LESSON 46 THINGS THAT MAR FAMILY LIFE

nesis 4:1-12; 27:1-45; Deuter-omy 24:1-5; Malachi 2:13-16; Matthew 5:31, 32; Mark 7:10-12; Luke 12:13-15; Romans 7:2, 3;

I Corinthians 7:10-16
PRINTED TEXT Genesis 27:30-45; Matthew 5:31, 32; Luke 12:13-15 GOLDEN TEXT.—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. Galatians 6:2. THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING

Time.—Dates are entirely un-important in this lesson, and, therefore, we classify these various passages only in a general chronological scheme. The first passage concerning Cain and Abel passage concerning Cain and Aber-is located at the very beginning of human history. The event we consider in the life of Jacob oc-curred about 1820 B.C. The laws of Moses were given some 300 years later. Malachi was written about 400 B.C. All the passages from the Gospels refer to the three-year period of our Lord's public ministry, while the two pas-sages from Paul's epistles, in this lesson, were written in A.D. 59

We do not know where Cain and Abel were living when the latter was slain. The family of Jacob lived, for the most part, in southern Palestine. Malachi prophesied in Judah. All of the utterances taken from the Gospels in this lesson were given in Palestine. The Epistle to the Romans was written from Corinth to Rome, whereas the First Epistle to the Corinthians was written from Ephesus to the Greek city of Corinth.

Deception

30. "And it came to pass, as blessing Jacob, and Jacob was yet scarce gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, that Esau his brother came in from his hunting. 31. And he also made savory food, and brought it unto his father; and he said unto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me. 32. And Isaac his father said unto him, Who art thou? And he said, I am thy son, thy firstborn, Esau. 33. And Isaoc trem-bled very exceedingly, and said, who then is he that hath taken venison, and brought it me, and I have eaten of all before thou comest, and have blessed him? yea, and he shall be blessed. 34. When Esau heard the words of his father, Bless me, even me also, O my father. 35. And he said, Thy brother came with guile, and hath taken away thy blessing."

Here we have a family broken up by the outstanding vice of deception. There is just one way of avoiding such a danger in our own We must determine in our hearts that never, no matter what the cost, or what the situation, will we stoop to deceive any mem-ber of the household, and then, as the years come and go, con-fidence is found to be secure, fidence faith in one another is always assured, and no matter how ceitful the world, and business life, and social life, may be, in the home each can trust the other, and rest in the confidence and the integrity of the entire family

Unfaithfulness

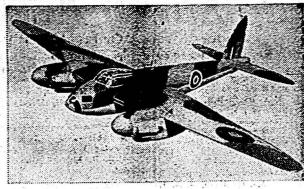

31. "It was said also, Whoso-ever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: 32. but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of for-nication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away comtaught that, in the purpose of the Creator, the two sexes were made for each other so that both to gether made up the ideal of humanity and that the holy bond of matrimony was the recognition of this fact in human nature. This tie, which is by anything else indissoluable, is by the mere fact of unfaithfulness dissolved.

Covetousness 13. "And one out of the multitude said unto him. Teacher, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me. 14. But he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you? 15. And he said unto them, Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth."

We are not told whether the man was making an unjust claim on his brother, but he was certainly making an unjust claim on Jesus, whose work did not include settling of property. The man grasped at any means of obtain-ing what he desired, invading Christ's time and trying to impose upon his brother an extraneous authority. Jesus knowing that covetousness was at the root of the brother's unreasonable request, takes the opportunity of warning the whole multitude against this prevalent and subtle sin.

two men, whose names are not given, had already brought about a spirit of bitterness in the heart of one who thought he had been unjustly dealt with, so that already there is a disrupting force in this home, because of the burning desire in the heart of one of these brothers for property, for wealth, for visible things which in part, at least, at this time were in the hands of another member of his family. He was more con-cerned with possession of this property than he was for the welfare of his brother or the peace of the home.

Here is another rock, the lust for material possessions, on which many and many a home has been wrecked and many a brother separated from his own kin, for all the years of mature manhood; inculcating bitterness, prompting one to speak evilly, maliciously of those involved in such property assignments. Deliverance from this destructive force can be found by making an honest living for ourselves, by desiring to be right

Three Deer Bagged By King's Daughter

Princess Elizabeth went deer hunting with her father recently in Scotland and bagged three in one day.

The Royal family, it was revealed, left Balmoral Castle, Scotland, after a long stay on the Des-side because of the illness of Queen Elizabeth, who has now recovered from bronchitis.

The Princess went hunting with her father for an entire day, using a telescope to sight the deer and count their "points."

The biggest animal she bagged was a 10-pointer. She once sighted a "royal" 12-pointer, but did not shoot the animal. Deer of that type are left to breed.

Britain Garners Miracle Harvest

Bumper Crop Estimated At 110,000,000 Bushels

Estimates of the "miracle" har-vest garnered in the United King-dom this year were contained in a Dominion Bureau of Statistics wheat review issued in Ottawa which also predicted that the bumper crop would mean curtailment of Canadian wheat sales to

While official figures of the wheat crop which will relieve Bri-tain's shipping problem were un-available, the bureau said that private observers had estimated the production at between 100,000. 000 and 115,000,000 bushels, indicating record yields per acre.

The pre-war per are yield was about 36 bushels on about 1,700,090 acres, but this year it appeared to have exceeded 40 bushels on about 2,400,000 acres.

"Such a crop means much to Britain in terms of valuable ship-ping space freed to carry war materials other than wheat to the United Kingdom, although it probably also means that Canada's market for wheat and flour in Britain will suffer curtailment," the bureau said.

In addition to a record-breaking Canadian wheat crop estimated at 615,000,000 bushels, the bureau said that elsewhere "the high tide of world wheat supplies continues to rise."

The United Kingdom harvest has been gathered, while a few weeks hence another river of new wheat will flow from the farms in Australia

"In 1942 the bread-grain supplies are stacked high in favor of the United Nations, while Nazi Ger-many and German-occupied Europe produced this year 15 percent less bread grain (wheat and rye) than a year ago, and 25 percent less than the average of the four years 1935-38, according to a statement credited to the British Min-istry of Economic Warfare," it Australian crop is estimated at 145,000,000 bushels of which probably not more than 60,000,000 bushels will be used at home, "leaving $5,000,000 bushels to be added to the accumulated crops which is believed to be quite substantial.

"A high yield per acre in Aus tralia, as in Canada and the United States appears to have more thn offset the reduction in wheat

Raid Leaves 5,000 Homeless In Milan

A Swiss Telegraphic Agency dispatch said the recent R.A.F. raid upon Milan damaged all quarters of the Italian industrial cen-tre, started 30 large fires and 300 smaller ones and left 5,000 persons homeless.

The dispatch said Milan's fire companies made more than 700 runs during the bombing in response to calls for aid.

THE BOOK SHELF

RAINBOW AT DUSK By Emilie Loring

Lovely Jessamine Ramsay, vis-iting on her Aunt Ellen Marshall's plantation, had always sworn that she would never marry a soldier -but that was before Major Vance Trent landed on the lawn by parachute. And she did not know that Vance's accident had been planned, that he had been sent by his Commanding Officer at Aunt Ellen's request to investigate rumored subversive activities in the Marshall mills.

Jessamine's life is complicated by many admirers. Philip Maury is anxious to leave his wife to marry Jess. Barry Collins, super-intendent of the plantation, is equally anxious to marry her partially because of revenge and partially because of ambition. Johnny Gordon, attached to the nearby army camp, has been trying for years to persuade Jess to marry

Here in Emilie Loring's latest book will be found romance and intrigue, skillfully woven by an author who writes vividly and entertainingly of fascinating people.

RADIO REPORTER REX FROST

You'd Dimble - Dumble - Snip. hardly associate such a trio of names with a radio programme at first, would you? Sounds more like the title of a "boogie" woogie" dance orchestra hit. But no. Dimble, Dumble and Snip were three characters heard last Sunday afternoon over the C.B.C. National network, 5.30 p.m. (in-National network, 5.30 p.m. (meluding CBL Toronto) in the Magic Carpet series. I bet that many of you boys and girls who read this will feel sorry that you missed this funny story with Snip the Tailor, Dimble the rascal, and Dumble another rascal, and Dumble another raseal, last Sun-

"Aside from war." That is the title of a news broadcast currently being heard Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. CFRB, Toronto. From all accounts this interpreta-tion of the news supported by the friendly informal personality of Maurice Bodington is becoming quite one of the most popular orning newscasts. It is, as the title suggests, aside from war, and is built from news items of special interest to the ladies . . chatty human interest items concerning members of the fair sex prominent in city and rural life across the Dominion, club activities and so on.

And while we are speaking of daytime programmes, the Colum-bia Broadcasting System has re-cently started a novel series of evening shows designed to ac-quaint late listeners with the wide range of its daytime fare. The first of the new series was heard last Monday, and will continue to last Monday, and will continue to be a feature of C.B.S. outlets in the United States and Canada, Monday evenings 10.30 to 11 p.m. The shows are of exceedingly varied proportions and are patterned in such a manner as to make available to night-time audiences, programmes which have established outstanding reputations during the daylight hours. The series got off to a good start last Monday with Ben Bernie and Kate Smith, presented under the programms style "Daylight Showcase."

In the sphere of fine music the Toronto Symphony orchestra has already established a splendid re-putation. Lovers of better class music will welcome back to the air waves Sir Ernest MacMillan's aggregation of top-notch musicians, which is to be heard this win-ter over a special C.B.C. network, Tuesday evenings 9 o'clock. The orchestra's leader will appear as a regular member of the newly formed Canadian trio which in-cludes Kathleen Parlow and Zara

For dancing and listening peace of mind in Canada, here's inter-esting news. Mart Kenney and his Western Gentlemen are starting their eighth season on C.B.C.'s national network . . . 8.45 Sunday evenings. It is interesting to re-call that several Canadian maestros have gained continental fame, have moved from the land of their birth to the domain of the Stars and Stripes. But Mart Kenney has elected to remain in Canada But Mart Kenney and play for the entern of Canadians. It is noy years since Mart Kenn his first bid for success.
