fourteen members of the organization took part.

The service of readings, carols and candie-lighting ceremony, was led by Fleanor Henry. The Scripture story of Christ's birth was read by Dorcen Alcox, who led also in the responsive reading about the coming of the wise men. "Infant Holy" was sung by Marian Beaton. The girls joined in repeating the C.G.I.T. purpose.

The church lights being dimmed, Mrs. N. E. Caswell, leader of the group, conducted the candle-lighting ceremony and lighted the tall central candle, illustrative of Christ, the Light of the World, from which the light was given to others who in turn passed it on until all candles were lighted. Rev. N. E. Caswell spoke of the Star which led the wise men to Christ. The loose collection was given to the group, in support of the movement and to provide leadership.

SUNDAY-December 31st, 1944

Range, Meaford, spent Sunday with his wife and daughter, Marguerite.

The following is a letter, dated Dec. 6th, 1944; from Major R. B. Murray, Somewhere in Holland:
Dear Mr. Colgan,
I have been meaning to write you for some time, but I fear that the war has done little to improve me as a correspondent. That, my natural laziness and the fact that there is little to talk about must be my excues; but you may be sure that I haven't forgotten Markdale and my friends. The Standard reaches me with regularity. I was extremely sorry to read in the last issue I received, of the presumed death of Jackson Stewart. I didn't see him at all over here.

We have just finished helping the villagers to celebrate Christmas; the 6th of December is their "Santa Claus" day, and the 25th is reserved for more or less religious observance. We mana member of Knoahere.

The funeral was held on Monday with a short service at her late residence followed by a public service at 2 Zion United Church. Rev. A. W. March was in charge of the service and interment was in Zion Cemetery.

The pallbearers were six nephews. Emerson, Robert, James and Oren Peart, James Hudson.

The floral tributes were from the sense of the Peart family; nephews and nieces of the Peart family; mrs. Hudson and family and Ruby Knisely.
