Markdale Fire Regretted

(The Dundalk Herald) The neighbouring village of Markdale experienced a disastrous fire think you are, of the future and last Thursday morning, with total loss being estimated all the way from $40,000 to $75,000.

Despite the fact that the village boasts an excellent water system, ods of raising money for war purthe firemen were handicapped for a poses. These were: borrowing from time by a series of unfortunate mismore prosperous nations, putting haps and lack of preparation for just in for assistance from Elesherton and Owen Sound, when the situation Sound chemical outfit failed to arbest of all. Four busines places were gutted and a yawning gap made in the business section One of the business places burned out was the up-to-date furniture store of Gordon Beaton, who is mar net duet. Miss Betty Down was ried to a Dundalk girl, Jennie Wright.

Dundalk citizens sympathize with their Markdale neighbors, individually and collectively, in the loss sustained, and trust that the burned out premises may be replaced and that an even greater Markdale may rise above the ashes. A fire such as this gives one just a little idea of the confusion and destruction caus ed by air raids in British and Euro-
