3od's Promise To Israel

"Ard Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying, I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel: speak unto them, saying, At even ye shall eat flesh, and in the forming ye shall be filled with bread; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah your God." Once again the Lord speaks to Moses, telling him that through this experionce of enjoying God's bounty God was the Lord their God. The instruction of His people is a primary object with God. He has gifted them with reason, and He expects to be served with the un-derstanding and the will. It is manifest that every event in His dealings with them is a step in the cess of their spiritual train-

"And it came to pass at even, that the quails came up, and cov-ered the camp; and in the morning the de lay round about the camp." An extraordinary flight of quails was over the camp. It is a not uncommon occurrence that, when wearied, these birds droop and settle down for rest, so as to be easily clubbed with sticks, and even eaught by the hand. The miraculous provision chiefly lay in the extraordinary number, the seasezable arrival, and the pe-culiar circumstances under which these quails came. "And when the dew that lay was some up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness a small round thing, small as the hoarfrost on the ground. And when the children of legal saw it, they said one to not what it was. And Moses said unto them. It is the bread which Jehovah hath given you to eat." There is a natural-substance with which this manna is compared. It is a deposit from the air which falls in trees, stones, grass, etc., and is generally thick and sticky like honey, but under certain circumstances is concreted into small granular masses. It is collected by the Arabs and eaten with their unleasened cakes as condiment. It it comes with the dew; it is never does not fall for more than two months in the year. But the mannot think that war work should be considered as something apart from our ordinary work—as some-thing that we will do when we get around to it. I think we should regard it as part of our day's work; as something that must be done ere the sun goes down-or maybe after the sun goes down. There is still so much need for all the sewing and knitting we can do. If one of those poor little bombed out children should come to your door-frightened, ragged, hungry and homeless-how gladly you would take her in; how quick-ly you would get good nourishing food: how frantically you would search the house over for suitable clothes; and how gently you would try to reassure the terror-stricken child that with you she would be safe-that you would take care of
