Ed. Colgan, Standard Editor, Passes After Short Illness

Albert Edward Colgan, for twenty-four years editor and publisher of The Markdale Standard, died on Sunday, January 21st, 1945, in his sixty-eighth year. Son of Jehn and Sarah Colgan, pioneer residents of Proton Township, he was born and spent his early life in Durdalk. There he married Mary E. Balley, who survives him, together with the five children of their marriage, Mr. W. J. Colgan (Jack), Mrs. Robt. Mc-Loughry (Eunice), Mrs. Fred McCutcheon (Inez) of Markdale, Mr. George Colgan and Miss Naomi Colgan of Toronto. One of a family of twelve children, a brother and sister survive. They are: Samuel, in Kansas, and Mrs. John Currie (Lyda) of Toronto.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, January 24th, with service in Christ Church and temporary repose in Markdale Memorial Chapel. Service was conducted by Rev. W. Bradbury of Dundalk with Christ Church choir assisting. Rev. N. E. Caswell of Annesley United Church conducted a short private service at the Colgan home.

Honorary pallbearers were: Messrs. Wm. Burnett, J. A. Crowston, W. J. Howard, Harry Shaw, T. H. Reburn, T. H. Wilson, Dr. L. G. Campbell and H. C. Claridge of Dundalk. Active pallbearers, who were representatives from the Orange, Black Knights, Oddfellows and Masonic lodges, included: Alex. Acheson, Ran. Bradey, Russell Dixon, Joseph England, A. O. It can hardly be denied that "Bd" Colgan (as he was familiarly known) will be sorely missed for many a day. He was a man who took a keen interest in the affairs of the community in which he lived. Although not an old man, as age is measured in these modern days, his interests and activities were widespread and were his concern right up to his last short but fatal illness. While he might be designated editor and publisher, or, perhaps, because he was both of these, he gave much thought to public service in civic, state, fraternal and social affairs. In his young manhood, he was a member of the Dundalk lacrosse team. In his time he served both Dundalk and Markdale as Chief Magistrate and representative in the County Council. His fraternal affiliations were varied, and his elevation to high office in the Orange, Black Knight, Masonic and Odd Fellow organizations was evidence of the confidence and esteem in which he was held by his brethren in those Orders. While not a charter member of the Markdale Rotary Club, his life was an exemplification of the Rotary motto, "He Profits Most Who Serves Best," and it was largely through his efforts as a member of the Band Committee of the Rotary Club that Markdale Band was re-organized.

As a member, then secretary, and finally chairman of the Markdale Cemetery Board, his work in that body has been largely responsible for the fact that Markdale Cemetery is considered by Provincial authorities as a model for small town Cemetery operators. It can hardly be denied that "Ed" Colgan (as he was familiarly known)

Cemetery Board, ins work in that body has been algely responsible the fact that Markdale Cemetery is considered by Provincial authorities as a model for small town Cemetery operators.

In political affairs he was always alive to the importance of responsible government. A strong adherent to Conservative Policies, he had filled the offices of Secretary of the Grey-Bruce Association and President of the South Grey Conservative Association. In the Provincial election of 1943 he was the candidate of his party in the South Riding of Grey. Although unsuccessful in this venture, his party attained office and he became its confidential consultant and made many trips to Queen's Park in the interest of the riding. One thing which will stand out clearly in the memory of the people of this community is that, while he was always an enthusiastic politician, he never once used his newspaper to publish any mean or disparaging remarks against an opponent.

Perhaps, particularly among the younger members of the community, he will be best remembered as the re-organizer, trainer and leader of Markdale Citizens' Band. Serving without remuneration, and with very little material assistance in the matter of instruments or personnel, his tircless energy, ability and life-long love for band mustc succeeded in building up into a worth-while organization a junior group of musicians who will live to bless him for his kindly and considerate efforts in their behalf.

To the family who mourn is tendered the sincere and heartfest sympathy of the people of the community he loved and served.

Ditty Bags Sent To Sailors

Spensored by the Patriotic Committee of Freedom Chapter, O.E.S., a total of thirteen dirty bags were recently packed and forwarded through the Navy League of Canada, Ontariodivision, as gifts to sailors. Six of these were donated by Freedom Chapter, five by the High School pupils, one from the Trail Rangers and one by Mrs. Stan. Kidd. At least one of these has been acknowledged in a letter to Mrs. Kidd by a sailor, stationed at Halifax.

at Haifax.

The fact that these gifts are sorely needed and greatly appreciated is contained in a clipping in which a sailor acknowledges receipt of a ditty sailor acknowledges receipt of a duty bag.

"When everybody gets something and is trying to share it with his buddies it really makes Christmas 'come alive'—that's why a ditty bag really boosts the morale of every rating. Many of us have no relatives or friends from whom we may expect a Christmas gift, so that the annual ditty bag is the only thing that keeps us from feeling that we are entirely forgotten. I've become more or less us from feeling that we are entirely forgotten. I've become more or less immed to it in five years of navy time, but it is a sad thing to watch the expression of some of the boys' faces when they see, other fellows opening parcels from home and they know they won't be able to do the same. It's not so much being missed as it is having nothing to share with your shipmates after already having partaken of their bounty!"

Woollen sweaters, mits, socks, helmets are urgently needed for forwarding to those at sea. A donation of $4 to any branch will buy one for a sailor merchant seaman if those who want to help cannot make them

Thos. Littlejohns

Relatives have received word of the death of Thomas Littlejohns of Inglewood, Calif., who passed away there on Tuesday, January 16th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Spence. He was in his 88th year.

The late Mr. Littlejohns was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Littlejohns, early pioneers of this locality. At the age of 22 he went to Winnipeg and some years later to Montana where he was very successful in coal mining. Some 25 or 30 years ago he retired and moved to California to spend the remainder of his life.
