Steel Is Rationed In Canada To-day!

Shortage of Cream Cans Threatens Canada's Dairy Industry . . .

APPEAL TO ALL OUR FARMERS

Steel "priorities" have stopped the purchase of steel in Canada for all but essential industries. This means that cream cans will become almost impossible to secure. Already there is talk of an impending shortage, and the prices have advanced sharply.

A general appeal is being made throughout Ontario to have all extra cream cans (whether damaged or rusty) returned to the creameries. These will be repaired and re-tinned if necessary and put to their proper use. Good cans are urgently needed of course. THE BETTER THE BETTER!

We make the appeal to all FARMERS to give your best co-operation in restoring these cream cans to general circulation again.

CANADA NEEDS THOSE CANS!

Creamery closed Saturday night till further notice.
