.; and John E. of Loree. One sister, Mrs. D. Garvin of Regina, Sask., also survives.

Card of Thanks

I desire to express my thanks to the electors of Markdale for again placing me in the Council. Having completed nine years of service I am now pleased to enter upon my tenth year. Happy New Year to all. Sincerely yours, J. R. Dillon.

Mr. MacDonald Says Committee Is Not Wrong

(Chesley Enterprise)
Following publication in The Enterprise last week of an article from the Markdale Standard, which claimed that the Education Committee of the Grey County Council was using the wrong system in computing educational costs to be paid by each township, we have received the following letter from Reeve D. J. MacDonald of Bentinck, an ex-Warden of Grey County and a member of this year's Education committee, as follows:

R. R. 3, Elmwood, Dec. 19, 1940.

Dear Mr. Schaub:
In this week's issue of The Enterprise, you refer to an article from The Markdale Standard in which exception is taken to the method adopted in the Grey County Council of computing the cost of county pupils attending High and Continuation Schools.

The Special Education Committee of Grey County Council—Mr. Hunter of Durham, Mr. Riley of Meaford, and myself—made a very thorough study of the Act, before interviewing Dr. Rogers of the Department of Education on this, among other matters, before computing the cost to the several municipalities.

It is quite possible that there may, in some instances, be unfairness in the apportioning of costs, but, if so, Mr. Colgan (editor of The Markdale Standard) would be well advised to use his influence to have the High School Act amended, rather than criticize the committee and the council which administers it.

I am sending you a copy of the High School Act (1938) underlining that portion of Section 35, sub-section (b), that specifies the manner in which the costs to the local municipalities are to be levied.

Very truly yours,
D. J. MacDonald.
So far as The Enterprise understands the issue, the Markdale paper felt that some schools have a lower cost per pupil day than other schools and therefore the townships which send pupils to such a school should get the benefit. In this reasoning, it pointed out that Collingwood township paid $1,785 more during the past two years than it should have paid, while Bentinck, for example, paid $659 too little. There is no justification in the Act, it claimed, for the Education Committee to average the cost for all townships and all schools.

This would hardly seem to be correct. The Act, as underlined by Mr. MacDonald, says that the levy shall be made "in the proportion that the days' attendance during the preceding calendar year of the county pupils who reside or whose parents reside in each of such municipalities, bears to the total days' attendance during such year of all county pupils the cost of whose education is to be paid by the county council."

In other words, and clearly enough when some of the verbiage is removed, the days' attendance of ALL county pupils is to be taken and the township, charged in proportion to the days' attendance of its pupils.

There is nothing here to indicate that townships are to pay the cost per pupil day of the schools where its pupils attend. Bentinck, for instance, has pupils attending the Chesley, Hanover and Durham High Schools, and we presume the cost per pupil day is different in each school. It is appealing to townships with pupils attending low-cost schools to think they should not pay as much as the townships where pupils attend a high-cost school, but there does not seem to be justification in the Act for such a hope. As Mr. MacDonald says, the fault, if there is fault, lies with the Act, not with the Committee.

In reply to the foregoing the editor of the Markdale Standard has this to say:

We are still quite sure the Education Committee of Grey County Council is wrong in its method of apportioning the costs of maintenance of County pupils under sub-section (b) of Section 35. In no place in the High School Act are schools referred to collectively. The Act provides that each school is to be dealt with as one school only. The whole act is quite clear and requires no amending but the interpretation of sub-section (b) of Section 35 as worked out by Mr. Hunter, Mr. Riley and Mr. MacDonald should surely be amended.

If the editor of the Chesley Enterprise will get a copy of the application for maintenance as presented by Chesley High School

Board to the Bruce County Council he can prove for himself and Mr. MacDonald that the method used in Grey is wrong. There is no dispute as to the interpretation of sub-section (a) of Section 35 but there is in connection with sub-section (b) which provides for raising the second fifty per cent of the maintenance costs due to each school, not all schools collectively. Take the full amount of the second fifty per cent of the account of the Chesley school and assess it to the municipalities from which County pupils have attended the school in proportion to the cost per day and the number of days in attendance. You do not deal with two or more schools at one time. The Act makes no provision for such. ALL in sub-section (b) refers to all county pupils attending that school with which you are dealing and none other.

If there is any section or sub-section in the whole act which even suggests that schools should be dealt with collectively we would like the editor of The Enterprise or Mr. MacDonald to point it out to us.

George Colgan Injured in Accident at Sudbury

From the Sudbury Star of Thursday last we clip the following item which refers to George Colgan, son of the editor of this paper.

George Colgan, of 336 Highland Ave., Sudbury, 26-year-old policeman with The International Nickel Company at Frood Mine and Justice Koya, of 124 Riverside Drive, are in the Copper Cliff Hospital, while George Labrick, of 47 Worthington Crescent, is charged with dangerous driving as a result of a car accident this morning at the intersection of Riverside Drive and the Copper Cliff road.

Colgan and Koya, both Inco employees, were rushed to the Copper Cliff Hospital, Colgan suffering from a badly fractured right leg and bruises, while Koya received a scalp injury. Both men are said to be improving, according to Copper Cliff authorities.

A slippery road is said by police to be partially to blame for the accident, although eye-witnesses allege Labrick, a taxi driver, was travelling at a very fast clip, police stated today.

Eye-witnesses told police that Colgan, accompanied by a friend named W. Naesmith, also of the Inco police at Frood Mine, were walking west along the Copper Cliff road when the accident happened. Naesmith had successfully crossed the road, and Colgan was attempting to do the same thing. Labrick, however, driving in a westerly direction, saw Colgan crossing the street and slammed on his brakes in an effort to stop.

The car skidded on the slippery street, it is said, and swerved around, striking a car driven by Roy Driscoll, of 662 White's Rd. Colgan was caught between the two vehicles and suffered a boom in his right leg when pinned. Koya was a passenger in the taxi.

Naesmith later told police that he had crossed the road and thought his friend, Colgan, was waiting for Labrick to drive past. He stated he had just reached the other side of the road when he heard a crash. He saw a body lying between the cars, and for a minute or so thought it was one of the people riding in one of the autos.

He rushed over to help the man and then found the injured person to be his friend. He stated he then telephoned for the ambulance as he thought Colgan was hurt seriously. Naesmith, supported by several eye-witnesses, declared Labrick was driving at a fast clip, according to police reports.

At first it was thought Colgan was badly hurt, and there remained a possibility that he might die. It was then that Labrick was charged with dangerous driving and was remanded for hearing until December 28. He was denied bail.

However, a check-up with Copper Cliff Hospital authorities revealed Colgan was suffering only from a badly fractured leg and minor bruises. Both men are expected to recover.

Money Is Raised To Plow Highway

An important meeting of the newly organized Beaver Valley Highway Association was held in the village hall, Kimberley, on Friday evening last with the president, Emerson Brown of Clarksburg, in the chair.

At a previous meeting an agitation was commenced to try and keep the Valley Road open from Kimberley via Eugenia to the County Road at Hoy's corner. This, it was estimated, would cost an additional $100 and it was doubtful whether this sum could be raised by the residents between Kimberley and the highway. Ernest Proctor of Eugenia pledged himself to raise the required amount and at Friday night's meeting turned over to the treasurer over $100 and pledges for a further sum of $50. His energetic efforts decided the meeting in adopting a motion to let the contract to H. A. McCauley of Flesherion who has an up-to-date snow plow and equipment. The contract price is $2.90 per hour.

D. A. Graham, who was awarded the contract for that portion of the road north of Kimberley, will purchase a new snowplow. The County Good Roads Committee was commended for its response to the Association's appeal for 2700 feet of new snow fence. The committee is supplying 2500 feet, without which it was felt it would be impossible to keep the road open.

A former principal of Markdale Public School, Simon F. Hunter, passed away at Sudbury on Thursday, Dec. 26th, as a result of injuries received when in a fight with Raymond Turcotte, hotel waiter. The trouble started when Mr. Hunter objected to the manner in which the waiter used an intoxicated guest in the beverage room. ### Local Goalie Making Good With Geraldton Team

That George Dundas is still able to keep the puck out of the net is quite evident from the report of a game played last week-end in Geraldton. The team he plays for won by a score of 3 to 1 and the local paper in writing up the game says: "Hero of the game was George Dundas, goalie, whose blocking stopped the Westies cold." The Standard joins with a host of Markdale friends in wishing George a big year in hockey.

Schedules Are Drawn Up For Two Hockey Groups

The juvenile series will comprise only three teams this year, instead of two sections as was the case last year. The teams will be Markdale, Dundalk and Shelburne. Double schedules were drawn up in both the intermediate and the juvenile series.

Eggs From This District In Overseas Shipment

(Dundalk Herald)
Residents of this district will be interested to know that eggs from this district are finding their way to the eastern seaboard for shipment overseas.

A letter received by Messrs. Rapp & Borinsky, proprietors of the Dundalk, Flesherion and Markdale Creameries, from Charles Lorimer bears this out. Lorimer, who used to be a salesman for the Creamery Package Co. of Toronto and is now in the Canadian Navy, under date of Dec. 16th writes as follows: "Picture my surprise when this morning I saw supplies come aboard the ship and the eggs were from the Markdale and Dundalk Creameries. Little did you realize when you packed them where they were going to end up."

The local creameries recently sold two carloads of storage eggs for export shipment, eggs which had been placed in storage during the heavy production period. It is presumed that it was part of this shipment which Mr. Lorimer saw being loaded at an Eastern Canadian port. There are 400 30-dozen egg cases to a carload.
