Mrs. Wm. E. Douglas

Following a lengthy illness Mrs. Wm. E. Douglas passed away early on Sunday morning, Oct. 1st, at her home in Artemesia about two miles from Markdale. For the past two years she had been blind.

The late Mrs. Douglas was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Brown and was born in St. Vincent township. She was in her 61st year. On April 19th, 1911, she was united in marriage to William Douglas, who survives. Together they farmed in Artemesia and took their places in community and church affairs. ## Killed In Action

Lieut. Jackson Stewart son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Fiesherston, who was reported killed in action.

In Margaret Aitken's column, "Between You and Me" in The Evening Telegram in the issue of Monday, Sept. 29th, a tribute is paid to the late Lieut. Jackson Stewart in an article which we copy below:

"On more than one occasion during the past two months I have written of the 48 Canadian officers who crossed on the same ship with me to England. 'The Cream of Canada' we called these fine young men who volunteered to join British regiments; arrived in Britain just prior to D-Day and were among the first to penetrate enemy fortifications in France."

"From time to time reports come to me of these Canadians who wanted, above all else, to get on with the war. They volunteered to join the British regiments for that reason alone. They wanted to see this nightmare finished. They wanted to return to their wives and children and jobs and homes."

"Such a one was Jackson Stewart of Orchard View Blvd. in Toronto, who has been killed in France, according to word received by his wife yesterday. Jack was a teacher prior to war. He didn't hate anyone but he did love his profession and his way of life and his country. And the greatest of these was his country. He laid down his profession and his life for his country."

"When these Canadian officers arrived in England they were sent in pairs to various crack British Regiments. With Jackson Stewart went Hugh Mackenzie of Don Mills Road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacKenzie and Hugh also has paid a high price for his patriotism. He was seriously wounded in France and will be in hospital many, many months before being united with his loved ones."

"The Cream of Canada," we laughingly called these courageous young men, and no truer words were ever spoken in jest."

In Memoriam

BENNETT—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Sergt. Air Gunner William John Bowles Bennett, R.C.A.F., killed on active service in his 23rd year, October 6th, 1942, and buried in Wiltan Cemetery, Birmingham, England.

These laid the world away; poured out the red

Sweet wine of youth; gave up the years to be

Of work and joy and that unhelped serene

That men call age and those who would have been

Their sons, they gave their immortality.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Sisters and Brothers.

Wing Commander Palmer had just returned to England after a month's leave in Canada, during which time he spoke to the Rotary Club here. A twin brother, Sgt. James Palmer is also serving overseas.

What To Put In Christmas Parcels Overseas

Service men and women know what they want to find in their stockings this Christmas—clothing, cigarette cases, cosmetics and Christmas cake.

A survey by The Canadian Press showed that sailors serving at sea put a water-proof wrist-watch as first choice followed by small portable radios, flannel pyjamas, bedroom slippers, comb and brush sets, monogrammed writing paper and pen and pencil sets.

The shore-based seaman adds to this list white broadcloth shirts, hard collars and black ties, books and toilet articles. Both want underwear, identification bracelets and phonograph records—provided they arrive in one piece.

Army men overseas ask particularly that gifts be wrapped in Christmas paper and tinsel to bring a breath of homelike Yuletide articles such as razor blades, toilet and bath soap, shaving cream and chocolates, cigarettes, Christmas cake and cookies and canned meats.

Airmen overseas want cigarettes, tobacco, pipes and pipe cleaners, lighters and flints, films, flashlights, handkerchiefs, pens and pencil sets, chocolate bars, sweaters, socks, slippers, pyjamas and soap.

Service women hope especially to find small cosmetic kits that will fit into their pouchettes when they open their parcels. Sports clothes they wear off duty, note papers and stamps and handkerchiefs are also popular.

Wrens will appreciate gold "Canada" flashes and hooks supplied by jewelers, black silk stockings and broadcloth shirts, black ties, white silk scarfs, bath mats and soap.

Members of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) and the Canadian Women's Army Corps both urge pretty feminine lingerie with plenty of lace and frills but the Wrens have little use for them since the type of underwear they wear is controlled by navy regulations.

W. D.'s want pyjamas and flannel dressing gowns, regulation silk stockings, books, theatre tickets and clothes lines and pins.

C.W.A.C.'s would like fleecy-lined gloves, cameras, alarm clocks (if you can find them), sewing kits, writing kits and fountain pens, books, cameras and bedroom slippers.

Nursing sisters stationed in North Africa and India would be pleased with gait swim suits, light-weight sports clothes, housecoats, lingerie, sun glasses, skirt hangers, zippers and sheer stockings. Nursing sisters stationed in other parts of the world would appreciate the same sort of presents as the members of the other women's services.

Thanksgiving Day

Monday next, October 9, is Thanksgiving Day and this year we have much to be thankful for. Bountiful crops, the satisfactory progress of the war, not to mention many lesser blessings such as the lifting of restrictions as to electric power, tea and coffee rationing, etc. and above all the prospect that before another Thanksgiving Day comes around, peace and many of our fighting men home to make that day perfect.

Card of Thanks

To all my neighbors and friends who were so kind and helpful in my recent bereavement and during the long illness of Mrs. Douglas I desire to say sincerely "Thank you". At the same time I would like to acknowledge the care and attention given Mrs. Douglas by Dr. Carefoot and the hospital staff during her stay there, and I also wish to express deep gratitude to Rev. N. E. Caswell for his cheerful visits and messages of encouragement.
