But the Ploughshare was your Eword of Battle...

No one worked with stouter heart o stronger arm than the Canadian farmer to win World War II.

Through six long years of war, while half a million farmers left their ploughs to take up arms in combat or make them on the home front, men and women on the farm laboured from dawn till dusk - and after to supply food for war . . . in millions of tons.

The ploughshare was the sword of

And now, with peace so dearly won, the farm people of Canada are turning their energies to lighten the suffering of war-torn and famine-stricken lands - toiling to hold and even raise production - still fighting to build a better world for all men.

Proudly, the Bank of Montreal salutes these men, women and children of Canada's army of agriculturalists, who now turn their sword of battle to the tasks of peace.

The funeral services were conducted the Monday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Lee of the United Church and the burial took place in the family plot in Markdale Cemetery. The pail-bearers were his six sons, Stewart, of St. Thomás, Ross of Dearborn, Mich., Harold, Frank, Louis, and Dr. Starley Thibaudeau of Markdale. The flower-bearers were his nephews and neighbors—Snowden McLeod, Wallace Wilson, Howard Wilson, John Nichol, William Kinney, Art Norris, Bert Hamilton, Bruce Stewart, Ken Stewart and Howard York. The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends. Among those from a disance were: Mrs. Peter Thibaudeau, Miss Edna Thibaudeau, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thibaudeau, Mr. william Stewart, Mrs. John Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dundas, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nixon, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nixon and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nixon, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nixon and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nixon, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nixon and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thibaudeau are his widow, and six sons and fourteen grandchildren; a brother, Richard, of Fort William; and three sisters, Mary Ann (Mrs. E. S. Rutledge) of Port William, and Margery (Mrs. R. W. Wilson) of Markdale.

Wilson) of Markdale.

On Tuesday, May 21, while splitting wood in his yard, Mr. Thibaudeau suffered a heart attack, but raffled for a few days. However he was obliged to take to his bed and gradually lost strength. Fortunately he was spared a long period of suffering and retained his faculties up to the end.

John B. Thibaudeau was the second son of John B. and Jane Venning Thibaudeau and was born on July 25, 1864, on the farm in Glenels now owned by his son, Louis. On December 24, 1895, he was married to Miss Frances Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stewart, of Flesherton. The celebration of the occasion of the golden wedding was a happy family re-union of last Christmas season, when all six sons were present. Wilson) of Markdale.

weeding was a happy talmy weeding was a happy talmy of last Christmas season, when all six sons were present.

Mr. Thibaudeau's career as a stockman may be said to have begun when, at the age of five, he was given charge of a flock of sheep on his father's farm. When he was nine he had become so efficient in the handling of oxen that he was entrusted with a load of furniture that was being transported through the bush road from the farm to the village. At eighteen after some experience in association with his tather he launched himself into the business of his choice, that of drover. From that day on, for nearly sixty years up to his retirement, his was a familiar figure along the concessions of the Townships adjacent to Markdale, and at the local stock yards and the Union Stock Yards at Toronto. Only a few years ago he was still active enough to buy several carloads of cattle in Saskatchewan and ship them to his farm. Soon after his imarriage the in Saskatchewan and ship them to his farm. Soon after his marriage he moved to the farm now owned by his son, Harold, where he had erected the fine brick house that was to be the family home for thirty years. The latter part of his active life was spent on the farm south of the village where he carried on a dairy business. He

Mr. Thibatheau's interests were in the improvement of the community. He helped to organize and became chairman of the board of trustees of Barhead School and later of Markdale High School. He took a keen interest in the Agricultural Society and was at one time president of the society. His work for the local fair culminated in the public address which he gave only last fall and which was recorded for broadcasting. He was fond of recreation of the active sort and enjoyed the rivalry of all kinds of games. His greatest pleasure was daucing. He required only a little urging to demonstrate his mastery of this art even in very recent years. During a winter spent at Fort William nearly sixty years ago his ability at calling-off was such that he became floor manager of the social club there. He enjoyed a game of euchre and often played on return trips from the city, or in the ered by sympathetic understanding, Mr. Thibaudeau's advice was constantly sought, not only by relatives but by friends and acquaintances. His long and intimate experience of the life about him provided an education which he extended, when he could find time, by reading. Born only a few years after the first settlements in a pioneer community he was accustomed to remark that he had seen the panorama of the world's progress unfolded before him, from the ox-cart to the aeroplane. His uncompromising honesty, his candidness of opinion, his steadiness of purpose, and his friendliness of approach assured his success in his work and won him the esteem of the community. His devotion to the family and his loving care of his wife, especially during their last years together were outstanding. It might truly be said of him as Shakespeare said of a great Roman that the elements were

"So mix'd in him, that Nature "So mix'd in him, that Nature might stand up.

And say to all the world, "This was

Helping the Dairy Farmer

Good management, which means so much to the dairy farmer, is bound to include advance in breeding, improved disease prevention among herds and more

How to make the best use of these advantages is the dairy farmer's real problem—a problem which your agricultural college or experimental station can help you solve. This valuable service, often the difference between profit and loss, is available ... for the asking. This Bank also offers an important service money. Substantial Farm Improvement Loans, repayable over an extended period, may be had by responsible farmers.

We invite you to obtain complete details from our friendly branch manager in your district.

The farmer doesn't have to wait for his money until his grain reaches the consumer...this is important to you, no matter where you live or what your work.

Furmer Neilson, and thousands' like him, spend money for household and farm equipment, food, clothes, radios, paint and a hundred other things. This helps keep people busy all over the Dominion.

Your bank advances credit also to help farmers plant, cultivate and harvest crops of all kinds, to buy and raise live-stock. Banking service is something like the good oil in fine machinery, you never notice it. But it is a prime factor in your prosperity...in the Canadian way of life.
