Who Is The Reception Committee?

Once again we ask, will there be a reception committee appointed in Markdale to receive the soldier boys returning home? The whole thing awaits the pleasure of the town officials. Just taking it for granted hardly expresses our appreciation.

NEWS OF OUR BOYS IN UNIFORM

L.A.C. Golden Patterson, stationed with the R.C.A.F. at Uplands was home at Markdale for the week-end.

L.A.C. Lloyd Armstrong of Markdale, accompanied by his mother, visited for a few days with relatives at London, Ont.

Mrs. Clifford P. Hartley just received word that her husband, Pte. Clifford P. Hartley has arrived safely in Belgium. He is fine and still going strong.

L.A.W. Jean Scott of Gimli, Man., was a visitor for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Scott and Bert here and with her sister, Beryl Scott of Toronto.

Dvt. Carson Page was a week-end visitor with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Page here. Carson, who had been stationed at Debert, N.S., for nearly two years has recently been transferred to Orillia.

After spending nearly three years as a prisoner of Germany following the Dieppe raid, news has been received here telling of the safe arrival in England of Pte. Maxwell Ackles, brother-in-law of Mrs. W. J. Colgan of Markdale.

P.O. Jack Maher of Chatsworth, who was shot down over Berlin in January of last year, and who has since been a prisoner of Germany, has arrived safely in England, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Maher.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lawson have received word that their son, Pte. Murray E. Lawson, has arrived overseas. Murray had just recovered from the German measles before leaving and had the red measles on landing on the other side of the pond.

Home from the western coast on a month's furlough is Howard York after an absence of nearly nine months. Howard was met in Toronto on Sunday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston York. He will report back to Vancouver on the twenty-first of next month.

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Mella, Jim's impressions of Belgium and Holland as compared with Italy are one with many other soldiers who have been moving from the front part, he says, "Just like stepping out of the dark into daylight between the two. The Belgium people are much clearer and are very friendly. Quite a few speak English." Jim is one of the boys doing double duty by buying bonds and informs his folks he has another one on the way.

Canadians everywhere were grieved to hear of the crashing of "P for Fred" at Calgary, and the loss of the two airmen who had come to Canada to help "put over" the Eighth Victory Loan. These two fliers of the R.A.F., "the few to whom so many owe so much," who had been over Germany for more than a hundred operational flights, flew over this part of Ontario on V-E Day, only to meet their death on the continent. That gallant men should sacrifice their lives in order to build new life and more millions has been described by critics as sheer folly.

Bill Sprung, who has made his home with W. J. McFadden's before enlisting says that after being in quite a few countries, he finds that Belgium and Holland are about the cleanest and most beautiful on the continent. Adding the people are very friendly and broad-minded. Bill says they have received a grand welcome every place "we" have liberated and it is very touching to see how very happy they are to see us. At the time of writing Bill thought it might not be long till most of the local boys would have the privilege of seeing good old Markdale again.

Capt. Walter Henderson of Holland Centre, a medical officer in His Majesty's Army recently wrote a letter to his wife, residing in Toronto, mentioning the fact that while on board a supply ship bound for India he had performed an emergency appendectomy operation under unusual and hazardous conditions. Capt. Henderson is the son of Mrs. M. Henderson who has been a resident of Holland Centre for a number of years. Capt. Henderson was born and reared in Markdale. He is a graduate of Markdale High School and Western Ontario University, London, Ont. After his graduation he was posted to Vancouver St. Paul's Hospital where he received further training in Regimental Aid Post. Capt. Henderson spent the next four months in Aldershot Military Hospital, Kentville, N.S., where he was chosen to accompany a convoy of ships to India. As a medical student in London University, Capt. Henderson spent one of his summers as an intern in Owen Sound General and Marine Hospital. Capt. Henderson's letter was posted enroute to India following the operation mentioned above.

Beat This If You Can

Imagine asking for a dozen eggs, and being handed three. Or did you ever hear of a four-poker? Well, it has been done! We have the evidence here, a white Leghorn's egg which tips the scale at exactly half a pound, three of which would equal a dozen and a large for weight. The circumference both ways measures 8 1/2 by 6 1/2 inches, so that it very much resembles a goose egg.

The hen that did the deed belongs to Laurence Thompson of Euphrasia and next to the goose that laid the golden egg, we think this hen ranks first.

WALTER E. HARRIS

Real Social Security or Rationed Scarcity?

To the political and economic reactionary, Social Security is something to be used as a bribe to win votes — a sop to soothe unrest. Social makeshifts of that kind are actually offered to-day as political substitutes for sound, economic planning for the post-war reconstruction of Canada.

To the State Socialist, on the other hand, Social Security is a bookish theory seeking to prove that poverty would be much more enduring if only it were much more general.

And now, listen for a moment to John Bracken, the forthright leader of the Progressive Conservative Party—"The State here in Canada, unlike in Germany, is the servant of the people, not its master. Finance, and economic mechanisms associated with it, must likewise be regarded as the servants, not the masters, of our economy. The underwriting of prosperity AND social security is a proper function of the State."

Notice how closely prosperity and social security are linked together.

We are determined that Social Security shall no longer be regarded as a charity but as what it is—a social obligation and national responsibility of the very first magnitude and importance. Social Security must grow with prosperity—because the degree to which social services may be provided is determined by the size of the national income. We are pledged to maintain that income at a high prosperous level. It is against this background of plenty for all, that the Progressive Conservatives see Social Security.

Where any of these social services are administered provincially, we shall provide grants large enough to ensure adequate standards of social security for all Canadians.

Compare this positive and complete programme with the make-shift expedients of other parties. No other party can equal or even approach John Bracken's guarantee of security for all Canadians.

It's rational security—NOT rationed scarcity.

Re Accounts To Standard

With a view to clearing up accounts, including a number which are outstanding The Standard has lately sent out bills. With postage for bill-letters costly and our office staff at a minimum, this is always an extra expense. It will greatly help in winding up this estate, if you will come in directly and pay up, which will mean we can start our dealings off with a clean sheet.

We make this appeal to all who are in our debt, and this settlement is urged at once in order that the business may be re-adjusted and in good standing.

Rural Scene AFTER THE WAR!

We're waiting for the green light. When telephone men and materials are back again, we'll resume our rural expansion program where we left off. First job of all will be to supply service to families on our waiting list. Then will come such major projects as extending facilities into new areas; replacing "veteran" equipment; raising standards of service. Simply to relieve present crowding on rural lines will mean running extensions to the pole lines themselves—some 2,500 miles of them—to reach additional communities. Wherever we find one family per half mile of main road wanting telephones, we plan to construct pole lines to serve them.

It all means PEOPLE AT WORK... work which must be done, if telephone service is to keep pace with rural needs. It is work which calls for the efforts of linemen, service men, operators, office workers. To get it done, we'll need not only every present Bell employee, plus all those now away on military service, but many more workers besides.

"small business" ISN'T SO SMALL!

Ordinarily one Canadian in every six gainfully employed, earns his livelihood in a "small business." It may be a farm, a store or a lumber-yard; an architect's office or a service station. Taken together, these individual enterprises provide a very substantial part of Canada's total jobs—must continue to do so after the war.

During the years ahead many people who dropped small business for war reasons will want to return to their accustomed or new ways of making a living. Thus old businesses will be revived. Many new ones will be started by returned men and people now in war industries. The commercial banks will do their part to afford assurance that no sound credit requirement need be left unserved in the field of small business:

As such businesses grow, they create additional job openings; that has been the pattern of Canadian enterprises. Most large companies began in a small way. And practically all could name some bank which played a part in their growth by providing the loans they needed to finance their day-to-day operations.

Your bank stands ready to serve businesses, small or large, well established or just starting out. Banks do not initiate such businesses—but they do furnish necessary working capital and many other forms of banking service.

No fewer than 94 out of every hundred establishments in the manufacturing, wholesale, retail and services fields are small, employing less than 15 people. Together they employ 37% of all the workers engaged in these classes of business. (From 1941 census)
