Free Publicity

(Winchester Press. Ont.)

During the past year or so we have noticed that when certain war services campaigns were launched, the weekly papers were asked to give wide publicity to the various causes through their news columns, but when the large paid advertisements were distributed, they were given to the dailies and a few selection. Wr. Patrick Gillan is busy moving the weekles. This is not fair treation. We suggest that the space of advertisement. We suggest that the space of advertisements in daily papers be farm.
