Hello, Homemakers! Once again it is time to replace screens and awnings with storm windows and to clean and arrange our homes for winter living.
Housecleaning may cause a burst of energy on the part of the homemaker, but it will be greeted with wrath by other members of the family if everything is turned inside out at once.

It is time to clean only one room at a time. Begin with the walls then do the floor and windows, and finally the furnishings. To remove wax from polished floors use vinegar in warm water or a standard cleaning fluid. To clean rugs and upholstery use a vacuum cleaner and suitable attachments.

When cleaning bookcases and magazine racks do not forget to sort out the more recent contents for the Navy League. Do not overlook the pictures, lighting fixtures and knick-knacks.
Now you are ready to rearrange the furniture and hang fresh curtains.

Suet Pudding
1 cup suet (chopped fine), 1 cup molasses, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1/2 cup sour milk, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 tsp. cinnamon, 1/2 tsp. allspice, 1/2 tsp. cloves, 1 tsp. salt, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup prunes or stewed fruit, grated rind 1/2 lemon.

Mix and sift dry ingredients and combine with other ingredients. Turn into well-greased pudding dish, having the dish no more than 3/4 full. Cover closely with greased paper. Place in steamer and steam 3 hours. Serve with lemon or any pudding sauce, using corn syrup instead of sugar.

Old-Time Apple Pudding Pare four large, sour apples, core and chop fine with chopping knife in chopping bowl. Mix 4 ounces (about a cup) of stale bread crumbs with 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon and a half of one grated nutmeg, and mix with the apples. Beat the yolks of 4 eggs and add to the mixture. Stir in the whites carefully, until the whole is moist enough to hold together, then steam for 2 hrs. in a well-greased mould. Serve hot with a foamy sauce, which should supply enough sweetening unless the apples are excessively sour.

spunk about him who will procure away from home what he can get in his own town or village at the same rates."

Ration News

The feminine half of the world may now indulge their fancies for long dresses, if they wish, because the Wartime prices and Trade Board have lifted restrictions on the manufacture of wedding gowns, dinner and evening dresses, and evening skirts, according to W. Harold McPhillips, prices and supply representative for Western Ontario.

In 1942 the Board prohibited the manufacture of any long dresses. Now the cancellation of these regulations brings the Canadian regulations in line with the United States.

Mr. McPhillips warned, however, that the lifting of the restrictions did not mean that long dresses would be immediately available. This will depend on the amount of materials available for this purpose.

Army Trucks For Local Farmers

Mr. Wesley Magwood, secretary of Grey County Federation of Agriculture, has received the following information from the Ontario Federation of Agriculture:

"The Ontario Federation of Agriculture, co-operating with the War Assets Corporation, are attempting to distribute used military trucks direct to bona fide farmers. We are arranging sales at convenient places, and it has been suggested that Hanover would be a convenient place to service the counties of Grey, Bruce and Dufferin." "When the trucks are available and the material ready, notices will be sent to all boxholders in your county indicating the type of trucks available. The time of the sale will be advertised and you will then have an opportunity of securing a truck. The trucks which are available at the moment are 15-cwt.
and tractor trailers."
