 One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in this part of the township for a long time, was the passing on of Mrs. R. G. Peart (Mary Anderson) on Saturday morning in the London Sanitarium, where she has been under treatment since last August. Mary was the third eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Anderson of Edge Hill and was in her 26th year. Most happily married to R. G. Peart three years ago, two little girls were born of the union, who have been lovingly cared for at the Anderson home. Mary attended No. 3 school and afterwards had three years training in Durham High School where she proved a brilliant pupil and had splendid dramatic ability. She won and retained the friendship of both school mates and the public generally by her kindly manner and cheery spirit. The remains were brought to Durham on Saturday p.m. to K. Kress' Apartments and then to her home in No. 9 section. The funeral, one of the largest ever seen in the neighborhood, took place on Monday afternoon to Zion where service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. H. Smith. She had ever taken an active part in Sunday School and church work. The choir sang two favorite hymns and Mrs. J. McCaslin's solo, "Good Night Down Here, Good Morning Up There" was wonderfully sweet and comforting. The pallbearers were two from Zion, two from Edge Hill and two from No. 9, as follows: Messrs. Howard Ritchie and Jos. R. Edwards, Victor Williams and H. H. McDonald, Gordon McCracken and John Hamilton. The floral tributes were very beautiful and were borne by Misses Margaret and Jean Williams, Blanche Beaton and Mary McNab; Messrs. Oren Peart, John Weir, Gordon Beaton and Ewen McNab.

 Besides the large concourse from the three neighborhoods and Durham we noticed Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Anderson, Mr. Clifford Anderson and Mr. Will McKechnie and daughter from Brampton. Very deep and sin-
