

To four-year-old "Teddy" Cartwright life in Cobourg these days is pretty dull. And sad. Honorary colonel of a hospital unit stationed at Cobourg, he said his good-byes bravely when he inspected the unit for the last time. Arrival of the unit overseas has been announced. "Colonel" Cartwright is pictured above. With Col. C. F. Abbott, officer commanding the unit, he is seen at right making a final inspection of the unit. The best pals he ever had have now gone off to war and he has been left behind with nothing to console him but memories of the happiest days of his short life.

Record Of Four Years Of War Is Full Of German Mistakes

The Nazis seemed to have good reason to believe that the war, which is now about to enter its fifth year, could be brought to conclusion satisfactory to them within perhaps the first twelve Times. For more than twelve months, indeed, everything turned out even better than they had expected. In Poland the weather miled on them and the roads and fields remained conveniently dry for their tanks. The French were more divided and even less well prepared than early reports had indicated. The British were unready, except at sea and in the little matter of fighting aircraft. In fact, the very weakness of Gerany's enemies in 1940 was perhaps responsible for throwing the Nazi machine out of gear. With a determined effort the Nazis might have effected a landing in Britain a July or August, 1940. Unfortun ately for them, the blueprints for this operation were not completed. The invasion was transferred to the air, and in the air Germany

The Wisest Course

Yet the situation was still hope ful for the Nazis. If they could not invade Britain it was still less minion allies to invade the Continent. At the beginning of 1941 any calculation of material war strength would have suggested that a Nazi victory was only a matter of time. On the basis of previous experience, it seemed un-likely that either Russia or the Linited States would enter the war unless attacked. Germany's wises course one would have thought. Africa. On The Defensive But by this time the Nazis were either too confident or too apprehensive, it is hard to tell which. To forestall a two-front war they started one. They opened against Russia a "battle of annihilation." Then they added Japan to their active allies and the United States to their active enemies. They killed a great many people during 1941, but they ended the year with about 300,000,000 more antagonists than they had had at its begin-Every spring since 1941 it has been customary to say that if the Nazis did not win that summer they would not win. They failed of a conclusive victory in 1941 and again in 1942. This summer, except for a limited and futile of-fensive in the neighborhood of Kursk, they have not even tried for victory. They have been too busy staving off defeat.

Nazi Mistakes The record of the four years is full of Nazi mistakes. Most of them were due to their inability to understand other people. To their savage cruelty in Norway, the Low Lands and France they added wholesale pilfering, alienating millions who might otherwise have become resigned to their rule. They were humorless and corrupt abroad as at home. They stirred up hatred and disgust among their own allies, notably in Italy but also, beyond doubt, in Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Austria. They misjudged America's fighting qualities. They grossly underestimated Russia's

Lesson For Axis hese things help to explain why Germany cannot now win. They also point the moral that no nation, however well prepared, however ruthless, can be master of the whole world. The enemies of such a nation increase faster than they can be disarmed or slain. Their courage, ingenuity and persistence are sharpened by per-il. The aggressor nation stirs up forces against which it cannot with nothing less than its military struction. OTTAWA BEPORTS

The new ration allowances for jams, jellies, syrups, canned fruit and similar products, with the permission to obtain as an alternative one-half pound of sugar for each coupon, is really a big and important concession to the rural folk of Canada.

The news behind the news of that order is that the Wa-time Prices and Trade Board realized that inasmuch as rural fold for the most part do their owa pre-serving of these tasty commodi-ties and country stores are rarely stocked with them in any event, the old situation worked irequal-

The country people claimed that any more or less even dis-tribution of sugar for home canning was unfair to them, and the new order was issued in recogni-tion of that claim, and to effect a more nearly equitable alloca-tion of sweetspreads in the light of real circumstances.

The new order means, in effect, sugar for the rural folk for their fall apple sauce and more particularly sugar with which to sweeten those preserves which they put down earlier without sugar. The new order means that when they open those jars of unsweetened fruits they will have ample sugar with which to sweeten them. At same time the urban folk have their permission to use their coupons to obtain their jam rations at the city stores.

Two "D" coupons from the new ration book become good each month and for each coupon the purchaser has the choice of: Six fluid ounces of jam, jelly, marmalade, extracted honey, apple butter, maple butter or honey butter, or;
 Ten fluid ounces of molasses

or maple syrup, or;
3. Ten fluid ounces of canned

4. Twelve fluid ounces of corn syrup, cane syrup or any blended table syrup, or;

5. One-half pound of maple sugar or comb honey in squares.
As an alternative to any of these commodities the these commodities the consumer may obtain for his "D" coupon

WISE INVESTORS PREFER STOCKS TO CASH

It is beginning to down on many investors, that hourded copital and unproductive bank occounts are pretty poor aids in meeting increased taxes and the high cost of living. Particularly now, when it is possible to buy many sound common stocks, at bargain prices, which possess substantial market appreciation possibilities.

Nevertheless, this is no time to just buy stocks blindly. Most investors are in possession of such meagre information on security values, that it is purely a matter of luck if they hoppen to make any profits at all. Not only is it important to know what to BUY but that which is more important is to know when to HOLD or SELL.

PREDICTING THE TREND

In March of this year we went on record that a Bull market of major proportions was in the making, and we further predict that this powerful Bull market should carry through to the year end. Right now American buying of Canadian securities is et a new peak and "good buys" are becoming increasingly scarce. This is one of the many reasons why we are continuously on the lookout for low-priced issues that have unusual profit-making possibilities.

EVEN NOW WE ARE INVESTIGATING THE MERITS OF SEVERAL LOW-PRICED STOCKS, WHICH, IF THEY MEASURE UP TO OUR EXPECTATIONS, SHOULD OFFER OUTSTANDING SPECULATIVE INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES.

These recommendations will be sent to you without cost by the "special service department" of Clifford Reilly Investment Counsellor awned and operated by Clifford Reilly and Company. We feel that with a record breaking stock market in prospect we can offer you an intelligent, honest and efficient investment service, but we expect no business unless and until we can conclusively prove that you need our Investment Counsel. . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . .

The Last Shot

Wars sometimes peter out in a very prosaic manner. It was so with the Franco-German war of 1870-1. One evening at supper Bismarck announced to his friends, "At twelve o'clock tonight our troops and the French will exchange their last shots, and I have agreed that the latter shall fire the last one."

Shortly before midnight the Chancellor and his guests went outside their hotel at Versailles. and waited. Presently they heard a shot from the Germans, follow-ed after a brief interval by the French reply. As the echo of the second shot died away the tower clock struck twelve and the Franco-German war was over.
