

Time Is Nothing
We're inclined to accept as gospel anything that those Prussian grenadiers who serve as doormen at the big movie houses choose to yell down our throats, but we were somewhat flustered the other night when we heard the one outside the Astor Theater announce clearly, "There will be immediate seating in half an hour."

Peace Spectacle
To the children of bomb-scarred England peace has brought many wonderful things, things never known before to the small fry whose memories are too short to recall the days before the war. A little girl in London, returning home on a bus, looked hard at the young man collecting the fares, and exclaimed excitedly, "Oh, look, Grandpa! It's a man conductress."—Wall Street Journal.

A Drawback
"My poor fellow," said the old lady, "here is a shilling for you. Goodness, gracious, it must be dreadful to be lame, but just think how much worse it would be if you were blind."
"Yer right, lady," agreed the beggar. "When I was blind I was always getting counterfeit money."

Too Late
After leaving his church the minister stopped to shake hands with a young woman who was a new member of his congregation. In the course of conversation the minister remarked how pleased he always was to welcome new members to the church.
The young woman blushed prettily.
"It's very kind of you to say so." "Not at all," replied the minister. "Just let me have your name and address, and I will be able to call and see you."
"Oh!" stammered the girl. "I—I'm afraid you're too late. I've got a boy friend already."

Cheap
A doctor was knocked up in a small village about 3 a.m. by a man who asked him to come out immediately to a place ten miles away. The doctor dressed quickly and got out his car, and they drove furiously to their destination.
Upon arrival the man asked: "What is your fee, doctor?"
"Half a guinea," he replied in some surprise.
"Here it is, then," said the man handing over the money. "and cheap, too. The garage man wanted thirty bob to drive me over."

Lower Education
An elderly acquaintance, of philosophical tendencies, in discussing the current wave of juvenile and adolescent delinquency says "A pat on the back is a good thing, providing it is applied early enough in life, often enough, and low enough."
—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Hal Ha!
A psychologist says that in 100 years people will have nothing to laugh at. We don't get it. There will be old albums, with pictures of the ladies' hats of 1946.
—Ottawa Citizen.

The Weaker (?) Sex
Woman may be physically weaker than man, but she can put a cap on a fruit par so tight he can't take it off!
—Wall Street Journal.

Smart Fellow
As the old fellow suffering from lumbago said, when he struggled out of the chair: "It's the getting up that gets me down."
—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

Relative Values
A cheque on your overdraft at the bank is valueless. But a check on your living expenses is as good as cash.

Fiery, Itching Skin Gets Quick Relief
Here is a clean stainless penetrating antiseptic oil that will bring you speedy relief from the itching and distress of Eczema, Itching Toes and Feet, Rashes and skin troubles.
Not only does this healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds, but boils and simple ulcers are also quickly relieved. In skin affections — the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped; the eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum and other skin eruptions.
You can obtain Moore's Emerald Oil at any modern drug store.

Only His Watch
A well-to-do Negro had been ill for some time and showed no signs of improvement under treatment by a doctor of his own race. So presently he dismissed him and summoned a white man. The new doctor examined the patient, and then asked: "Did the other doctor take your temperature?"
The sick man shook his head doubtfully.
"I dunno, sub," he declared, "I sartny dunno. All I've missed so far is my watch."

Experience Necessary
"Madam," said the new caretaker to the lady who had just employed him, "I want to thank you for giving me the job, and ask you one question. I notice that you advertised for a married man. Does that mean that you will have some work in your home for my wife?"
"Oh, no," replied the woman. "I wanted a married man so as to be sure I'd get someone used to taking orders from a woman."—Wall Street Journal.

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"Mom, I invited Dorothy over for dinner—she doesn't eat much and she's a whiz on fractions!"

Well Suited
Having chosen the cloth for a new suit and had his measurements duly taken, the young man said apologetically to the tailor: "I'm afraid I shan't be able to pay you for three months."
"That's quite all right," said the tailor amiably.
"Oh, jolly decent of you!" said the young man. "When will the suit be ready?"
"In three months, sir," was the polite answer.

A Full Plate
"Now, Tommy," said the teacher, "let me see how much you remember of my lesson on whale fishing. Can we eat the flesh of the whale?"
"Yes," answered Tommy.
"Good boy," said the teacher "and what do we do with the bones?"
There was a moment's pause, and then Tommy said with determination: "We leave them on the side of our plate, miss."

HOLD EVERYTHING

"Ooh—honorable commander must have lost face!"

Selling Tip
When Thomas Lipton was a youngster he spent much time in his father's grocery store and witnessed, with unmistakable disapproval, the elder Lipton's lack of showmanship. One day he watched unhappily as his father attempted to sell a customer a half dozen eggs. After the customer had gone he said:
"Father, you should let Mother sell the eggs."
"Why?" asked the father in surprise.
"Well," replied the future millionaire, "Mother's hands are a lot smaller than yours, and the eggs would look bigger."
