How Can 1?

By Anne Ashley Q. How can I remove paint stains from clothing?

A. Either fresh or dry stains can be removed from delicate materials without injury by sponging with chloroform. Wash fabrics can with chloroform. Wash fabrics can be saturated with turpentine, rubbed well between the hands and then washed in soapy water. For a very old and dry stain, add a little ammonia to the turpentine and soak the stains in this for an hour or two before laundering.

Q. How can I make better sweet pickles?

pickies?

A. A small amount of vanilla and a small amount of lenion extract added to the syrup just before it is poured over the fruit will add a delicious flavor when making sweet pickles.

Q. How can I remove perspiration from silk? Q. How can I remove perspa-ation from silk?

A. Perspiration stains on a deli-cate silk garment can usually be removed by rubbing gently with a soft dry cloth.

Q. How can I avoid clogging the sink drain?

A. Hot grease should not be poured down the drain pipe of the sink. It will congeal as soon as it strikes the cold pipe and tend to clog it.

Q. How should blisters from sunburn be opened?

sunburn be opened?
A. Do not break sunburn blisters, as this only adds to their dis-comfort. A new layer of skin will form under the blisters and they will break of their own accord.

Artic Route Tough Summer or Winter

There has been some question in the minds of sailors on the Arctic route to Russia, as to whether they prefer to make the trip in the summer or in the winter. It is a choice of evils: in the winter there is the frightful cold, and the heavy weather, but there is some protection from the enemy in the darkness of the 24-hour nights. In the summer the going is a little more comfortable, but the 24-hour daylight exposes the ships to con-stant observation and attack from the enemy. The daylight is now getting quite long in the Arctic but the weather was reported as

Crew of Four Mans Midget Submarines

The ridget submarines, known as "X" craft, are like ordinary submarines, but much smaller and even more cramped and have no conning tower. They are manned by a crew of four. They are about 40 feet long. The only superstructure is a guard rail for the two periscope tubes and a mast-like air riscope tubes and a mast-like air vent. To this is attached a steel arm with a strong leather belt, to which the captain straps himself when on the deck for observation

RIVERS MAY BE NAZIS' 'LAST DITCHES'

Hitler's fast-fleeing armies in Poland are approaching the last natural defense barriers offered by the comparatively flat terrain — the lines of the Bug and Wista rivers, as indicated on map above. Arrows show general direction of Red army drives, a north-central one skirting the Pripet Marshes and a south-central one, converging in a giant pincers on Warsaw, thence on toward Berlin.

THE SNIPER PLAYS HIS PART

The man with the rifle is still a main cog in battle and Canadian soldiers, many of them expert marksmen like this sniper drawing a bead on the enemy from his post in a shell-ruined house, took a heavy toll of Nazi defenders of Europe on invasion day.

A WELCOME TO CANADA

Gen. Charles De Gaulle, president of the French Committee of National Liberation is greeted by Prime Minister King at Rock-cliffe Airport, Ottawa. Gen. De Gaulle visited the capital city for one day, when he laid a wreath on the National War Memorial, and addressed an immense throng crowding the grounds before the Peace Tower of the Canadian Parliament buildings.

SEZ WHO?

Sgt. Theodore Herman, of Ravenna, N. Y., chuckles as, with his trench knife, he rips one of Herr Goebbels' propaganda posters off the wall of a Cherbourg building. The poster is a map of Italy, showing British and American forces in the south symbolized by a snail, with the slogan: "It's a Long Way to Rome."

BEFORE TABLES TURNED
